This is an account of those Descendants of ROBERT MCKAY of Virginia who came to Jefferson and Switzerland Counties, Indiana about 1810.

The Virginia Wills and deeds which prove the descent were furnished by Mr. E.R.McKay of Massachusetts, who has worked out this line much more completely than has been done here. This pamphlet is simply designed to help the descendants connect their line with the Virginia ancestors.

Another family of McKays, descendants of Alexander and Thomas McKay, came to Lancaster and Smyrna townships in Jefferson County, from North Carolina--the 1850 census helps to separate the two families. The Virginia McKays lived in Milton township in Jefferson County, and in Switzerland County, close to the Ohio River.

WILL OF ROBERT MCKAY.

"IN THE NAME OF GOD AMEN, I, Robert McKay, Senior, of the Parish of Augusta, in the County of Augusta in the Colony of Virginia, being in perfect health and of sound memory, calling to mind the uncertainty of life and that it is appointed for all men to die, do make and ordain this and no other, my last will and testament in manner and form following, viz;

First and principally I give and recommend my soul unto God that gave it and as to my body I desire it may be buried in a decent manner at the discretion of my executors; and as touching such worldly estate wherewith it hath pleased God to bless me with, I dispose thereof in manner following; I desire that all my debts and funeral charges be first paid and satisfied.

Item. I give and devise unto my daughter, Margaret, wife of Joshua Job, and to the heirs of her body, and in case she dies without heirs or such heirs die without issue, then to my sons Robert, James, Zachary & Moses equally, and their heirs, one part or half the land her husband lives on in Augusta County commonly known by the name of Joshua's Bottom, being a grant or order of Council for 100,000 acres granted to me and Jost Hite first and afterwards renewed by me, Jost Hite, Robert Green and William Duff.

Item. I give and devise unto my daughter Hannah, wife of George Hollinsworth, the other part or half of the said land where Joshua Job now lives and to the heirs of her body, and in case she dies without heirs or such heirs die without issue, then I give the same to my sons equally and their heirs.

Item. I give and devise to my daughter, Leah, wife of William Taylor, the land her husband lives upon known by his name and part of the above mentioned grant as aforesaid, and to the heirs of her body, and if she dies without heirs or such heirs die without issue, then I give the same to my sons equally and their heirs.

Item. I give and devise to my daughter, Mary, wife of George Robinson, of the Province of Pennsylvania, the land I formerly allotted for and gave her by word of mouth commonly known by the name of George's Bottom, in whose possession the said land has for some time past been, and part of the aforesaid grant of 100,000 acres granted as before mentioned, and to the heirs of her body, and in case she dies without heirs, or such heirs die without issue, then I give and bequeath the same to all my sons equally and their heirs.

Item. I give and bequeath to my daughter Elizabeth, one part or half of all the moveables or personal estate that I shall be possessed of at the time of my decease.

Item. I give and ~~bequeath~~ devise to my son Robert, his place or plantation commonly known by the name of his Bottom, and in whose possession it has been for some time, being part of the aforesaid grant, but in case he dies without heirs or such heirs die without issue, then I give the same to my three sons, James, Zachary and Moses, equally and their heirs.

Item. I give to my son James his place or plantation, part of the aforesaid grant, being a survey of 110 acres or thereabouts, called the old place, and to the heirs of his body, but in case he dies without heirs or such heirs die without issue, then I give the same to my sons equally and their heirs.

Item. I give to my son Zachary, his place or plantation, part of the aforesaid grant, and within the survey of 7,000 acres, known by the name of Nathaniel Calbreath's Bottom, and to the heirs of his body, but in case he dies without heirs, or such heirs die without issue, then I give the same to my sons equally and their heirs.

Item. I give and devise to my son Moses, his place or plantation, within the aforesaid survey of 7,000 acres, and part of the aforesaid grant, known by the name of the Hay Bottom, and to the heirs of his body, but in case he dies without heirs, or such heirs die without issue, then I give the same to my sons equally and their heirs.

Item. All the rest of my real estate, whether the same be by patent or grant, I give and devise equally between my four sons and their heirs.

Item. I give and bequeath unto all my children, equally, to be divided, one part or half of my personal estate, being the remainder undisposed of.

And lastly, I do nominate and appoint my said sons, Robert, Zachary, James and Moses, Executors of this my will, hereby annulling and making void all former and other wills by me heretofore made.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my seal this seventh day of October One Thousand Seven Hundred and Forty Six.

Be it known unto all men by these presents that whereas I, Robert McKay, of Augusta County, have made and declared my last will and testament in writing bearing date the seventh day of October 1746 I the said Robert McKay do by these present codicil confirm and ratify my said last will and testament, and where I have given to my son Moses my plantation I live on commonly called the Hay Bottom, and made no provision for my wife, my will and desire is that my wife live on that plantation during her natural life and that each of my said four sons pay unto my said wife three pounds currency apiece for and toward the keeping and maintenance of her, and that my son Moses find and provide for firewood for her during her life, and if she refuses the same to pay unto her or her

WILL OF JAMES MCKAY, Sr.

"I, James McKay of the Parish of Beckfort and County of Shenandoah, give and bequeath to my beloved wife, Mary, that part of my plantation known whereon now I live, beginning at the lower ford and including the lower field and also the pasture adjoining along the hillside and timber for the saport of same, and that part of my dwelling house called my room and also the lower ben#, and likewise two heads two cows and calves two yearling heffers all which shall be of her own choosing and likewise the Darbey mare which after her decease shall fall to Susannah Coile, the wife of John Coile, and also what pewter teapots or other vessels she may think she stands in kneed of with as much poark and grain as shall be necessary for her support, and also six sheep and one breeding sow and six others all of her own choosing, all the above moveables to be disposed of at her death as she shall think proper, and the land to fall to my son Robert who is to find her a full supply of firewood during her life.

Item; I give to my elder son James deceased his children that part of my plantation whereon his widow now lives, 400 acres on the road that leads to Weaver's Mill to be equally divided among them, which land I give and bequeath unto them and their heirs and assigns forever, reserving to my daughter-in-law, wife of my son James deceased one half of the land for her saport during her widowhood.

Item; I give and bequeath to my son Robert that part of my plantation where I now live beginning at the line bequeathed to my son James his children thence down the bottom including the whole of the same, my wife's part only excepted, to the lower ford together with a survey of 127 acres adjoining Thomas Buck's and Isaac Hite's lines including the same whereon he now lives, beginning at the Run where my son Robert now lives to a new cross fence near the line of my son James' children's land.

Item; My further will and desire is that after my decease there should fall to my share any more land than what is here bequeathed, that the same be equally divided between my daughters viz; Nancy, Susannah & Lidia until they shall have as much land in proportion, returning what they have, as I have given my sons Robert, and if any overplus, to be equally divided among my children.

Item; My further will is that the remainder of my moveable estate be sold by my executors that is not bequeathed and used to pay my debts and for the support of the grant sute. My further will--whereas I have a tract of land lying up Mathews Creek and Andrew McKay the other half, is provided be paid all expenses of land in procuring a deed in my name for the same which half of mine I desire may be sold and the money to be put to the same use as that of my moveable estate.

Item; I give and bequeath to my milator man Sam his freedom.

Item; I give and bequeath to Sarah Harell 3 acres of land at the lower end of the lower field.

Lastly, I do appoint my son Robert and my son-in-law, John Coile to be my sole Executors of this my last will and testament.

Milator man probably means "mulatto."

WILL OF THOMAS CHESTER.

In the Name of God, Amen. I, THOMAS CHESTER, being sick and weak of body but of sound perfect memory....calling to mind that it is appointed for all men once to dye, do make this my last will and testament revoking all others by me formerly made.

First, I give my soul unto the hands of God that gave it and my body to the earth to be decently buried at the discretion of my executors hereafter named, and as for the things of this world which it hath pleased God to bestow on me, I give and bequeath them as follows;

Item; I give and bequeath unto my sonsTHOMAS CHESTER and DAVID CHESTER all that tract or parcel of land called the Tocks beginning at Cabbin Run thence down the river to the Point, thence up the North River to the winter Ford, and that it be divided at the discretion of Charles Buck and James McKay, having a more particular regard to the equality in the goodness than the equality of quantity, and that the upper ordhard be laid off to the upper part and the lower orchard to the lower part and that they go half shares at both.

Item; That the one hundred acres below the North River whereon Robert Halfpenny and Richard Foley now dwell shall be and belong to the Lowest part of the Forke but the profits arising therefrom shall be and belong to my wife during her natural life.

Item; I will and ordain that neither of my sons sell his share of the said land but to each other, and if one of them dye without heirs then it shall fall to the other and his heirs if any such he hath, and for want of such heirs it shall go to the male heir of my daughter MARY MCKAY, and if she hath no such heirs then it shall go to themale heirs of ELIZABETH SMITH, and if she have no such heirs then to themale heirs of my duaghter, SUSANNA HARRALD.

I also will and appoint that all my lands notherein mentioned may be sold to pay my just debts and legacies by my executors and lastly I will and appoint my trusty and worthy friends JAMES MCKAY and CHARLES BUCK, executors of this my last will and testament, trusting they will see it performed.

WILL OF JOHN MCGANNON.

" I, JOHN MCGANNON of Culpeper County, being weak in body but sound in mind and disposing judgment, do make my last will and testament in form and manner following, viz:

First, I give to my beloved wife in lieu of her dower all that tract of land whereon I now live with all my stock and furniture, except one horse the only one I now have, for and during the term of her natural life or widowhood.

Second, I give to my daughter Alse Cogwell the horse above excepted with my saddle and bridle to her and her heirs, but as the said horse by a contract which I have made with Henry Holdaway is to be continued on the plantation till a crop can be made, my desire is that (my) daughter shall not take him unto her possession till the first day of November next.

THIRD, My desire is that my executors hereafter named shall, after collecting the debts due me and paying my just debts, equally divide the surplus between my wife and my three children Jane Barnes, Alse Cogwell and Derby McGannon.

Fourth, my desire is that immediately after my decease or marriage of my wife that my executors shall sell the tract of land whereon I now live by publick sale, convey it to the purchaser and equally divide the money arizing therefrom between my three children as above named.

FIFTH, I constitute and ordain Lewis Conner and Zephaniah Turner executors of this my last will and testament, revoking all otherwills by me heretofore made, ratifying and confirming this my last will and testament, in witness whereof I have set my hand and seal this twenty sixth day of December one thousand eight hundred and two."

Recorded Jan. 7, 1811 Shenandoah Deeds S-65.

In the Superior Court of Chancery holden at Staunton; To the Hon. John Brown Esq. Judge of the Chancery Court for the Staunton District hereby complaining show unto your honor your orators ANDREW MCKAY, son of ROBERT MCKAY Junr., who was son of ROBERT MCKAY Senr., JEREMIAH MCKAY son of MOSES MCKAY who was also a son of the said ROBERT MCKAY Senr. and ROBERT MCKAY son of JAMES MCKAY another of the sons of the said ROBERT MCKAY Senr., and WILLIAM TYLER alias TAYLOR son of WILLIAM TAYLOR & LEAH one of the daughters of ROBERT MCKAY Senr. the common ancestor & grandfather of your orators, about the year one thousand seven hundred & thirty one together with a certain Joist Hite obtained from the Governor & Council of the then Colony of Virginia an order of Council authorizing your orator's said grandfather & the said Joist Hite to take up one hundred thousand acres of land on the west side of the mountains then & now understood to be what is called the Blue Ridge of Mountains, upon condition of settling one hundred families thereupon within a limited time. And your Orators further show that your Orator's said grandfather, as they are informed & believe, became interested as a partner with the said Hite in certain other Orders of Council, but as the subject matter of the case now to be presented to you however arises out of the first mentioned Order of Council, your Orators will at this time forbear to say anything further respecting the other Orders of Council.

And your Orators further show that in pursuance of the said Order of Council for 100,000 acres, various surveys were made in that part of the State of Virginia on the West side of the Blue Ridge of Mountains which was then called Orange County, but is now known by the counties of Berkeley, Jefferson, Frederick & Shenandoah and that among those surveys there was one which was called the South River tract containing as it was then believed between 7000 acres & situated in the last mentioned County, and another of 310 acres which appears to have been surveyed for your Orators8 said Grandfather & in his name.

And your Orators further show that they have been informed & believe that the said ROBERT MCKAY Senr. & the said Joist Hite found it necessary to take in William Duff & Robert Green as partners with them in the 100,000 acre grant & that the said four partners were also under the necessity, in order to induce settlers to go & live upon the said land thus surveyed, far removed from civilized society, the comforts & many of the necessities of life, & exposed to the tomahawk & scalping knife of the Indian Savage, to assign to them certain portions of said land as a compensation for the acquisition of 1000 acres to the said Company for each settlement & for the security which these settlements might afford to such as the said partners would make for themselves respectively. And your Orators further show that they have been informed & believe that such were the difficulties, dangers & inconveniences attending the settlement of the said Lands in that part of Virginia at that early period that the said partners with all their exertions & altho they were indulged by the Governor & Council with an extension of the term first agreed on for the settlement of the 100,000 acres, could not procure more than fifty four settlers of which your Orators are credibly informed that their respective fathers were, that is to say, ROBERT MCKAY Junr., JAMES MCKAY and MOSES MCKAY.

And your Orators further show that they have been informed & believe that about the year 1736 the late Thomas Lord Fairfax, the Propritor of the Northern Neck of Virginia arrived in this country, & when the said partners had progressed with their settlements to the extent which hath been stated above, the said Lord Fairfax entered CAVEATS against the issuing of any patents in consequence of the said Orders of Council until a contest as to the boundaries of the Northern Neck which then subsisted betweenthe said Propritor & the Crown should be determined--& that the contest having been compromised in consideration of the said Propritor's establishing all the grants made under the Crown, another contest arose between the partners & the said Lord Fairfax & his grantees upon the refusal of said Fairfax to perform his said engagements, which commenced in the year 1749-50 & was ended since the Revolution, for a particular history of which controversy with the said Lord Fairfax your Orators beg leave to refer your Honor to a printed brief of the record before the Court of Appeals of this State, & also to a printed copy of the decree of the High Court of Chancery made on the 8th of May 1786 in pursuance of a decretal order of the said Court of Appeals made on the 6th of the said month & year, which printed copies are hereto annexed & which your Orators pray may be taken as part of this their bill of complaint.

And your Orators further show that after the said partners had entitled themselves to 54,000 acres out of their 100, 600 acre grant by the settlement of fifty four families thereon, they founf it advisable from interested motives no doubt to sell considerable quantities of the said land not comprised within the possessions of the said settlers &, as your Orators have been informed & believe, did authorize & empower the said MCKAY Senr., & the said Hite to sell the said land at the price of three pounds per hundred acres. And your Orator ANDREW MCKAY expressly charges that he remembers well to have seen printed copies of their advertisements both in English & in Dutch by which they offered the said lands for sale at that price. And your Orators verily believe that many tracts of the Company's lands were sold accordingly at that price as well by the said Hite as by the said MCKAY Senr.--that many of the contracts for the said sales were verbal as well as written & that in many cases where there was some written evidence of such contracts, such evidence hath either been lost, destroyed or obliterated by time. And your Orators while they are upon this part of the subject will further state that from the best information which they have obtained, many more sales & contracts for the sale of those lands were made by the said Hite than by the said MCKAY Senr. And for further proof of this they beg leave to refer to the report of Thomas Marshall & others contained in the brief of the said record referred to.

And your Orators further beg leave to represent to your honor that altho by the decree of 1786 before referred to, the said Company of whom your Orators' Grandfather ROBERT MCKAY was one & their vendees & representatives recovered from the said Lord Fairfax & his Grantees the lands comprised in the 27 surveys therein mentioned, the representatives of the said Joist Hite have set up a separate claim to 21 of those surveys comprising about .....acres of land from which your Orators & the other representatives of the said ROBERT MCKAY the Elder have been totally excluded, & leaving only about 1...acres as that which the representatives of the said Joist Hite alledge were the lands rightfully belonging to the representatives of the said Company & their Vendees, which will appear more at large on a reference to the papers in a suit now depending in the honorable court, wherein the representatives of the other three original partners are complainants against the representatives of the said Joist Hite as defendants.

And your Orators further shew that their respective fathers, that is to say ROBERT MCKAY JUNR., the father of your Orator ANDREW MCKAY, & MOSES MCKAY, the father of your Orator JEREMIAH MCKAY, & JAMES MCKAY the father of your Orator ROBERT MCKAY, & WILLIAM TAYLOR & LEAH his wife the father & mother of your Orator WILLIAM TYLER alias TAYLOR, had as your Orators believe an equitable & separate interest in their several settlements derived from the said Company, three of which were situated in the survey denominated the South River Tract, being parts thereof to wit: About ....acres were settled & held by the said ROBERT MCKAY JUNR. & called his Bottom: and ....acres settled & held by the said MOSES & called the Ray Bottom; & ....acres settled & held by the said WILLIAM TAYLOR & called his place; & the survey of 310 acres adjoining the last mentioned was settled & held by the said JAMES MCKAY & called the Old Place, all which settlements your Orators have been informed & believe were made by their respective fathers previous to the year 1736. But if your Orators are called upon to furnish evidence to establish the existence of the equitable & separate interest in their respective father's ...possessions & settlements above described, they will refer those who may make a demand of such evidence to the tradition which has been handed down through all the families of the original partners.

Secondly, to the uninterupted occupancy & enjoyment of those several possessions by their respective fathers from the year 1736 during the whole of their lives since that time to their decease & subsequent to their decease by your orators as their respective representatives. Thirdly, to the papers filed in the suit before referred to the HITES, MCKAYS & others against FAIRFAX & others. Fourthly, to the will of their Grandfather ROBERT MCKAY SENR. one of the original partners which recognizes the fact now contended for admitting the pre-existence of a right or title in each of your Orators respective fathers in their respective fathers in their respective settlements or possessions above mentioned, which will appear by a reference to a copy of the said will which is hereto annexed & which your Orators pray may be taken as part of this their bill, and Fifthly, to the time when & the circumstances under which those respective settlements were made. The consideration paid by the original settlers of which number your Orators' respective fathers were as hath been before stated, for the small portions of land held by them, was the danger, expense & trouble of exploring, settling & cultivating a desert, the increasing thereby the amount of the Company's claim under their Order of Council for the 100,000 acres, the increasing also the value thereby of the residue of the lands claimed by the said Company & affording a security against the French & Indians--these were considerations which at that time were thought to be of the greatest importance, & as a proof that they were the full price of land, the first two grantees to wit, JOIST HITE & ROBERT MCKAY let in WILLIAM DUFF & ROBERT GREAN to a share of the purchase without any consideration to themselves & nothing short of a preference in the choice of lands could have been a sufficient compensation to them.

It is true that in process of time & after the original settlements which formed the ratio of the Company's claim had been made, many persons did intrude and settle within the limits of the Company's surveys, but those cases are obviously distinguished from the cases of the original settlers because with respect to later settlers the danger had in a great measure ceased by a considerable influx of population into all the circumjacent country, & because too an increase in the number of settlers upon the Company's land did not as in the case of the original (partners) produce an extension of the Company's interest or claim.

If however, all these considerations should fail of satisfying the minds of the defendants as to the existence of an equitable & separate interest in your Orators' respective fathers in their respective settlements & possessions above described, your Orators hope that while the idea that your Orators' pespective fathers had trespassed upon the lands in which their father had an interest would be discarded as too improbable under all the circumstances of this case to be admitted, that they may adduce the will of their said Grandfather to evince the fact was otherwise & to satisfy your Honor that the said Grandfather in his said will which is dated as far back as 1746 & who probably intended thereby to give a confirmation to their respective claims (if a confirmation was necessary) hath clearly & unequivocally admitted the previous existence of their claim, by describing each of those settlements in the several specific devises to your Orators' respective fathers, as his own place.

But if the validity of the said will for the purpose of giving a confirmation to the said claims should be questioned, and if it should be demanded why your Orators do not produce conveyances from the original grantees to their respective fathers for their respective settlements, the answer is, without relying on the simplicity of names in the earlier period of the said settlement, and the loose manner of transacting their business, which may be discovered by reviewing the report of Thomas Marshall & others before referred to, & also the uncertainty whether the Company would ever obtain the legal title seeing that they had to contend against the power, influence & wealth of Lord Fairfax, that the said Company never had the capacity to make conveyances of those lands until subsequent to the decree of 1786, the legal title having been previous to the year 1745 either in the Crown or Lord Fairfax, & after the termination of the controversy between Lord Fairfax & the Crown in that year, in himself or his representatives until the said decree of 1786 by which the Company & their representatives established their claim to the legal title in said Lands belonging to the Company, which was then & not before then decreed to be conveyed to them, as the said decree of May 1786 will more fully evince.

And your Orators further shew unto your Honor that if their equitable claim to the separate interest of their respective fathers in &, to the lands comprised in their several settlements should not have been sufficiently manifested by all that has been said, your Orators would then rely upon the .... & contend accordingly that they are not chargeable respectively for those lands beyond the rate of three pounds per hundred acres & interest, that being the price for which the original partners disposed of their lands after the period of 1736, upon the faith of which many persons have settled & been quieted in their possession by the Court of Appeals, upon the condition of paying to the Representatives of the said Company three pounds per hundred acres & interest from the date of their settlement as your Orators have been informed & led to believe. And without descending to a detailed enumeration of the cases of this description, your Orators will refer your Honor to the case of Barnaby Aigen who founded his right upon a verbal promise of one of the partners for the land claimed by the said Aigen, in consideration of services rendered by said Aigen to the said partner as his servant, in which case the Court decreed that the representatives of the said Aigen should be quieted in their possession upon paying the three pounds per hundred acres with interest as your Orators believe they can prove.

And your Orators further shew that they are also among the representatives of their respective fathers; who were among the sons & devisees of ROBERT MCKAY SENR., one of the original partners, & as such have an interest in the tenancy-in-common of the Company's property distinct from their claims to a separate interest in the respective settlements of their respective fathers, as they have been above set forth; & as a distinct view of the two fold relation in which they stand, first, as claiming under those who claimed as individuals from the Company, & secondly, as claiming under the Company itself, will be very important to your Orators in the decision to be made upon their pretensions, your Orators hope that this distinct view will be preserved by your Honor.

And your Orators further show that the decree before referred to besides establishing the claims of the Company & those who claim from & under them in & to the lands comprised within the said twenty seven surveys, did also subject the estate of Lord Fairfax in the hands of his executors to the profits of the lands recovered from the first day of January 1749/50 after making thereout a reasonable allowance for lasting improvements, composition money & quit rents, & that their claim for profits was afterwards, to wit, in the year 1789 adjusted by a compromise made by the representatives of the Company & the executors of Lord Fairfax by which it was agreed on the part of the Company to release their claim to profits provided the said executors would pay to them, the representatives of the said Company, the sum of seven thousand pounds which was paid accordingly with the assent of the representatives of the Company tb ISAAC HITE now deceased, one of the sons & representatives of JOIST HITE & one of the most active & confidential Agents of the said Company. And also it was understood & expected that the said ISAAC HITE would in a reasonable time account with the other representatives of the Company for this large sum, no part thereof hath ever been paid to the representatives of the MCKAY interest except about one hundred and fifty one or two pounds which was paid by the said HITE to your Orator ANDREW MCKAY for the express purpose of disbursing the same in the payment of claims against the Company. Ninety two pounds, sixteen shillings & one pence was paid for Lawyers & Clerks fees & the residue thereof was paid by the said ANDREW MCKAY to JOHN GREEN, the representative of ROBERT GREEN, so that the representatives of the said ROBERT MCKAY SENR. have as yet received no benefit for their own use from the payment of the said large sum of money paid by the executors of LORD FAIRFAX to the said ISAAC HITE for the use of the said Company.

And your Orator ANDREW MCKAY expressly charges also that he as agent for the MCKAY family, besides large sums of money paid by him in the prosecution of the Company's suit against LORD FAIRFAX & others, did advance also to the said JOHN GREEN for the same purpose considerable sums of money which have never been wholly accounted for by the said GREEN or his representatives. And your Orators further shew that when the representatives of the Company were about to enforce their decree against such of the occupants of the Company's lands as were adjudged to have no claim legal or equitable & to make sales thereof, various difficulties occurred as well from the situation of those lands as from the dispersed situation of the representatives of the Company & the infancy of several of them, so that the contracts were in some instances made by the Agents of said Company with the Occupants for some of their said possessions, but as other difficulties occurred in the transactions of the business, a petition was presented to the Legislature of Virginia at their session in 1795 praying that an Act might pass confirming the said contracts, & that two or more persons might be appointed to convey them the same as also the Lands which might thereafter be sold by their Agents, a copy of which petition is hereto annexed & which your Orators pray may be taken as part of this their bill-altho your Orator ROBERT MCKAY the son & heir of JAMES MCKAY & WILLIAM TYLER alias TAYLOR son & heir of WILLIAM TYLER & LEAH his wife wish here to charge that they never signed or assented to the said petition. In consequence of which petition the Legislature passed an Act on the 4th day of December 1795 appointing JAMES WILLIAMS, one of the representatives of ROBERT GREEN who was one of the original partners, & JONATHAN CLARK, one of the representatives of JOIST HITE, as Agents with power to sell the said lands & to pay the monies arising thereform in the manner directed by the Act, & morever did appoint the said JONATHAN CLARK & others as Commissioners for the purpose of making conveyances to the purchasers of said Lands as will be seen on referring to the said Act of Assembly, which your Orators pray may be taken as part of this their bill.

And your Orators have been informed & believe that they the said Agents have sold large quantities of said Company's land pursuant to the Act of Assembly, & have received considerable sums of money in consequence of those sales but that no part thereof hath been paid to your Oratbrs or to any others, as they believe, of the representatives of the said ROBERT MCKAY SENR.

And your Orators further shew that the said Agents have received from MOSES GREEN, executor of JOHN GREEN before mentioned, a bond of Gavin Lawson conditioned for the payment of five hundred pounds & dated the 1st day of December in the year 1791 the said bond having been given for so much money retained in the hands of said JOHN GREEN for the use of the MCKAY family, which money with interest due thereon your Orators believe hath been received by the said Agents JAMES WILLIAMS & JONATHAN CLARK but no part thereof hath been paid to your Orators, or with their knowledge, to any others of the representatives of the said ROBERT MCKAY SENR.

And your Orators further shew unto your Honor that the said Agents in their construction of the powers vested in them by the aforesaid Act of Assembly have conceived themselves authorized not only to sell the Lands properly belonging to the representatives of the said Company which were in the possession of intruders & trespassers who had no claim legal or equitable, but also to sell the lands held by your Orators' respective fathers now in the possession of your Orators and held, as your Orators have always believed, under the most equitable of claims as hath been shown in the preceding part of this their bill of complaint, & have actually proceeded to sell your Orators' said Lands altho your Orators expressly charge that they never intended that such a power should be given by the said Act of Assembly when the petition aforesaid was assented to by some of your Orators, nor do your Orators believe that the said petition or Act of Assembly will warrant such a construction or the proceedings of the said Agents in pursuance of that construction. And your Orators being unwilling to suffer what they conceive were their patrimonial estates to pass unto other hands or to be involved in litigation with those who might be purchasers, & confiding that this extraordinary pretension of the said Agents might be thereafter decided upon in a legal manner, became purchasers of their respective tracts of land before mentioned that is to say, your Orator ANDREW MCKAY purchased 825 acres for the sum of 716 pounds, & 59 acres for the sum of 12 pounds; & your Orator JEREMIAH MCKAY purchased 425 acres for the sum of 851 pounds; which sum being divided into three parts your Orator JEREMIAH gave three several bonds therefor with WILLIAM TYLER alias TAYLOR as his security; & your Orator ROBERT MCKAY purchased 310 acres for the sum of 1600 pounds which sum being divided into three parts, your Orator ROBERT gave three several bonds therefor with JAMES LEITH as his security; & your Orator WILLIAM TYLER alias TAYLOR purchased 205 acres for the sum of 800 pounds which sum being divided into three parts, your Orator WILLIAM TYLER alias TAYLOR gave three several bonds therefor with JEREMIAH MCKAY as his security-upon which said bonds the said Agents have commenced suits in the District Court holden at Winchester, have obtained judgments thereon & threaten your Orators with executions upon the same.

And here your Orators beg leave to collect into one view in a few words the various acts of injustices & oppression which have been practised & are yet sought to be practised by the representatives of the original partners & the said Agents against the MCKAY family who represent ROBERT MCKAY the Elder:

In the first place, it appears that under the authority vested in JOIST HITE & ROBERT MCKAY the Elder to sell the Company's Lands at 5 pounds per hundred acres, that the said JOIST HITE sold much the greater part of these lands without ever accounting with the other partners in the knowledge of your Orators for the excess beyond his proportion of the proceeds of those sales,

In the second place, after the termination of the suit against LORD FAIRFAX the large sum of seven thousand pounds was paid, as your Orators believe they can prove, by the executors of the said LORD FAIRFAX to ISAAC HITE the son of the said JOIST HITE & Agent for his representatives, in full discharge of the profits recovered against the said LORD FAIRFAX, & no part thereof hath been paid to your Orators for the use of the MCKAY FAMILY, nor do your Orators know how it hath been applied except that a part thereof may have been applied to defray the costs of the suit against FAIRFAX,

In the third place, the representatives of the said JOIST HITE have monopolized 21 of the surveys out of the 27 surveys reserved by the said Company under the decree of 1786 against LORD FAIRFAX & his grantees, excluding the representatives of the other parties from any share in those 21 surveys & alleging that they, the representatives of JOIST HITE have a separate claim thereto,

In the fourth place, the said Agents are claiming under the said JOIST HITE & the other being the principal claimant under DUFF & GREEN, two of the original partners, have taken possession of a bond for 500 pounds dated in 1791 as aforesaid, &, as your Orators believe, have received the same & the interest which bond was held by JOHN GREEN for the use of the MCKAY family, & the said Agents still hold the same money without having assounted therefor with your Orators,

In the fifth place, the said Agents hold in their hands, as your Orators believe, large sums which have proceeded from the sales of the lands of the Company held by intruders, which they the said Agents have not yet accounted for, and

In the sixth place, the said Agents, as if they wished to exterminate the family of the living generation from the soil of their fathers & to bring in oblivion the fact that the common ancestor of your orators was one of the original partners, have in violation of their authority, as your Orators believe, sold your Orators' patrimonial estates which your Orators have purchased for the reasons before given, & have also set up large claims against your Orators & others of the MCKAY family for the profits of those lands from the year 1749/50 & are now actually harassing your Orators by lawsuits for the recovery of the proceeds of those sales & for the amount of the profits which they alledge ought to be accounted for by your Orators; altho from what hath been stated above, there must be unaccounted for in the hands of the said Agents & of the other representatives of JOIST HITE, ROBERT GREEN, & WILLIAM DUFF & belonging to the family of the MCKAYS a much larger sum than the amounts of the sales of your Orators' lands & those of others of the MCKAY family, & the profits demanded therefrom even if it were admitted that those lands were liable to be sold or that those profits were demandable. All of which actings & doings of the said Agents & the representatives of the said HITE, GREEN & DUFF & of their ancestors are contrary to equity & good conscience & tend to the manifest injury, wrong & oppression of your Orators & of others of the MCKAY family similarly situated with your Orators.

In tender consideration thereof, & for as much as your Orators are properly relievable in a Court of Equity where matters of Account & partnership are peculiarly cognizable, to the end therefore that the said Agents & their Confederates when discovered, as also ISAAC HITE executor of ISAAC HITE deceased & attorney in fact for the representatives of JOIST HITE deceased, & JONATHAN CLARK as an attorney in fact for the said representatives & JAMES GREEN, SAMUEL P. GREEN & MOSES GREEN & JAMES WILLIAMS who intermarried with ELEANOR his wife now deceased, only daughter & heir at law of MOSES GREEN deceased who were the representatives of ROBERT GREEN & devisees of WILLIAM DUFF, may on their corporal oaths full true & perfect answer make to all & singular the premises as if the same were here again repeated, & interrogated according to their respective knowledge, information or belief, & particularly that the representatives of JOIST HITE may account for the proceeds of the sales made by the said JOIST HITE & may also set forth the grounds of their separate claim which they pretend they have to the 21 surveys comprised in the decree of 1786, being part of the 27 surveys recorded by the Company, their representatives & vendees against LORD FAIRFAX & his grantees & others-HOW much land is contained in the said 21 surveys? In whose possession & for whose use are those 21 surveys held? What amount of profits have been received by the HITE family therefrom & how much is due? And that the said ISAAC HITE as executor of his father ISAAC HITE deceased may account for the application of the 7000 pounds received by his testator from the executors of LORD FAIRFAX & may answer whether the sum received as aforesaid by your Orator ANDREW MCKAY of about 151 or 2 pounds was not paid by your Orator as before stated & pursuant to the direction of his said testator ISAAC HITE? And that the executors of JOHN GREEN may account for the several sums of money advanced him by your Orators for the prosecution of the suit against LORD FAIRFAX & others. And that the said Agents JAMES WILLIAMS & JONATHAN CLARK may account for all the sales which they have made under the Act of Assembly aforesaid which were rightfully made, & how much money hath been received by them & how much remains due and from whom? And that the said Agents may also account with your Orators and others of the MCKAY family for the money received by them from Gavin Lawson on his bond which they have received from JOHN GREEN who held the said bond for the use of your Orators and others of the MCKAY FAMILY AND UNTIL ALL those several accounts can be adjusted, that the said judgments obtained in the District Court holden at Winchester by the said Agents against your Orators may be enjoined, and that your Honor will decree the said 21 surveys or such parts thereof as are the property of the Company and their representatives, may be sold and the proceeds distributed among the respective claimants, and that the several defendants respectively may be decreed to pay unto your Orators and others of the representatives of ROBERT MCKAY SENR such sums of money as shall be found due to them respectively, that your Orators may be quieted in their possessions which are of the original settlements and that your Honor will make such other decree in the premises as shall seem proper to your Honor and shall be agreeable to equity and good conscience.

May it please your Honor to grant your Orators the Commonwealth's writs of subpoena & injunction to the said Agents, WILLIAMS & CLARK, etc.

DECLARATION IN ORDER TO OBTAIN THE BENEFIT OF AN ACT OF CONGRESS PASSED JUNE 7, 1832.

STATE OF INDIANA) SS COUNTY OF JEFFERSON)

On the 2d day of September personally appeared in open court before the court of Jefferson County Indiana now sitting ROBERT MCKAY, a resident of said county of Jefferson & state afores'd, aged seventy three years the 12th day of February last, who being first duly sworn according to law, doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of an act of congress passed June 7, 1832.

That he entered the service of the United States under the following named officers, Capt. William Jennings for the first & second tours, Capt. George Prince for the third tour & served as follows to wit, being a resident of Shenandoah Co. Virginia during the whole period of his service he volunteered for the first tour in October 1779 & served three months under Capt. Jennings as aforesaid & obtained therefor a full & honorable discharge. The service of this tour was the guarding of the prisoners at Albemarle barracks where on their arrival they found about 30 men guarding about 900 prisoners. He also volunteered in October 1780 under Capt. William Jennings as aforesaid & served three months & obtained a like discharge. In this tour he was employed in watching the movements of the British near Fredericksburg, Virginia. The third tour was under Capt. George Prince as above stated in the year 1781. It was a tour of three months also or near that time. They were volunteers then also. That on the march to Yorktown they were informed of the surrender of Cornwallis & ordered to turn back, in all nine months. The whole of his service was in the militia of Virginia. In the first tour he joined no regiment as he believes, but was under the command of Gen'l Muhlenburg. He does not recollect to have joined any reg't or to have been under any Gen'l officer during the second tour. The service was detached. The third tour he does not recollect the name of the Colonel but believes his company joined a reg't. He has no papers to prove the aforesaid service, the discharges being lost. He was not in any battle. He knows of no person by whom he can prove any portion of said service. He relinquishes every claim whatever to a pension or annuity except the present, & declares that by name (he) is not on the pension roll of the agency of any state.

ROBERT MCKAY

Sworn to (to the best of his knowledge, recollection and belief) and subscribed the day and year aforesaid.

R.C.TALBOTT, Clk.

We, Samuel Bellamy a Clergyman residing in the county of Switzerland & State of Indiana, and John Gale residing in the County of Jefferson aforesaid, both neighbors of the said ROBERT MCKAY, do hereby certify that we are well acquainted with the said ROBERT MCKAY who has subscribed and sworn to the above declaration; that we believe him to be seventy three years of age; that he is reputed and believed in the neighborhood where he resides, to have been a soldier of the Revolution, and that we concur in that opinion.

SAMUEL BELLEMY
JOHN E. GALE

Sworn to and subscribed the day & year aforesaid.

R.C.TALBOTT, Clk.

And the said Court do hereby declare their opinion after their investigation of the matter, and after putting the interrogatories prescribed by the War Department, that the above named applicant was a revolutionary soldier & served as he states. And the court further certifies that it appears to them that Samuel Bellamy who has signed the preceeding dertificate is a clergyman resident in the county of Switzerland & State of Indiana, & that John Gale who has also signed the same is a resident of the County of Jefferson aforesaid & is a credible person & that their statement is entitled to credit.

Edmon Gale, Judge
D. Blackman "

I, Richard C.Talbott, Clerk of the Jefferson County Circuit Court do hereby certify that the foregoing contains the original proceedings of the said court in the matter of the application of ROBERT MCKAY for a pension. In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand & seal of my office this 2d day of September 1833.

R.C.Talbott, clk.

Interrogatories propounded to the above named applicant by the court aforesaid in open court:

1. Where & in what year were you born?
   Ans: I was born in the year 1760 in the County of Shenandoah & State of Virginia.
2. Have you any record of your age, & if so, where is it?
   Ans: I have none, but I give my age as it has been communicated to me by my mother.
3. Where were you living when called into service, where have you lived since the Revolutionary War, & where do you now live?
   Ans: I lived in the county of Shenandoah when called into service & continued to reside there until I was fifty years of age; I then moved from Shenandoah to Indiana where I have lived ever since & where I now live.

4. How were you called into service: were you drafted, did you volunteer, or were you a substitute, & if a substitute, for whom?
   Ans: I volunteered in all the tours I served.
5. State the names of some of the Regular Officers who were with the troops when you served, such Continental Militia Regiments as you can recollect, & the general circumstances of your service.
   Ans: I do not now recollect the name of any officer of rank other than Colonel John Netherton & Gen'l Muhlenburg. He, Gen'l Muhlenburg sometimes preached to us, was an Episcopalian. At the expiration of my second tour I was discharged at Fredericksburg by order of Gen'l Wh..... as well as I recollect.
6. Did you ever receive a discharge from the service, & if so, by whom was it given, and what has become of it?
   Ans: I did receive a written discharge signed by Col. John Netherton as well as I can recollect, but it is lost or destroyed by time or accident.
7. State the names of persons to whom you are known in your present neighborhood, and who can testify as to your character for veracity & their belief of your services as a soldier of the Revolution.
   Ans: Samuel Bellamy and John E. Gale, William Cotton & Nathaniel Cotton & others.

The Rosemont Inn is a beautifully restored 1881 brick mansion filled with lovely native hardwood woodwork and period Eastlake antique furniture. The wicker furniture filled front porch is a great place to spend an afternoon, just watching the river flow by.

If you like history you will find Rosemont fascinating. You can spend hours looking through our scrapbooks filled with history on the Hay Kings who built the Southern Indiana area in the 1800's. We have extensive history and pictures with family trees dating back into the 16th Century.

McKay Graveyard

Milton Township
Section 17 Twp. 3N Range 11E

by Robert W. Scott

The John Paul DAR transcription describes this as "on Rogers farm above Brooksburg." This land was owned by Donald King (and then by his widow) in the 1990s. It is north of Route 56 in Jefferson Co., just west of Lamb. The DAR transcription gives this Section 7, but it is more likely Section 17, which was patented in 1808, by Robert McKay. Jefferson County road maps show a cemetery in Section 7, but it is on the south Side of State Road 56, while Section 17 shows a cemetery on the North South, which matches the location as visited by Robert Scott in 1997. The 1900 Jefferson County property map shows that F.E. Rogers owned a 64-acre tract, mostly in Section 17. The transcriptions and all notes are by the DAR

I am searching for a McKay who may possibly be the son of Robert T. McKay.

These children of Robert T. McKay I have pretty much ruled out - Merrit, Isaac, William, Jonas and Ephriam.

This McKay I am searching for died before the 1850 census. His wife Margaret A. is a widow in Switzerland Co., Indiana. Margaret is born in Kentucky abt. 1815.

This McKay and Margaret have children Charles, William, Matilda, Catherine, James and Henrietta.

I am researching the son James McKay. James is born in Jan of 1844 according to the 1900 census in Switzerland Co., Indiana.

James marries a Mary born Feb 1845 in Indiana. They have children Anna, William, Carroll, Elizabeth C. and Grace.

Anna marries William Frederick Montayne and Elizabeth marries Charles A. Weber.

MILTON TOWNSHIP HISTORY

Transcription by Robert W. Scott

(Note: This history is transcribed from a typewritten paper originally in the Madison-Jefferson County Public Library and came, as noted from records of the Jefferson County Historical Society. Neither the author nor date is given. It was at least partly written before 1908 as it refers to Isaiah Brooks as being still alive in Brooksburg. Brooks died that year. It also refers to reminiscences by P.R. Vernon, who died in 1897. Some material is attributed to Rev. James Lanham who lived 1832-1919. It apparently incorporates material by George S. Cottman, who intended to write a history of all the county's townships. The organizational style is similar to a history of Shelby Township, also prepared for the Historical Society and which contains portions written in 1906 and some later. The Shelby Township history contains a reference which leads me it was written by William E. Ryker and therefore, both of these histories were written by Ryker, the society's president. Misspelled words have been transcribed as written, some overstrikes have been eliminated, and in one place, as noted, a misplaced paragraph has been put in its proper order. R. W. Scott.)

Milton Township. from records of Historical Society, Jeff. Co. Ind.

Milton township, forming the south-east corner of the County, was carved out of old Pittsburgh township and took its present name & boundaries in 1818. Watered by the largest stream in the County, the Indian Kentucky, and its tributaries, its surface is diversified indeed. With picturesque hills and valleys and great stretches of rich bottom lands, it is indeed one of the most inviting sections of the county, and at a very early day attracted settlers.

According to a local reminiscer, P.R. Vernon, the first comers to the Indian Kentuck Valley, antedated the Vawters of the Madison locality, which would make theirs the first settlement in the County, but the statement lacks confirmation.

The exact dates of these earliest settlements cannot, in fact, be established, but at the time the county was organized, a number of persons had taken up land along the creek from its mouth, to the site of Manville. Among these were GEORGE ASH, ROBERT MCKAY, ABRAHAM MCKAY, THOMAS J. GLOVER, JACOB SHORT, GERSHOM LEE, JESSE GRAY, JOHN TAYLOR AND HALSEY TIBBALS, whose name like that of "White Eyes" the Delaware Indian chief, bobs up in about every township in the county.

George Ash's entry, section 17, twp. 3, range 12, dated April 19, 1808 was the first tract to be taken up within the present bounds of the county. This was part of a much larger tract, extending over into Switzerland county, which had been given him by the Indians, but his title to which was not recognized by the United States government. There seems to have been further trouble about this 17th sectional section for in the following October the record shows the same tract to have been entered by Robert McKay, as entry No. 198. Ash was never a resident of Jefferson County, but lived in Switzerland County, directly opposite the mouth of the Kentucky River, where for a number of years, he ran a ferry. Ash has described it as "four miles in length on the river and one mile back."

Two old petitions in possession of the writer contain names of early citizens and afford glimpses of early civil needs. One of these, undated reads.

"To the Honorable, the Associate Judges of the Jefferson Circuit Court. We, your petitioners, beg leave to state and represent to your Honors that we are situated in a rather remote section of the country and particularly as respects to the want of civil officers, there being at this time a considerable settlement on the Indiana [a struck out], Kentuck, and at present and for a long time past we have not had a justice of the peace within several miles, which places us in a disadvantageous situation as respects to the subjects of controversy that might be determined before a justice. Now in order to remedy these inconveniences and in some measure to bring justice to our doors, we beg again your honors to recommend the appointment of Joseph Howard, or our neighborhood, to fill that office. And your petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray, etc."

Signed by Henry Banta, Henry Saylers, Joseph Hankins, David Forester (?), Francis Welchel, John Lee, Mordecai Brooks, Noah Brooks, Jesse Neal, Umphrey Brooks, Daniel Neal, Gershom Lee, Enoch McCarty, Robert McKay, John Bohannon (Buchanan), Stephen Rutherford, Moses Devore, Benjamin Devore, Eliza [RWS note. This probably should be Elija. It seems unlikely a woman could have signed a petition.] Devore, George Burton, Isaac Short, Isaac Howard, James Brown, John Helm, David Demaree, Benjamin Brooks, Nicholas Manville, John Lochred (Lockridge). After the signatures is added this further request. "We, the above petitioners, wish you to appoint John Lanham as constable in the settlement."

The other petition dated 1818 reads;

After the signatures is added this further request: "We, the above petitioners, wish you to appoint John Lanham as constable in the settlement."

The other petition dated 1818 reads;

"To the Honorable, the Board of Commissioners of Jefferson Co. State of Indiana: We the undersigned, pray your honors to grant us a division of the township of Madison to set off such a part of the township as your honors shall think proper for the accommodation of the inhabitants of Indian Kaintuck and the adjoining settlements. By complying with the above request you will confer a singular obligation on your petitioners. Jan. 26, 1818."

The signatures to these, in addition to the twelve that were on the list of 1816 were; William Welchel, Davis Welchel, John Welchel, Frank Welchel, William W. Welchel, George Helms, Abraham Helms, Isaac Helms, John Helms, Thomas O. Neal, William Neal, James A. Neal, [RWS Note. These three are probably O'Neals.] William McKay, Uriah McKay, Abraham McKay, William Cob. Ambrose Cob, John Henry, Jeremiah Wilkins, David Hutcherson, Samuel Johnson, George Rogers, Wiley Brooks, James Sheridan, John West, Chris Bean, Jacob Short, John Lanham, Thos. Windsaw, Daniel H. Larimore, Nehemiah Vernon, Samuel Heath, Shuble Farr, Andrew Lee and Thomas Von (Vaughn).

In 1815 it is said there was a small settlement on the Dry Fork of Indiana Kentuck, and also a grist mill owned by Nicholas Manville, while "at the forks of the creek, was a settlement and a fort, vague mention of which was made, though we know nothing further about it."

One of the first accounts of grist mills in the township is furnished by the old "writ of Ad(?) quo damnum" which commanded the sheriff of the county, James Vawter, to meet on the 2nd Tuesday of June 1816, with "twelve good and lawful men" at Indian Kentuck Creek, there to view a proposed water mill dam for Nicholas Manville. The instructions were;

Diligently to examine the ground on both sides of the creek above and below said dam and examine how much land will be laid under water or otherwise injured by the said dam, and assess the damages that may be occasioned thereby, also whether it will annoy the health of the neighborhood, or prevent ordinary navigation or prevent the passage of fish, etc.

The report of Sheriff Vawter was that he had met with his jury as commanded and that all further proceedings were discontinued "by order of applicant, to wit, N.Manville."

Just what this means is not clear, but according to tradition the mill established by Nicholas Manville, where the village of that name stands, dates back to 1816. Another mill said by some to have antedated Manville's was built by a Demaree. Of its location or history nothing is known.

In his reminiscences, P.R. Vernon, an old resident and prominent citizen of Milton twp. tells of the conditions existing at that time. Luxuriant vegetation and wild game in the jungles bounded. Wild turkeys were so numerous that flocks containing hundreds were not uncommon. David McCay trapped so many of them that he would not deign to keep any but the fattest and best. Rattlesnakes and vipers also abounded. Mr. Vernon remembered the Indians that lingered in the locality and says that at one time a band of Delawares of about 43 men, women and children with a large number of horses and dogs, camped for about 3 weeks on a branch of the Indian Kentuck. Their chief "Captain Buck" frequently visited George Ash, the Ohio River ferryman, who was himself like an Indian in habits and tastes.

Vernon's statement as to the rank flora of the Indian Kentuck valley is confirmed by other sources. Elias McKay tells of the colossal trees of that locality, particularly of the sycamores on the farm of his father (Abraham McKay). The hollow trunk of one of these trees, he says, was used as a milk house, another as a snake house, and yet a larger one as a stable, the latter, he affirms, being so huge that within its capacious hollow" tow horses could stand. It was, at one time, used as a hog pen, by way of protection from the wolves. We also hear for a sycamore on the place owned in later years by John Van Buren, which was converted into a dwelling place by a man named West. He made this natural habitation comfortable by putting in it plenty of dry leaves, closed the opening with an artificial door, & here "under the laws of the land, he was entitled to all the rights and privileges of a householder." On one occasion, however, the creek rose suddenly and invaded his domicile, and he was rescued by Benjamin Emberson, who "took a horse and ferried him out."

West, by the account of the Rev. J.W. Lanham, who once wrote a sketch of him for the Madison Courier, was something of a character.

(No date of clipping;)

Among the pioneers of Indian Kentuck Creek, was an old gentleman named West. He entered most of the land along the west fork of the Creek, from the village of Manville up to Turkey Branch, a distance of about 2 miles. In advanced life he and his wife separated on account of "incompatibility" she going to Saluda township to live with her children, and he remaining with his possessions on the Creek. He was industrious, intelligent, thoroughly honest, and ever benevolent. He hated all pride, extravagance and fashion, with deadly hatred. In the summer times he generally dresses in a long, home-made linen robe of shirt. In this garment he was sometimes seen even at church, for he was a devoted Baptist. He sold out all his lands, parcel by parcel, frequently taking his payments in board & lodging, and many a lesson in wisdom, and especially in industry, did he impart to the children. His lands kept him well supplied in corn, and no one needing bread ever went away id??. But if the need was caused by want of industry of providence, a sound lecture accompanied the corn. So averse was he to giving trouble that, in warm weather, he often slept in a large, hollow sycamore tree on the premises now owned by John Van Buren. He made a door to this tree and gathered into it plenty of dry leaves for a bed, and here he though himself "Monarch of all he surveyed". But one night the creek rose suddenly and surrounded his tree while he was in it. He was rescued by the kindness of Benjamin Emerson who took a horses and ferried him out."

The trees that he trimmed in the forests, the stone walls that he built to support the banks of the creek, and the cribs that contained his corn have long since passed away. But a few live who cherish loving memories of this excellent but eccentric man. A number of poor families obtained homes from him on easy terms. He was always ready to deny himself for the good of others, and whatever our community is today, it owes largely to the unostentatious life of "old Man West." His children visited him occasionally, and when he became quite feeble with age, he went to live with them in the lower part of the county, where he finally died."

J.W. Lanham

The McKay name, above mentioned was familiar in the Indian Kentuck region as early as 1816, for in a document of that date appear the signatures of Robert and David, and in 1818 we find, William, Uriah and Abraham. Fourteen years later, the family had multiplied in numbers only, for in a petition to the County Commissioners, in 1832, protesting against the excessive ferry rates across the Indian Kentuck at its mouth, there are 19 McKays, besides a doubtful one, in the list of signers, these being Tavener, George, James, Jordan, Isaac, two Roberts, William, Jeremiah, Abraham, Abram, Charles, Smith, Floyd, Enoch, Henry, Elias and John--of these Elias had a local fame as a hunter. This petition which is perhaps of sufficient interest to interest reads:

There are 102 signatures to the petition and at its end is added this complaint. [The petition and all the signers are not in the original transcription. Also the names after Jeremiah were omitted and placed on another page. I have put them in their proper place. RWS]

One of the early and important industries of this township and perhaps the first of its kind in the State was the paper mill of John Sheets. Mooney's paper mill is spoken of in the sketch of Monroe township, but Sheet's establishment was much the more important of the two. It stood on Indian Kentuck bank below Manville, its location having been determined, probably, by the never failing water power to be had there. It was built 1829-30 by Nathaniel Bayless, a carpenter and joiner, who came to Madison from Hartford County, Maryland in 1817. William Hughes, an uncle of Dr. Wm. R. Davidson, had charge of the mill, his knowledge having been acquired from his father who had been a larger manufacturer of paper in Ireland. This mill made an excellent quality of rag paper. Mr. Robert Quail who is said to have been skilled in making superior paper is said to have been brought by Sheets from Dayton, Ohio. In 1834 its prosperity seems to have warranted an increase in its facilities, for we find the statement that its capacity is "3,700 sheets per hour or 2,944 sheets more than by the old plan." an advertisement in the Republican banner of the same date follows."

Mr. Sheets, whose paper mill is seven miles from town, says that he can take the printers shirts from their backs in t he In the morning and have them ground and made into paper so that they may print handbills upon them in the evening of the same day. (Rest torn off. Something about 12 men)

It was operated until 1849, when it ceased as an industry on the Indian Kentuck and some of its machinery was transferred to the Siebenthal flour mill on that stream. William Sheets was a well-known Madison man who was at one time the Secretary of State for Indiana.

JACOB SHORT

Of the old settlers there is little available data. Jacob Short, a German, who had served under General St. Clair in his disastrous Indian campaign, came in 1810. Jonathan McCarty is mentioned as living here when Short came, with a little three-acre truck patch, around his log cabin, which stood near the spot occupied in later years by George Rowlinson. Bob McCarty, in that day of hard fighters was famed as a champion. Elias McKay was a hunter, also famed for his particular talent. The Shermans, Nathaniel, Benoni and Elisha, came from New York in 1816. Nathaniel, who was a stone-mason, had been a soldier in the War of 1812. Abner Bare came in 1812, and at one time eked out a living by chopping wood at 25 cents per cord, taking his pay in groceries at a high price.

George Ash, the ferryman, above referred to, though not properly a resident of the county, was a picturesque and unique character. He was thought by many to be part Indian because of his appearance, dress and habits of living. This was due to the fact that he had been captured by the Shawnee Indians when a boy of ten, and grew up with them, sharing in their conflicts with the whites in the north west, including the two famous ones with St. Clair and Anthony Wayne. An interesting contribution of the last two is Ash's own account, too long for printing here, as published by an anonymous interviewed in the Indiana Republican of Feb. 24, 1830. After the establishment of peace following Wayne's conquest, Ash returned to the white settlement to learn, if possible, whether any of his own family were living.

into a plenty of dry leaves for a bed, and there he though himself "Monarch of all he surveyed". But one night the creek rose suddenly and surrounded his tree while he was in it. He was rescued by the Indians of Benjamin Bingham who took a canoes and ferried him out."

The trees that he mirrored in the forests, the stone walls that he built to support the banks of the creek, and the circle that contained his corn have long since passed away. But a few live who cherish loving memories of this excellent but eccentric man. A number of poor families obtained homes from him on easy terms. He was an eye ready to deny himself for the good of others, and whatever our community is today, it owes largely to the unostentatious life of "old Man West." His children visited him occasionally, and when he became quite feeble with age, he went to live with them in the lower part of the county, where he finally died."

J.W. Lanham

The McKay name, above mentioned was familiar in the Indian Kentuck region as early as 1810, for in a document of that date appear the signatures of Robert and David, and in 1818 we find, William, Uriah and Abraham. Fourteen years later, the family had multiplied in numbers only, for in a petition to the County Commissioners, in 1832, protesting against the excessive ferry rates across the Indian Kentuck at its mouth, there are 13 McKays. Besides a doubtful one, in the list of signers, these being Tavener, George, James, Jordan, Isaac, two Roberts, William, Jeremiah, Abraham, Abram, Charles, Smith, Floyd, Enoch, Henry, Elias and John - of these Elias had a local fame as a hunter. This petition which is perhaps of sufficient interest to interest reader.

There are 102 signatures to the petition and at its end is added this complaint. [The petition and all the signers are not in the original transcription. Also the names after Jeremiah were omitted and placed on another page. I have put them in their proper place. RWS]

One of the early and important industries of this township and perhaps the first of its kind in the State was the paper mill of John Sineds. Mooney's paper mill is spoken of in the sketch of Monroe township, but Sineds's establishment was much the more important of the two. It stood on Indian Kentuck bank below Marrville, its location having been determined, probably, by the never failing water power to be had there. It was built 1823-30 by Nathaniel Bayless, a carpenter and joiner, who came to Madison from Hartford County, Maryland in 1817. William Hughes, an uncle of Dr. Wm. R. Davidson, had charge of the mill. His knowledge having been acquired from his father who had been a large manufacturer of paper in Ireland. This mill made an excellent quality of rag paper. Mr. Robert Quail who is said to have been skilled in making superior paper is said to have been brought by Sineds from Dayton, Ohio. In 1834 its property seems to have warranted an increase in its facilities, for we find the statement that its capacity is "3,000 sheets per hour or 2,500 sheets more than by the old plan." an advertisement in the Republican banner of the same date follows."

Mr. Sineds, whose paper mill is seven miles from town, says that he can take the printers shirts from their backs in the morning and have them ground and made into paper so that they may print heads upon them in the evening of the same day. (Rest torn off. Something about 12 men)

JACOB SHOET

Of the old settlers there is little available data. Jacob Short, a German, who had served under General St. Clair in his disastrous Indian campaign, came in 1810. Jonathan McCarty is mentioned as living here when Short came, with a little three-acre truck patch, around his log cabin, which stood near the spot occupied in later years by George Rowlinson. Bob McCarty, in that day of hard fighters was famed as a champion. Elias McKay was a hunter, also famed for his particular talent. The Shermans, Nathaniel, Bennet and Elisha, came from New York in 1810. Nathaniel, who was a stone-mason, had been a soldier in the War of 1812. Abner Bane came in 1812, and at one time eked out a living by chopping wood at 25 cents per cord, taking his pay in groceries at a high price.

George Ash, the lawyman, above referred to, though not properly a resident of the county, was a picturesque and unique character. He was thrown by many to be part Indian because of his appearance, dress and habits of living. This was due to the fact that he had been captured by the Shawnee Indians when a boy of ten, and grew up with them, sharing in their conflicts with the whites in the north west, including the two famous ones with St. Clair and Anthony Wayne. An interesting contribution of the last two is Ash's own account, too long for printing here, as published by an anonymous interviewed in the Indiana Republican of Feb. 24, 1830. After the establishment of peace following Wayne's conquest, Ash returned to the white settlement to learn, if possible, whether any of his own family were living.

At Fort Pitt, he discovered one of his brothers from whom he learned that his father was yet alive in Kentucky. A few months later he proceeded there, arriving at the home at midnight, and despite his Indians appearel and his very broken English, he was admitted & made welcome by the unsuspecting brother [sic, must mean father], who affirmed that he had yet to refuse lodging to any man. The two sat before a log fire for some time in silence, when the visitor finally drew the old gentleman into conversation, asking vaguely if he had a son George who had been taken by the Indians many years previously. Roused by the inquiry, the old man replied "Yes and he was killed in St. Clair's defeat," whereupon the son revealed himself to his aged father and daylight dawned before the latter could be convinced of the truth of the circumstances, to further prove which he conceived of the idea of going for his elder son, Henry in the distant neighborhood, first asking George if he would know his brother Henry if he should see him. George with tearful eyes and trembling voice admitted that he probably would not after the lapse of so many years. His father had accumulated a small fortune & was in possession of several negroes, some fine horses and a wife, George's step-mother, which latter however valuable to the father, proved a stumbling block to the son, whose exit followed upon the heels of his arrival.

He thenceforth crossed the Ohio and pitched his tent upon a site which became his abiding place--directly opposite the mouth of the Kentucky River. This was between 1795 and 1800. Ash made of [sic} living and his personal appearance strongly suggestive of Indian. His ears and nose were mutilated to accommodate ornaments such as silver crosses and "half Moons" with which he lavishly adorned himself. J.H.B. Nowland, the chronicler of early Indianapolis, whose family emigrated from Kentucky in 1820, crossed the Ohio by Ash's ferry and says of the ferryman that "he could scarcely speak a word of English, wore rings in his ears and nose, and dressed in Indian style." Although he had a very good house, he had not a chair or bedstead in it, and lived in every way like a savage."

There existed among the settlers a strong prejudice against Ash and a prevailing suspicion that he had participated in the activities against the whites, some believing that he had been indirectly concerned in the Pigeon Roost Massacre.

A story is told of a fight in which he was surprised and gotten the better of by a much older man. He, with a Mr. Mount and another man passing the mouth of a certain creek, which empties into the Ohio "This is where I called a boat in for the Indians by pretending to be in distress." "What became of them, asked Mount. "All went to hell, for all I know," said Ash, whereupon Mount sprang upon him, bellowing "I'll send you after them" and beat him until his companion interceded and saved his life.

BROOKSBURG, at the mouth of the Indian Kentuck, was laid out by Fletcher Tevis, who built the first house, which was occupied by "Uncle Wiley Brooks"; Jonathan McKay built the second house; Samuel Johnson ran a ferry at the mouth of the creek. The streets were laid out with a yoke of oxen, Isaiah Brooks holding the plow handels [sic], Fountain Greenwood driving. It was a favorite for produce, and a shipping point, by flatboats to southern ports. Coleman Bros., Danner Bros. U.P. Schench [sic] and Whitney were the principal shippers.

CHURCHES

Manville Christian church, the first at Manville, Milton twp. (originally of the Baptist denomination, dates back to the twenties. though we cannot ascertain the exact time of its beginning. It began in a somewhat Anomalous fashion, having two preachers, Joseph Hankins and Elder Leavitt; and as these men were not one in doctrine the result was two factions, standing respectively for open and close communion. At the same time Jesse Vawter came occasionally to preach. Then one member, Jacob Short, who became a convert to the ideas of Alexander Campbell, invited Beverly Vawter, of the Christian or the Disciples church, to come and preach, and the doctrines he presented proved so acceptable that the original Baptist Organization became the Manville Christian church, which name it still retains.

The first members were Jacob Short and wife, Elisha Short and wife. Its first ministers were itinerant, these being, Love H. Jameson, John O'Kane, John B. New, Asher Ward and Newton Short. Its regular pastors have been, A.H. Ames, Charles Lanham and J.H. Lanham, the last named having served almost continuously for 54 years.

The Milton Baptist church, 2 miles NE of Manville, was the outgrowth of the Manville Baptist church, was the outgrowth of the Manville Baptist church. [RWS. The statement is wrong. There is no evidence of the existence of a Manville Baptist Church. The Manville Christian church grew out of the Milton Baptist.] On the disorganization of the latter the minority who remained loyal to the Baptist denomination together with other isolated Baptists, found [sic, founded] a new church. Among them were the Hankins, the Vernons and some of the Halls. The principal preacher was Joseph Hankins, the grandson of the Joseph Hankins, who preached at the first church. This second church also disbanded after some years, some of the members going to the Manville Christian church and others into a new church which was called Mt. Pleasant and located on Hall's Ridge.

Milton Baptist church, (now known as Brooksburg Baptist church) [RWS. This church did not become Brooksburg Baptist.] 2 miles northeast of Manville was organized in May, 1840 at the residence of Aaron Hankins. The 1st members were; Aaron, Sarah, Moses, Rachel and Nancy Hankins, William and Elizabeth Hankins, Sarah Hall, Abraham Crandall, Franky Ray, Amy Moore, Sarah Ann Jackson, Jemima Weathers and Nicholas Lock and the Vernons. Services were held in private houses till 1843, when a church building was erected. The first minister was Isaac Christie and he was followed by Joseph Hankins, Joshua Griffeth, Jonathan Allen [sic Allee], Robert Wilson, W.J. Goldsborough, J.N. Wait, Archie Smith, Benj. Tulson, Robert Stevenson, E.K. Blanton, Nicholas Lock, W.H.H. Gleason, Robert Imel & J.W. Renfro.

Joseph Imel was the only minister ordained by this church, but three persons were licensed. Aaron Hankins, the only ordained deacon, was chose and served many years up to 1878; 395 had been received. Authority of J.H. Lanham

Home Methodist church. In 1831 the "Home Church" was organized by persons living in the vicinity of Brooksburg. That year they began the erection of a stone meetinghouse about 2 1/2 miles north of Brooksburg, but before completion it was blown down by a severe storm. Undaunted the building committee, Mordecai Brooks, Rev. John Tevis, Samuel Joyce, John Brooks, Tinsley Vernon, George M. Rowlinson, Gabe Poor and Marshall Gray, proceeded with another structure., which was finished and dedicated as "Home Chapel". In 1875 this building was abandoned because of floods and the backwaters waters, and a new church was built on higher ground. This was dedicated in June, 1880 by Presiding Elder Roberts.

ARMSTRONG CHAPEL--MORRIS CHAPEL

(In this sketch of Armstrong Chapel, I have made the most that I could out of the data in the two sketches, which do not harmonize in their statements.) Probably written by Mr. Cottman.

What was known as Armstrong Chapel was founded about the year 1832 or 1843. It took its name from Captain John Armstrong, a well-known steamboat man, who, though not a member of any church, donated ground and money for its establishment. A building committee, consisting of James Brook, William Heath, _____ Gale, Rev. Dr. Tevis, Floyd McKay and David Neal were chosen, and these began a good-sized stone structure, but even with the help that was extended, resources were so meager that work had to be suspended. Captain Armstrong again acted as a stimulus, though in a new & more drastic way. He called the committee together and told them that he would contribute more money, but that if the building was not completed by a certain time, he would take it over and convert it into a distillery. This put the supporting members on their mettle, and by strenuous efforts and much self-denial the structure was finished within the time limit.

Among the first members of Armstrong Chapel, were Miss Atlanta Gale, William Heath & wife, James Brooks & wife, Judge David Cain. Captain William Armstrong and his wife also became members. The church was dedicated by Wm. M. Daily. The 2nd sermon preached in it was by Hosea P. Durbin, the occasion being the funeral of Mrs. Eliza Gale.

The church was for some time quite prosperous, but gradually the Ohio River encroached upon the road that led to it. Then the road was shifted and the church site left isolated and inaccessible. By reason of thei [?] in 1859 (your manuscript says 1856) "Morris Chapel" was built about one mile above Brooksburg on the farm of James Brooks. The first pastor of Armstrong Chapel was Rev. Louis Hurlbut, and the first at Morris Chapel was James Morrison; William Heath was class leader and Sunday school superintendent in both classes, his services extending over a period of 35 years.

Up to the time of the Civil War the Methodists of Hunter's Bottom, directly across the river in Kentucky, frequently crossed the river, and attended these churches. On one quarterly meeting, the presiding elder, Rev. Giles C. Smith, prayed for the Rebels, asking the Lord to have mercy as they "knelt to the ebony idols" and to "knock the scales from the eyes of Jefferson Davis" if that were possible. The Kentuckians who were present oozed away and we are told that they never visited much after that.

UNIVERSALIST CONVENTION

So far as we know there were no early Universalist church in Milton township, but it is of interest to note that the people of that faith, held a convention there as far back as 1837. On July 15th of that year, we find the following announcement in "The Sentinel and Star of the West" a Cincinnati and Madisonville, Ky. publication; published every Sat. by S. and W.B. Tizzard.

"Universalist Convention of the State of Indiana; On Friday the 28th of July, there will be a meeting of delegates, at Sheets' Paper Mill, on Big Indian Kentuck, 7 miles northeast of Madison, Jefferson Co., Ia. and continue in session three days. The object of the meeting is to form a state convention of the Universalists of the State of Indiana--Universalists in all parts of the state who feel an interest in the cause will call meetings and appoint delegates to attend said meeting.

Elisha Short, born in Kentucky in 1797, came with his father, Jacob Short in 1810 and settled on the Indian Kentuck Creek. When still a youth, he helped his father build a fort on what was afterward the William Lawson place and at times sought refuge there from the Indians. According to him, a band of the Shawnee tribe had their camping ground where Manville stands, and another Indian camp was on lower Dry Fork near the site of the present Home Church. He remember Chief White Eyes and Captain Painter or Panther. He was one of those who first opened up a road from Madison to the mouth of Indian Kentuck and he said that the workmen employed on it grumbled because they thought none of them would ever see a wagon pass over it. Jacob Short the father of Elisha is credited with having the Indian Kentuck region. (?) Elisha died Nov. 13, 1884. [RWS note. It seems possible that the story means to say Jacob named the Indian-Kentuck region.]

WILLIAM LAWSON, an eccentric Scotsman, who resided in Jefferson Co. for more than 50 years, had a valuable farm of some 600 acres near Manville, where his home crowning a height, overlooked the beautiful Indian Kentuck valley. He was popularly known as "Uncle Billy" and was regarded as a "character." He had a strong personality and was big of heart. He had no children but adopted a family of six or seven girls and cared for them as for his own daughters. He was well-to-do and was said to have received large annuities from an estate in Scotland. He died October 17, 1873, and was buried, in compliance with his own request, on the top of a high Indian mound on his own farm.

JAMES HILL of Milton Township was born in Green Co. Pa. July 5, 1814. In 1837 he came to Madison to secure employment on the public works that were then under way, pursuant to the internal improvement act of 1836. He was employed on the Madison and Indpls Railroad and was connected with its construction for about 12 years. The deep cut on the inclined plane, which was undertaken by various successive contractors, and completed after much delay and difficulty was at one time placed in charge of Mr. Hill. After leaving the service of the railroad, he went into the cooper business in Madison in partnership with Thos. Brunton, continuing at this for 6 or 8 years. For three or four years after this he was in the lumber business with J.C. Logan; then in 1859 he bought a farm adjoining Brooksburg, where he lived until his death.

In 1885 Mr. Hill was elected State Senator from Jeff. Co. He also served four or five terms as councilman of Madison and was at one time county commissioner. He married in 1845 to Mary Ann Taylor and they had 7 children; 4 sons and 3 daughters, three of the sons are citizens of Jeff. Co. William L., Charles and Frank.

NOAH BROOKS, came to the mouth of Indian Kentuck in 1814 with his father Humphrey Brooks, from North Carolina. His son, Isaiah, is still living at Brooksburg. The town took its name from Noah Brooks who with Fletcher Tevis laid it out in 1840. The children of Humphrey Brooks were Noah, Mordecai, Wiley, Susan, Mary, Elizabeth and Nancy. All but Wiley remained and died here. Nancy m. Jesse Neal; Elizabeth m. Daniel Neal; Susan m. Samuel Johnson; Mary m. Daniel Larimore.

ROBERT McKAY, born in Shenandoah County, Va., about 1782, was a son of James McKay, a native of Scotland, who left his native land on account of political troubles, and settled in Virginia, where he died. Robert McKay, with his wife, Mary CAIN, and two children, Elizabeth and Isaac, and Joshua Cain, wife and son, left their Virginia home in 1811, for the Indiana Territory. At Pittsburgh, Penn., they built a boat, in which they placed their families and effects, and came down the Ohio River, landing in what is now Craig Township, January 1, 1812. In the war that followed he served with a company of home guards, who were organized for the protection of the families scattered along the river. He succeeded well in life, made a good living, and left a good estate to his children. Twelve other children were born to him in this county, viz: Lewis, Merritt, William, Zachariah, Jonas, Polly, Daniel, Ephriam. Four died in childhood. Mr. McKay died March 5, 1832; Mrs. McKay died in February, 1846. James and Zachariah McKay, brothers of Robert, came to this county in 1811, and also located in what is now Craig, Township, where they lived till their deaths. The latter died in 1836; the former several years later. Zachariah's wife was Sallie LANHAM; Patsy JOHNSON was the wife of James. In 1813 came the mother of the above. Mary (CHEEK) McKay, with her three daughters, Lear, Mary, Nancy, and two sons, Abraham and Moses, and located in the community in which the children who preceded her resided. All of the above became permanent residents except Moses, who lived in Kentucky, and afterward removed to Greensburgh, Ind., where he died. At this writing, 1885, only the descendants of Robert McKay reside in Switzerland County.

GEORGE ASH

Copyright November 2000, Error! Bookmark not defined..

The story of George Ash is the story that good movies are made of-a European child kidnaped by Indians, who fought against whites, and who returned to European society after abandoning an Indian wife; a man who built the oldest house that stands on the northern side of the Ohio between Cincinnati and Louisville; a man perhaps alternately reviled and accepted by his neighbors. Depending on some hard-to-document claims, he was the first or second settler of Switzerland County, and he was definitely the first land owner in Jefferson County.

Ash's story comes from two major sources: an interview that was printed in a Cincinnati newspaper in 1829 and has been relayed second hand and another with different details that was published in the Feb. 24, 1830 edition of the Indiana Republican newspaper. The story was also summarized-with still different details revealed-in a History of Milton Township, written sometime after 1908, probably by William E. Ryker, at one time president of the Jefferson County Historical Society.

Ash gave the following account: His father John Ash settled early near Bardstown, Nelson Co., Ky. Facts condensed from an undated newspaper clipping claim this occurred in 1777. This may be near land the elder Ash later owned on Ash's Creek, purchased on Sept. 10, 1788. (Nelson Co. Deed Book 2 p. 28) In March 1780, ten-year-old Ash, and an unstated number of brothers, and a younger sister were captured by Shawnee Indians. The attack reportedly occurred after Ash, his wife, and infant son Henry, went on a trip to Clarksville, Kentucky (now Louisville), leaving the other children at the stockade. The Indians set fire to the stockade and captured George and a little sister, who had hid under a brush pile.

The size of the family is not known. But it included a brother John Ash Jr., whose will, dated Oct. 29, 1782 in Jefferson County., Kentucky, specifies "if any of my brothers that are now in captivity should return .. they should have an equal part of my estate." (Jefferson Co., Ky., Minute Book A page 56) It has been reported that John was wounded in the attack and died of his wounds, although the will dates do not coincide with the March 1780 capture date. The identities of the Ash captives seem to be given in the August 13,1783 Pennsylvania Gazette, which gives a list of Indian captives as reported by Captain Dalton, the Superintendent of Indian Affairs. He lists Silvester, George, Henry, Abraham, and Isaac Ash as captives in Canada. (This citation was made available on the Web by Bob Francis in July 1998) The 1829 interview says the Indians carried George's sister for two to three days, but they scalped her and left her because she cried and gave them trouble. The other children were transported separately.

After capture, Ash lived on the Big Miami, twenty miles north of Dayton, until General Clark attacked the Indians and burnt the town. The tribe

The story of George Ash is the story that good movies are made of. (Jefferson Co., Ky., Minute Book A page 56) It has been reported that John was wounded in the attack and died of his wounds, although the will dates do not coincide with the March 1780 capture date. He lists Sylvester, George, Henry, Abraham, and Isaac Ash as captives in Canada. (This citation was made available on the Web by Bob Francis in July 1998) The 1829 interview says the Indians carried George's sister for two to three days, but they scalped her and left her because she cried and gave them trouble. The other children were transported separately.

After capture, Ash lived on the Big Miami, twenty miles north of Dayton, until General Clark attacked the Indians and burnt the town. The tribe then moved to St. Mary's and lived there for two years. Ash participated on the Indian side in battles against General St. Clair (November 1791) and Anthony Wayne (1794). His account places Ash at the site of the most critical Indian-United States battles fought in the Northwestern Territory. St. Clair's defeat was a major one for the Americans because 1,100 Americans died, while there were only 35 Indian casualties. Wayne's victory ended much of the Indian threat in Ohio, and gave the United States its first land claims in Indiana following the Greenville treaty.

Ash returned to the white settlement after Wayne's victory, found his father at an unspecified location, but probably in Nelson County, and in dramatic fashion revealed himself. Ash's father had married again and the stepmother wanted no part of George. So after the meeting, Ash crossed the Ohio and pitched a tent opposite the mouth of the Kentucky River between 1795 and 1800, dates given by the Milton Township history. (But the newspaper interview gives no date.)
He traveled to Philadelphia as a member of an Indian deputation and met the president (name not given). The Indians granted Ash a tract as a reward for his services, which he describes as running opposite the mouth of the Kentucky River, four miles in length, and one mile in back, or four square miles. Another accounts says the land stretched from a point opposite the mouth of the Kentucky River to a point opposite the Little Kentucky. Ash's interview suggests that the Indians gave him this land before the Greenville treaty in 1795. He states that when Indian land was ceded to the United States by that treaty the Indians, "neglected to reserve my grant." Historically, the presidential visit occurred before 1800 while the Capitol was in Philadelphia, so it took place either during the administrations of George Washington or John Adams (who took office in 1797).
In the 1829 interview, Ash says that after his capture in March 1780, he spent 17 summers with the Indians. It was at this point that he headed for Fort Pitt and found one of his brothers there, who reported their father was still living in Kentucky. He travelled to Detroit as a guide in the winter (1796?) but before reaching Detroit, he spent the winter with his wife She Bear. In the following spring (1797?), he visited his father and was rejected.
The Historical Society account covers much of the same ground. But its style is so appealing, it bears repeating verbatim, starting after Ash met his brother in Pittsburgh.
"A few months later he proceeded thence, arriving at the home at midnight, and despite his Indian apparel and his very broken English, he was admitted & made welcome by the unsuspecting brother [sic, must mean father], who affirmed that he had yet to refuse lodging to any man. The two sat before a log fire for some time in silence, when the visitor finally drew the old gentleman into conversation, asking vaguely if he had a son George who had been taken by the Indians many years previously. Dazed by the inquiry, the old man replied 'Yes, and he was killed in St. Clair's defeat,' whereupon the son revealed himself to his aged father and daylight dawned before the latter could be convinced of the truth of the circumstances, to further prove which he conceived of the idea of going for his elder son, Henry in the distant neighborhood, first asking George if he would know his brother Henry if he should see him. George with tearful eyes and trembling voice admitted that he probably would not after the lapse of so many years. His father had accumulated a small fortune & was in possession of several negroes, some fine horses and a wife, George's step-mother, which latter however valuable to the father, proved a stumbling block to the son, whose exit followed upon the heels of his arrival."

The newspaper account says Ash then crossed river near the confluence of the Kentucky and Ohio Rivers and made camp. That summer, he traveled to Washington and met the president. Upon his return, he set up his camp near what is now Lamb and proceeded to build a brick home with the aid of Mr. Lamb and an Indian friend.

If you add the 17 years he spent with the Indians to his 1780 capture, you come up with a 1798 construction date for his house. Was the house built in 1798? Possibly, although dates of this area are always tricky and Ash's age is uncertain. There is no doubt that the house is the oldest on the north shore of the Ohio in Southern Indiana between Louisville and Cincinnati. According to its current owner, the house's federal style is similar to the Masterson house across the river in Carrollton. If it was built in 1798, he built it before he married Hannah Combs, because George and Hannah's marriage is recorded in Nelson County, Kentucky, on December. 20, 1800. (This may be the bond date, not the marriage date. Other researchers have placed the marriage date in January 1801.)

An independent source verifies the building's existence in 1820. According to the Historical Society's History of Milton Township, J.H.B. Nowland, the chronicler of early Indianapolis, whose family emigrated from Kentucky in 1820, crossed the Ohio via Ash's ferry and says of the ferryman that "he could scarcely speak a word of English, wore rings in his ears and nose, and dressed in Indian style. 'Although he had a very good house, he had not a chair or bedstead in it, and lived in every way like a savage.'" This history further describes Ash as having a mutilated nose and ears to accommodate ornaments such as silver crosses and "half Moons" with which he lavishly adorned himself.

Two stories reflect the reported hostility against Ash. The History of Milton Township (which does not site its source) continues that, "There existed among the settlers a strong prejudice against Ash and a prevailing suspicion that he had participated in the activities against the whites, some believing that he had been indirectly concerned in the Pigeon Roost Massacre. "A story is told of a fight in which he was surprised and gotten the better of by a much older man. He, with a Mr. Mount and another man were passing the mouth of a certain creek, which empties into the Ohio 'This is where I called a boat in for the Indians by pretending to be in distress.' 'What became of them, asked Mount. 'All went to hell, for all I know,' said Ash, whereupon Mount sprang upon him, bellowing 'I'll send you after them' and beat him until his companion interceded and saved his life.'"

Another account is equally dramatic and is attributed to a Jane Foster, who lived 1823 to 1916. A family was crossing Ash's Ferry to Kentucky when suddenly the wife screamed, "This is the man who scalped me." The husband grabbed a boat hook and rushed George, who jumped overboard and laid low until his passengers had gone on their way.

Whatever his Indian habits, Ash acted like a European. For all the Indian adornment that has been reported, he took a very civilized step in petitioning Congress to get the land the Indians had granted him. Congress denied the petition, first reported in 1802, but said Ash deserved payment for his captivity and granted him a preemption right for 640 acres in 1807. That meant he had the right to stake a claim to the land and pay for it at the prevailing rate. The preemption right basically meant he got the right of first refusal on any unpatented plot he wanted.

He patented 435.62 acres in Section 17 Twp. 3N Range 12E and Section 16, along with fractional section 21 on April 1808. Robert McKay patented the same fractional Section 17 later that year. Since Ash sold land in the section, it seems perhaps he and McKay reached an accommodation (or the reports of the patents are wrong). It is sometimes reported that Congress did not grant his request. However, a deed from Ash and wife Hannah cites the Act of Congress when they sold 200 acres to Isaac Miles on July 19, 1814. (Jefferson Co. Deed Book A p. 41) Another deed shows the Ashes' land spanned the county lines. They sold 190.5 acres to Levi Craig on Dec. 1, 1815. (Jefferson Co. Deed Book A p. 41) This land was in Section 17 and fractional section 20 (both in Jefferson Co.) and fractional section 21 (in Switzerland Co.) Twp. 3N Range 12E.

Ash operated a ferry, which could have been used by the first settlers, although his ferry did not get official approval before Charles Kilgore was granted a license between Port William (now Carrollton) and Indiana early in 1805. The earliest evidence of Ash's ferry comes on April 13, 1811 (Ash had a license 1809 in Clark Co., according to researcher Ginny Reeves who was unable to give the exact citation) when he was taxed in Jefferson County.

In his heart, was Ash European or Indian? Contemporary accounts say he dressed and spoke like an Indian. Nevertheless, he was European enough to petition Congress, and use official documents. And he became a Methodist who deeded land for the Spring Branch Baptist Church. Although some settlers bore him ill will, blaming him for attacks by Indians, the Indiana Republican interviewer wrote that "His neighbors, however, informed me that these prejudices and suspicions have died away." In many ways, Ash's behavior resembles that of immigrants who Anglicize their names and adopt American customs in order to be accepted.

He left his Indian wife and married a European one, and was intent on finding his family. The conclusion that he copied the style of the Masterson house-to prove himself European-is hard to resist.

As with many pioneers, Ash's age remains a mystery. His account that he was 10 when he was captured in 1780, places his birth at 1769 or 1770. His tombstone shows that he died on Oct. 31, 1850 at the age of 95, which puts his birth around 1755. The 1850 census of Switzerland County appears to put his age at 99, and the variance is no worse than for many other settlers of the same era. His wife Hannah died in 1837 in the 63rd year of her life. Their two children are also buried in the family cemetery, Eliza Norman Ash, who lived 1810 to 1817 and drowned in the river, and son George Colonel Ash, who lived 1812 to 1872. George C.'s wife Caroline Ash, (1816-1888) is also buried in the family cemetery. His will in Switzerland Co. names his son as the only heir. Ash's will names only his son George C. Ash. However, there was an Evan Ash, born in 1802, who owned land only three or four miles to the north of George's property. It seems possible Evan was a son not mentioned in the will, but there is no proof.

(I owe a great debt to Steve Huffman, current owner of the Ash house for providing me the 1829 account and information on the Ash cemetery. The Indiana Republican interview is available on microfilm at the Madison Public Library. The History of Milton Township is available in the library files and I have also transcribed in on my computer.)

Jefferson County: First Visitors and First Settlers

Copyright 2000 by Robert W. Scott
BobWScott@aol.com

The first visitors to Jefferson County were probably trappers and accidental visitors. French explorers came down the Ohio in the late 1600 and French trappers entered the region at least by the 1700s. English Pennsylvania trappers were roaming the Midwest in the 1740s. Others would pass by what became Jefferson Co. George Rogers Clark and his company came down the river in 1778 on the way to Louisville. Also, because Milton, Ky., was founded in 1789, it's hard not to believe that residents ventured across the river, which was often passable in the summer in the days before dams raised the water level year round.

However, the first documented European visit came on May 23, 1791 when General Charles Scott and a mounted company of 852 men crossed the river five miles below the mouth of the Kentucky River at Battle Creek, which may have been an older name for the Indian-Kentuck Creek. A 1925 article by J.W. Whickour, based on contemporary accounts, says the company marched through Switzerland, Jefferson, Jennings, and other counties on their way to Indian villages on the Wabash. In 1793, two teenagers, John and Peter Smock, were captured by Indians in Shelby Co., Ky. An 1874 account by their nephew John Smock says that pursuers trailed the Indians to the Ohio river. The Indians cross the river at Clifty Creek and stayed for three days on the present courthouse site.

Another early visitor was probably George Ash, kidnaped in Nelson Co., Ky., and raised as an Indian. Ash settled near Lamb between 1795 and 1800. The Indians gave him a land grant which was not recognized by the Greenville Treaty of 1795. However, Congress gave him the right to claim 640 acres. Although Ash lived in Switzerland Co., the land he received under this claim extended into Milton Twp. There was also a road cut by Captain E. Kibbey from Cincinnati to Versailles, which may have been completed in1799, 1801, 1802, or later. Accounts made years later say the road ran through Jefferson and Switzerland Counties.

The next documented visitor was George Logan in 1801, according to an 1885 publication. That same book also cites Col. John Ryker as the first permanent settler of Jefferson Co. in 1804 in the Eagles Springs area of what would become Ryker's Ridge. According to John Smock, John Ryker's sister Rachel and her husband Samuel Smock (John Smock's parents), sister Deborah and her husband Mason Watts, and their brother Samuel Ryker crossed the Ohio and Corn Creek and settled near Hanover in 1805. (Samuel Ryker may have moved back to Kentucky, returning in 1810.)

The Rev. Jesse Vawter and family, the Underwoods, Branhams, and Ralph Griffin and other families, mainly from Woodford Co., Ky., moved to Indiana in the fall of 1806, apparently settling near modern Fairmount Cemetery, where they founded the Crooked Creek Baptist Church in 1807. Also in 1807, William and son John Hall, settled on bottom lands, in what became the small town of Fulton and later part of Madison. This land is located in the most eastern part of Madison adjoining the Ohio.

George Ash patented the first land in Jefferson Co.--435.62 acres in Section 17 Twp. 3N Range 12E and Section 16, along with fractional section 21 on April 1808. Robert McKay of Shenandoah Co., Va., patented the same land on Oct. 19, 1808. This land is in Milton Twp. and borders Switzerland Co. on the East and the Ohio River on the southwest corner. (Since both McKay and Ash later sold land in Section 17, it's possible neither man prevailed in claiming the entire tract.)

Canaan Cemetery

Canaan

Section 16, Township 5 North, Range 11E
Shelby Township, Jefferson County, Indiana

Established 1812
Burial site of Revolutionary and Civil War Soldiers.
Former location of Canaan Methodist Church.
Land acquired and cemetery restored by Indian-Kentuck Baptist Church in 1963.

The names and dates recorded were taken directly off the stones if the stone was readable; if the dates were not readable, I used the 1941 D.A.R. record. I completed this record on Jan. 23, 2000. There were about 41 stones that were unreadable. There were 22 names on the D.A.R. list that I couldn't find so some of them were apparently among the ones that were unreadable now. One stone was upside down & I couldn't read it, I am assuming it is one that is on the D.A.R. list also. I am including (at the end of my list) the names that were on the D.A.R. list of 1941 but that I couldn't find.

Former location of Canaan Methodist Church.
Land acquired and cemetery restored by Indian-Kentuck Baptist Church in 1963.

The names and dates recorded were taken directly off the stones if the stone was readable; if the dates were not readable, I used the 1941 D.A.R. record. I completed this record on Jan. 23, 2000. There were about 41 stones that were unreadable. There were 22 names on the D.A.R. list that I couldn't find so some of them were apparently among the ones that were unreadable now. One stone was upside down & I couldn't read it. I am assuming it is one that is on the D.A.R. list also. I am including (at the end of my list) the names that were on the D.A.R. list of 1941 but that I couldn't find.

MORRISTOWN MESSENGER

Eunice McKay Dies Monday

Mrs. Eunice M. McKay, 77, of near Rushville and a former resident of the Morristown area, died at 11:40 a.m. Monday at Rush County Memorial Hospital in Rushville.

Services were held at the Moster and Sons Mortuary in Rushville at 2:00 p.m. Wednesday, with Rev. James Ranard officiating. Burial was in Concord Cemetery in Shelby County.

Mrs. McKay was born in Hancock County and was the daughter of James H. and Sally (Matlock) Colestock. She was a member of the First Baptist Church in Rushville and a life member of the Freeport Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service. Her husband, John H. McKay, died Dec. 5, 1951. Mrs. McKay had lived in Rush County for the past 20 years and in the Morristown area for 35 years previously.

Survivors are one son, James McKay of near Rushville; one sister, Mrs. Ruth Clary, and two grandchildren.

Notes for FRANCIS MARION ROUS:
Obituary as published in Vevay Newspaper

Obituary
Francis M. Rous

Francis M. Rous, the eldest son of Captain and Mrs. Mary P. Roous, was born in Vevay on Sept. 23, 1839 and died April 29, 1922. He lacked but a few days of rounding out 83 years of life. He boyhood was spent in this city and all his life within the confines of the county.

He bacame a Mason in 1862, joining the lodge at Bennington and remained a member until his death, being one of the county's oldest Masons in point of years of service.

In early manhood he joined the Methodist Church and loyally kept the faith thence-forward

On November 3, 1862 he married Amelia F. Stewart and she with two children, Louis P. Rous, of Vevay and Mrs. India V. Hizer of Aurora survive him. Another daughter Nannie E. died some years ago.

In the presence of death words are futile things if they are used only to extol the virtues of the departed or give expression of a grief which is at once natural and universal. But if we draw a lesson for the living from the records of the dead then, and then only, do we find justification for what may be uttered here.

What makes up the sum total of true manhood?

Is it place or power? Pomp or show?

Nay, none of these. Faith, Kindliness, Forbearance, Industry, Incorruptible honesty. Devotion to vamily and friends. A willingness to share uncomplainingly all the vicissitudes of life--from the cradle to the grave--these are the things that make a man. And measured by all these tests Francis M. Rous was a man. He lived close to nature and there he learned, as it is nowhere else to be learned, fixedness of purpose, serenity of soul, and a superb and supreme confidence in the beauty and righteousness of life altogether.

He did not rail at fate, nor question that his place in life was what he chose to make it. When he came to man's estate he gladly accepted a man's duties and a man's responsibilities, completely performed a man's work and was content with its rewards. How much more can be said of any human being. True, some mens lives are cast in places where responsibility to their fellow men give varying degrees of opportunity for public service, but within the boson of his family one man may be as truly a nobleman and gentleman as another. Cast in a mold of true gentility, trained to respect the right and opinions of others, our friend was none the less tenacious of his own. He believed and lived by the docrine of the square deal. It is doubtful if he had an enemy in all the world and when we can say this with truth of a man who has lived in the full light of day for more than four score years within a circumscribed locality, what greater tribute can we pay him? Here a man's weaknesses and a man's faults, if he has any will find him out. Not only do they find him out but it is a lamentable trait of humanity to magnify and multiply them. The record of human frailities is almost always unfair to the subject.

Therefore, it is worthy of remark that it is sometimes possible, as is the case here, for a man to live fully and leave naught of bitterness behind. And when the end shall come--as it must come to each and all--no greater boon can be vouchsafed to any man that that he shall lie down and die in the bosom of his family, that his eyes shall vision for their last conscious sight the old familiar scenes, the spots which in infancy, manhood and old age, he has known and loved. When a man goes to "Join the innumerable caravan" there is no port from which he can more safely sail than from under his own roof, sheltered by the branches of his own trees and with farwells nodded to him by his own flowers.

Death under these circumstances is sublime.

Beyond sublimity we may not go.

About FamilySearch Pedigree Resource File:
The Pedigree Resource File is a new lineage linked database of records available on compact disc containing family history records submitted by individuals through FamilySearch Internet Genealogy Service. Family information is organized in family groups and pedigrees and includes submitted notes and sources. Many charts and reports can be printed from this data. Each disc contains about 1.1 million names. With the publication of every five discs, a master index for those discs will be published and packaged with that set of discs. With the publication of every 25 discs, a master index for those discs will also be published and packaged with that volume of discs. Discs may be purchased as sets or volumes.

Please Note:
Submitter information is provided to help in the coordination of personal family history research. Use of this information for any other purpose, including marketing, advertising, or commercial solicitation, is strictly prohibited.

Siebenthal Family Records

I have no written history on the Dufours. We do know that they stayed in the Vaud Canton in Switzerland as far back as 1597. The birth record says, "Adam son of Jacques Dufour of Sales." Sales is a village in the Vaud Canton.

The record concering the early Siebenthal family has been translated from the "TURM BUCH" and "CHOR GERIGHTS MANUELE" which reside in the archives of Saanen, Bern Switzerland. About fifty prominent families of Saanenland have been written about in the book, Landshaft Saanen.

Herzog (Duke) Berchtold IV allocated the Simmental Valley to three Septem (Seven) Barons in 1175. All of the Siebenthals that I know of in the United States come from Johannes de Septem (Seven) Vallibus (Valley). Johannes migrated from the Ober Simmental Valley to Gruben Bei Gstaad where he gave the Gstaad Chapel 100 pounds on July 1, 1511. Johannes was now living in a German speaking area and changed his name to Johannes Von Siebenthal.

The Siebenthal who is my ancestor moved to the Canton of Vaud, a French speaking Canton and married Susanne Ester Chapallay, a French speaking Swiss woman. After two generations the Siebenthals changed their name once again to Jean de Siebenthal. The Von and De comes from Nobility, not of or from as commonly understood by these words.

A copy of the Siebenthal Coat of Arms hangs in the History Museum in Bern, Bern Switzerland.

-Charles Siebenthal.

hx Switzerland Co 1885

ISAAC McKAY, farmer of Craig Township, is one of the well known and highly respected citizens of this county. He is the eldest son and second child of Robert McKay, and was born in Shenandoah County, Va., March 28, 1810. He was not yet two years old when his parents, in midwinter, penetrated into the unexplored wilds of the Indiana Territory. Amid forest scenes his childhood was passed, and without the privilege of a school or the aid of a teacher to instruct him in the rudiments of learning, unaided he learned to read and write after attaining his majority (sic), and made himself competent to intelligently transact ordinary business. He was married to Ann, daughter of John SHAW, in 1834. For eight years succeeding this event, he lived upon the old homestead, after which located on his present farm where he has since resided. He very creditably filled the office of justice of the peace for five years, and served as trustee two terms, discharging the duties of each to the satisfaction of all. He and his estimable wife have been members of the Christian Church many years and are, and always have been, much interested in all Christian and charitable works. Nine children have been born to them, five of whom are living, viz.: John, George, Isaac, William and Anna; Margaret, Elizabeth, Mary J. and Archibald are deceased. Mrs. McKay was born in Paisley, Scotland, in 1810.

Braytown Christian Church (Craig Twp., Switzerland Co.)

The Braytown Christian Church was organized in the 1830/40s by Rev. R.B. Roberts of Kentucky, according to the History of Switzerland Co. (p. 1151.) However, the church did not receive the deed for its property until Oct. 18, 1893 when Henry J. Barber and wife, Sarah, deeded part of the SW1/4 Section 19 Twp. 2N Range 2W to the trustees. (Switzerland Co. Deed Book 15 p. 499)

The Switzerland County History lists the first members as David and Hannah Trowbridge, William H. and Eliza Ann Roberts, Eveline Harvey, Mrs. Abba Lamson, Mary Lamson, Abigail Lamson, Clarissa Golay, Lucy Haskell, Rachel Buchanan, Phoebe Banta and Elizabeth Cotton and others. Rachel Buchanan is probably Rachel Short Buchanan, whose father Jacob Short, was a founding member of Manville Christian Church. Rachel, her husband John Buchanan and Short are buried at Old Bethel Cemetery. The original Braytown membership probably dates from shortly after December 1838 when the Buchanans purchased land in Craig Township on the Versailles-Vevay Road after moving from Milton Township. The Switzerland Co. History lists first ministers as Rev. Beverly Vawter, L.H. Jameison (sic), Henry Movity and Charles Lanham. Trustees elected on June 27, 1873 were Isaac McKay Sr., William F. Detraz and George H. Haskell.

Bravtown Christian Church (Craig Twp., Switzerland Co.)

The Bravtown Christian Church was organized in the 1830/40s by Rev. R.E. Roberts of Kentucky, according to the History of Switzerland Co. (p. 1151.) However, the church did not receive the deed for its property until Oct. 15, 1895 when Henry J. Barber and wife, Sarah, deeded part of the SW1/4 Section 19 Twp. 2N Range 2W to the trustees. (Switzerland Co. Deed Book 15 p. 459)

The Switzerland County History lists the first members as David and Hannah Trowbridge, William H. and Eliza Ann Roberts, Evelina Harvey, Mrs. Abba Lamson, Mary Lamson, Abigail Lamson, Clarissa Colay, Lucy Haskell, Rachel Buchanan, Phoebe Bunta and Elizabeth Cotton and others. Rachel Buchanan is probably Rachel Short Buchanan, whose father Jacob Short, was a founding member of Manville Christian Church. Rachel, her husband John Buchanan and Short are buried at Old Bethel Cemetery. The original Bravtown membership probably dates from shortly after December 1838 when the Buchanans purchased land in Craig Township on the Versailles-Vevay Road after moving from Milton Township. The Switzerland Co. History lists first ministers as Rev. Beverly Vawter, L.H. Jameison (sic), Henry Mowity and Charles Lanham. Trustees elected on June 27, 1875 were Jesse McKay Sr., William F. Deters and George H. Haskell.

FLEMING J. SIEBENTHAL, miller, Long Run, was born in Vevay, December 28, 1837. He was reared on the farm and in the mill. In 1864 he enlisted in Company G, One Hundred and Thirty-ninth Indiana Volunteer Infantry, a 100 days regiment, and was chosen as captain of his company. His term of service was passed in Kentucky. In February, 1865, he re-enlisted in Company E, One Hundred and Forty-sixth Indiana Volunteer Infantry, and was chosen first lieutenant. Served in Virginia and Maryland till the war was over. He was married to Sarah, daughter of John W. HOWARD, November 29, 1871, who has borne him six children, five of whom are living, viz.: Orlena, Bessie, Mamie, Edgar and Earnest. Helen, the fourth child, deceased. Mr. S. is operating a flour-mill, which occupies the site of one of the original mills of the county. He is a Republican.

e Switzerland County Paper June 19, 1952 By Martha nes

Time In Your Flight, Make me a Child Again Just For night."--Whittier.

am writing a short history of two among the oldest oneers of Switzerland County, Indiana, the Ramseyer's and e Hawkin's. Jacob Ramseyer and his wife Mary had four ns, were born in Switzerland, and crossed the Atlantic ean and landed in 1812. Two boys having died on the ship d were buried at sea. Daniel and George arrived with em at New York. They bought a farm in Craig Township, itzerland County, Indiana, from the government. Here is a py of the old deed made in 1821: James Monroe, President the United States : To all whom these presents, to l come greetings: Know ye that Jacob Ramseyer, of itzerland County, having deposited in the General Land fice of Cincinnati, A certificate of the register land fice, in whereby it appears full payment has been made for e southwest quarter of section 9, township 2, range 3, st of the meridian line drawn from the mouth of the Great ami River, containing one hundred and fifty-seven acres, enty hundreths of the land directed to be sold at ncinnati, by the Act of Congress, entitled and Act oviding the sale of the lands in United States in the rritory west of the Ohio and above the mouth of the ntucky River, and the acts amendatory of the same. Where granted by the United States unto the said Jacob mseyer, the quarter lot on sections of land above and scribed to have and to hold. The said quarter lot or ction of land with appurtences, of the same Jacob mseyer, his heirs and assigns forever. In testimony where have caused these letters to be made patent and the State the General Land Office, Hereunto Affixed. Given under hand at the city of Washington, the second day of May in e Year of Our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and enty-One, and of the Independence of the United States of erican the fourty-fifth President. James Monroe corded, Volume page 591 Josiah Meigo, Commissioner of the neral Land Office.

acob was born 1702. And married Mary Bearfoot. Jacob mseyer, wife and two boys settled on the farm they bought.
niel was born 1797, April 4th and died at the age of 78 ars, 4 months, and 10 days. The land was in a wilderness ere the deer and wolves roamed the forest. They went to rk to cut timber to build a house. The farm is located in aig Township, Ind., on a hill; a beautiful scenery in nter and in summer; one mile from State Road 129. Daniel, e oldest son of Jacob and Mary Ramseyer was united in rriage to Martha Hawkins of Switzerland County and to them re born 11 children, Frederick, Philip, Obediah, John, seph, and Peter, three girls, Martha, Linda, Eliza; Vivean d Lidda dying in infancy. They built a huge log house, o stories with an attic where they kept papers for future ference. The cellar is as large as the house and walled with stone. A huge chimney at the end has stood many a orm for over 135 years and is in good condition.
niel Ramseyer was noted for his honesty. He was of a kind sposition, always ready to lend a helping hand to the sick d needy. He was a fine carpenter and a shoemaker. At rst he made wooden shoes. They slipped on like a house ipper. In later years when they could get leather he made oes for the whole family of 11. He was never idle. When wasn't working he would read and his penmanship was the st. He was a surveyor for many years and Trustee of Craig wnship. They raised everything to eat and stored it in e cellar for winter. They canned their blackberries in one jugs. He farmed the land with oxen. In later years ey had horses and cattle and sheep. A short distance from e homestead is the old family cemetery on the brink of the ll overlooking Pendelton Run, where the old pioneers are ried. Not far from the cemetery is an Indian Mound, one the largest in the County overlooking Indian Creek where e had their burial and camping ground. Pendelton run is the north. In olden times there was a peddler who made ips up and down. He was murdered supposedly by the dians. His name was Pendleton and from that day until now has been called Pendleton Run, a large stream of water at flows into Indian Creek. Indian Creek derived its name om the Indians having their camping grounds on each side they could watch for the white man. There is a deer lick st above the Knox Ford where the deer would go to drink d the men would take their guns and wait for them and kill em for their meat. On the same farm, formerly known as e Scott farm up Abe's Branch is another deer lick, a ream of water that flows into Indian Creek. Abe's Branch rived it's name from an old man who lived there in olden mes by the name of Abe. In January, 1838, Daniel bought account book where he kept a record of his income and penses. In 1855, he was sworn in as Director of Craig wnship, going to Braytown in District no. 6. Here are a w of his records out of two or three hundred. He kept a cord from 1838 until 1873. Philip Ramseyer to Daniel mseyer, 40 weeks of board at 75 cts. a week. 30 days work ne by Obediah Ramseyer at the same time in and about the op, 50 cts. a day. Philip bought 54 lbs. of beef at 3 1/2

s. a lb., and a dozen hens for $2.00, I sold 14 1/2 lbs.
ginseng for $3.62 cts.: sold 2 raccoons and 17 rabbit ins for $1.12 cts. I bought 6 1/2 acres of land from Tom yton for $5.00 an acre. Samuel Leep, one day's work ying the foundation for his house $6.29cts. a day. Mr.
use bought books for Mt. Sterling school no. 2 and 3, ing to Mt. Sterling 1/2 day to settle up, received $1.37
s. Had a note on Peter Vanbriggle $6.29 cts., George rdy $47.20, Richard Lamson $5.20, Edward Ridgeway $8.12, muel Ridgeway for $14.25. I sold to Charles Clements, a an horse, received $2.00 in cash and a note. Benjeman ebenthal, one day work for masonry, 62 1/2 cts., William indley 3 1/2 days work, masonry $2.00. Samuel Leep for aving 15 1/2 yards of jeans $1.87 cts. August, 1871 arles Cramer bought a steer and one heifer for $40.00;
ld John Ridgeway a hog, $5.00; George Oakley 4 shoats for
.00; for weaving 13 1/2 yards of jeans,15 3/4 yds. of ankets, making 29 3/4 yds in all for $3.65. In 1866 I rveyed the road leading from Carrollton to Versailles and the road from Lost Fork, Brayton to the river and I rveyed the Madison and Lawrenceburg road to the county ne for $20.00. September 28, 1868 the Vevay and orefield Turnpike Co., surveyed 2 3/4 days for $5.00.
en Trustee for Craig Township he had the care of the poor rm. One visit to the poor farm was 25 cts. He made all e caskets for those who died there and if he assisted in lping dig the graves, was $1.50. So you see the fference in those days and now. Daniel Ramseyer's other, George who built a house just a short distance from m decided to go west and never came back here to live.
rtha Hawkins was born March 19, 1803. She was born in a g cabin on Indian Creek in the cabin which was just above e house that is there now on the farm formerly known as e William Scott farm. She was united in marriage to niel Ramseyer, December 29, 1825, died in 1924 at the age 90 years, 10months, and 5 days. She was the daughter of hn and Massa Truax Hawkins. To them were born four girls d three boys. Obediah, John, Anthony, Martha, Massa, llie, and Eliza. To the four sisters were born 45 ildren. Martha and Daniel lived in the old homestead eir entire life of 90 years and more. Grandmother climbed over the house, went up on one side and down over the her. She was a wonderful mother and grandmother; always d to work hard to raise their family. They raised sheep get the wool which was dyed and spun into yarn which made l their clothing. She had her spinning wheel upstairs and ve everything, carpet and clothing and bedspreads. I have beautiful bedspread that the Ramseyer girls wove when they re at home, Martha, Linda, and Eliza. It is woven of red, ite, and blue and has a fringe around it. They wove 12

d this is the only one that is left and is in perfect ndition, over 90years old. I am very proud of it. When andmother wasn't weaving she would be piecing quilt blocks d gave them to the grandchildren. I have the basket she pt her quilt blocks in. When Jacob Ramseyer and family me from Switzerland they brought silk worms with them and pt them in the cellar. I have forgotten what they fed em to produce the silk which was woven into cloth and made to garments which they said could hardly wear out. They re on the order of a spider, like it weaves its web. They re a great care and my mother said she was glad when andmother disposed of them for they were always crawling ound. Grandmother Ramseyer was very fond of her children. her declining years when my Aunt and Uncle would have to away the grandchildren would go and stay with her. My nt would fix dinner on the table with everything good to t and spread a cloth over it and hide the matches so andmother couldn't start a fire. She said we played hard d ought to have a warm dinner. We would all sit down and e would laugh and joke with us and we though we had the ppiest time of our life. But alas! There are not many to t at the table now. Nettie Hawkins married Joseph Brown.
ey lived on the farm now owned by Mr. Harmon. They lived a log house and reared a large family of children, all of om are deceased. Julia Brown McKay who had a milliner op in Vevay was the descendant. The old folks are buried the side of the road that goes up Indian Creek, on the ft as you go up off State Road 129. Two cedar trees mark e burial place. Massa Hawkins married Daniel Konkle and them were born a large family of children all of whom are ceased. They lived on a farm that joined the Ramseyer rm and died there and were buried at Zion Chapel. Those ft in the fourth generation are Andrew Konkle, Mrs. John berts and sister Julia of North Webster, In and Mrs. llie Dow of Abe's Branch. Eliza Hawkins married Peter nbriggle and they reared a large family of children, all ceased. They lived on a farm now owned by the Schenk irs. There are no buildings of any kind; nothing to mind you of the Vanbriggle farm but the old cemetery is in ir condition and some of the monuments still stand.
thony Hawkins married Pruda Adams of Long Run. To them re born six children, three girls and three boys, Anna, mie, Pruda, Edward, Walter, and Amy. Anna married Samuel ck, of Vevay, to them were born two sons, Anthony and lter. Anthony passed away one year ago in Florida.
lter and his family reside in Connersville, In; the only
the farm now owned by Mrs. Lillie Dow of Abe's Branch.
the Vanbriggle family are Bert Weales, of Columbus, In, ank Weales of Connersville, in, and Harry and Clara ales who reside in Vevay, In, all of the descendants of e Vanbriggle family. There was a schoolhouse on the nbriggle place where the Ramseyer's and Hawkin's and nbriggle's went to school together. They all went to nday School and Church at Zion Chapel in a stone school use that burned down last spring, before the church was ilt. I must tell you what a brave woman my grandmother wkins was. She lived in a log cabin on Indian Creek where rtha Ramseyer was born. She went to the creek down at ox's Ford to wash; no cisterns or wells. She built up a re to heat the water and they washed on a rock, no shboards yet. She heard her little dogs bark; she looked see it was a wolf. She screamed and seeing the fire ared him away. She had two little children with her.
other time they had moved on a farm near up near the mseyer place now owned by Curtis Brock, in a log cabin th one room and a big fireplace to cook by and had a apboard loft and a quilt hung up for a door. One night andfather had to be away. About dark she heard the wolves wling around nearby. There wasn't anything to do but get e boards down from the loft, get them on fire and throw em outside and they would run back. All night long she d to do that to protect herself and the children. When it t daylight she did not see any of them around. A short stance from the house they had killed a yearling heifer d eaten it. What a brave old lady. Later they moved to a rm on Pendleton Run up on the hillside near Vanbriggle nt and took care of them Brindley. They lived to be very d and Grandmother became an invalid and my mother and rtha Vanbriggle went and took care of them until they died d as far as any one now knows they are buried in the nbriggle cemetery nearby. This was taken from the History Tipton and Howard Counties, Published in 1883: Frederick mseyer the present surveyor of Tipton County, was born in itzerland County, November 5, 1826. His parents were niel and Martha Hawkins Ramseyer. His father, Daniel, me to this country in 1813 and died in Switzerland County, ant the age of 78. He was a native of the Republic of itzerland in Europe, and was a nephew of the celebrated rshall Murat of France. His, Fred's mother, is still ving at the age of 81 years. Fred is the oldest of a mily of 11 children, eight of whom are still living. He s reared of a farm and when he had reached his 20th year enlisted in the Third Regiment, Indiana Volunteers, for e Mexican War. He served one year, and during that time rticipated in The Battle Of Beuna Vista and served minor gagements and returned home in July 1, 1847. After this, spent his time in teaching and traveling until the year 56 when he was united in marriage to Miss Adelia Heaton, ughter of Joseph W. Heaton, of Howard County, Ind. Fred moved to the Township of Prairie in Tipton County in the ar 1859 and located on the farm he now owns, one-half les west of Groomsville, Ind., which ten was a comparative lderness. by persistent effort and close economy he has cceeded in accumulating this home. As a citizen, he is iversally esteemed and possesses a large circle of iends. He has always been a democrat and was elected in 82 to the office of surveyor, the duties of which he is w discharging. 89 years ago Frederick Ramseyer was Post ster at Groomsville. He and Adelia were the parents of ght children as follows: Oscar V., born 1857, died 1937.

was married to Emily Peters and they were parents of ree sons, Pearl W., Carl and Raleigh, all were in service World War 2. All three are deceased. His first wife ed and later he married Cora Hoover who survives. He has e great-grandchild , two grandchildren, Catherine and ily, daughters of Carl. Flora died in 1942. She was rried to Richard Rayl, no children. Edgar, born 1861, ed 1941. He was married to Lula Stoops, died in 1944, tive of Switzerland County. They were the parents of two ildren, Maude, who married Ozy R. Quakenbush and Ray rried Chloe Coombs, Maude and Ozy, parents of Olas akenbush, Maxine Nash and Madonna Alderson, Ray and Chloe, rents of one child , Ned Ramseyer of Wisconsin: Ray ceased. Philip Ramseyer, farmer and blacksmith of Prairie wnship of Tipton County was born in Switzerland County, d., December 19, 1827 and is the second in a family of 11 ildren born to Daniel and Martha (Hawkins) Ramseyer. In e year of 1848 Philip came to Tipton County, then known as e Indian Reserve, on a prospecting tour, but made not rchases. In 1853 he returned and settled in Howard unty, Ind. He remained here about 14 years, working at s trade, that of a blacksmith, and manufactured the first eaking plow ever made in the county. In order to learn s trade he, at the age of 17, hired to Wm. Malcombson.
th him he worked four years before setting up for himself.
ter residing for the time mentioned in Howard County, He ld his interest there, removing to Prairie Township, pton County and purchased 40 acres of land situated in e woods which he has cleared and put in a fine state of ltivation. He still works at his trade at he makes about 00.00 per year, while his sons manage the farm. He was rried Dec. 31, 1855 to Miss Eunice A. Robey, a native of diana. They are the parents of five children, Etta, Guy, il, Archie and Frances. James married Lou Miller, two ildren, Paul and Doyle Ramseyer. Cebern married Stella ackamore, three children, Joe, Sam and Eunice Higgins, sper married Ida Woods, two children, Bryan and Omer. ura married Clinton Connor, no children. Arthur and ctory in Shelbyville for 11 years. Ray resides at home th his parents. Indiana LeClerc, the oldest daughter of nda Ramseyer Leep was born November 3, 1861 at Halls anch in Craig Township, Switzerland County. Her school ys were spent in the school there, graduated from the mmon Schools and The Commencement was held in the Old ademy at Moorefield, Ind. She was united in marriage to ward Leclerc, of Indian Creek. To them were born four ildren. Everett, Mattie, Jesse and Frank. Everett, the dest son married Frances Mcfarland, To them was born one n, Leon. Leon was in World War II and served as a ratrooper and was killed. He married Ruth Martin, of rora, Ind., and had one son Douglas. He was brought back me and buried at Aurora where his wife and son reside.

erett resides in Mt. Sterling with his mother. Mattie, e only daughter of Indiana LeClerc was born on Indian eek. Her school days were spent at Zion Chapel School use. She was married to Leonard Macfarland. To them was rn one son, A.W. the father having passed away recently e resides with her son in Mountain View, Calif. Jesse Clerc, second son of Indiana, was born on Indiana Creek d went to school there in the old stone school house that rned down last summer. He is a fine carpenter. He was ited in marriage to Nell Garret of Waldron, In. To them s born one son, Bobby who married Eleanor Buchanan. They ve one son, Bobby Wayne and they reside in Vevay, In.

ank, the youngest son was born on Indian Creek and moved Cross Plains. He died there and was brought back and ried in Vevay Cemetery. The father passed away several ars ago. Martha, the youngest daughter of Linda Ramseyer ep was born October 25, 1873 in a stone house on Halls anch, which is still standing. My school days were spent that school. I graduated in the common schools and the mmencement was held in the old academy at Moorefield, In. er 60 years ago. There were nine graduates from our hool. Only four are living. Jennie Thiebaud, of near vay, Mrs. Mary Haskell of near Moorefield, In, LeClerc of . Sterling and Martha Hines, of near Vevay, In. I was ited in marriage to John Hines, April 5, 1893. John was rn in Craig Township, January 1, 1867. He was reared on a rm and was a hard worker and enjoyed raising tobacco, his vorite crop. But one year ago the 6th of September,1950:
e ties in our home was broken, The voice we loved is illed. A place is vacant in our home, Which can never be lled. To us were born twin boys, one dying in infancy, e other Loren. Although I am left alone I think I have a nderful son I can depend upon. Loren was born the 18th of ptember, 1894 in Jefferson Township. He was reared on a rm. His early school days were on Indian Creek and from ere he entered high school in Vevay, In. and graduated in 13. He united with the Methodist Church in Vevay. He tended college one year at Moores Hill, In in 1914.
terwards he was united in marriage to Hazel Jean Richards, ughter of Emma and Isaac Richards, of Mt. Sterling, in. e taught in the Vevay schools and Mt. Sterling for many ars. They have no children. Loren was an agent for the andard Oil Company for 17 years and decided to quit. He ught a farm and now raises Hereford cattle in which he has ch interest. I must say to relatives and friends who have ns in Korea that we all sympathize with them in this war rn world of ours. In this day of grief and sorrow there a verse in one of Longfellow's Poems that I think is a mfort to us all. Be still, sad heart, and cease pining, Behind the clouds, is the sun still shining.
y fate is the common fate of all, Into each life some in must fall, Some days must be dark and dreary.
-Longfellow Joseph Ramseyer, the fifth son of Daniel and rtha Ramseyer, was born February 28, 1842 and died at the r two terms. He was in In Co. E. 146th Ind., Infantry, A.R. Post, Vevay. He was united in marriage to Katherine ward, daughter of John Howard. To them were born six ildren, Frederick, Clara, John, Martha, Thomas, and ward. Frederick, the oldest son was a soldier in the anish American War. He came back home and died of a fever ntracted in the war. Frederick and Clara preceded the ther and father in death. Martha was united in marriage William Morrison and resides on a farm near Mt. Sterling, . To them were born two daughters, Eva and Mary therine. Eva married Oliver Gurley. Mary Katherine rried Melvell Wiley and they have two sons. They live on farm near Mt. Sterling. John, the second son was married d had one daughter. The mother passed away many years

o. John resided on a farm on Plum Creek. Thomas Ramseyer rried Bertha Morrison and they live on a farm on Parks
dge. To them were born seven children, namely Lewis, bert, Gerald, Evelyn, Merriam, Katherine, and J B. Lewis rried Ida Florence and have three children. Merriam rried Frank Romans and they have three children, Jean, hn, and Robert. Katherine married John Jones and have one ughter, Kay. J B married Norma Hatton; they have three ildren, two daughters and one son, Linda, Jackie, and omas. Edward Ramseyer, the fourth son of Joseph nseyer was united in marriage to Hallie Morrison and lives a farm on Tapps Ridge. To them were born seven ughters, namely, Jaunita, Helen, Katherine, Jeanette dying infancy. Jaunita, who married Everett O' Day lives on a rm near Vevay. To them were born two children, a son by a rmer marriage, Nelson Graham, still single at home and is employee at the Jefferson Proving Grounds, and on ughter who married Alfred Adkins and resides at rsailles, In. They have two boys, Tommie and Jimmie, a n Mickel died at the age of 2 1/2 years. Helen Ramseyer rried Augustus Bumen and they have one daughter, Mary ice who married Raymond Gaudin. They have two children, rnard and Joseph, and reside in Vevay. Katherine, who rried Welby Jester, died at the age of 27, leaving three ildren. Welby, Jr., married Leo Browning and they have o children, Nancy and Edward. William now missing in rea, married Betty Leep and has one child, Linda. Hilda n married john Lock; Donna and Patricia Jewel. Vivian, e youngest daughter of Edward Ramseyer married Howard rbro and has two children, Barbara Jean and Sandra Kay.

ter Ramseyer, the youngest son of Daniel and Martha mseyer was born February 19, 1845 and died in the old mseyer homestead. He lived his entire life and died ere. He was the only one left after his father died to ke care of his mother. He gave her all the care and mfort a mother could have. In later years he was united marriage to Julia Banta, of Spring Branch in Craig wnship, In. To them were born five children, three girls d two boys, namely Omer, Jessie, Josie, Edgar, and Lizzie.
er, the oldest of the children was the favorite of his andmother. In her declining years he would sit by her at e table and wait on her; a wonderful grandson. Jessie rried Rolland Roberts of near Moorefield. They live on a rm and to them were born two daughters. Aldean at home d Hazel married Karl Brown and resides in Milan, In. zel teaches school and Karl is a garage man. A son was rn to them which died at birth. Edgar, the second son of ter and Julia Ramseyer was married to Hazel Anderson of aytown. They moved to Connersville, In and had no ildren. Edgar was in World War II for several months. He ssed away a few months ago. Omar also a few months ago llowed the mother and father in death. Josie and izabeth still resided at the old homestead until recently en they moved to Vevay. I must say that in all the years ne by the Ramseyer homestead there were only eight deaths the home and one cousin who made his home with them for years or more, John Wakefield. The eight deaths were: My eat-Grandfather, Our Grandmother Ramseyer, Daniel, my andfather, Grandmother and two girls who died in early rlhood. The funerals were all held at the home and burial the old Ramseyer Cemetery a short distance from the house cept my Aunt and Uncle and the cousin, John Wakefield, who re buried in the Vevay Cemetery. When I think for a ment of the two girls Josie and Elizabeth who were born d reared in the old home for over 65 years and cared for l the family, they shared all their sorrows and joys rough sickness and death; they will someday be rewarded.
d when they could not manage the farm but had to give up d sell it which was a heartache for us all, it had been in e Ramseyer family for more than 135 years. Everett O'Day d wife, Jaunita (Ramseyer) and daughter, Jean Adkins, of rsailles In and myself drove out to the old Ramseyer mestead October 15, 1951, a beautiful Sunday afternoon.
got out of the car. No one at the gate, I opened the te, I paused for a moment. Is it true, can it be true no e at the gate. I went around the yard, a beautiful lawn.
e grass was green and well kept. The flowers the girls d left were faded. Everything was in perfect condition t not a face to see; not a voice to say, "I and glad to e you," as was here before. I went to the cellar and log tchen where the old Ramseyer girls and mother did the oking. The old hole cut through; there were no flues in ose days. The old shelf in the porch way is still there ere they kept their soap and things handy. The old pecan ee in the garden is still there. My Aunt Eliza Ramseyer t it out there when she was a girl over 100 years ago or re. The place where grandfather had his shop is grassed er. The old well sown by the garden wall looked familiar.
e pawpaws were hanging on the trees and the walnuts on the ound reminded me of childhood days when we were there to ther them. We started home; no one at the gate; no one to y good-bye, come again, I'll be glad to see you. But me does fly so fast, It doesn't seem to want to wait, t, Oh dear cousins, I missed you, I missed you at the te.

nd now I will bring my history to a close but let us stop d pause for a moment and think of so many relatives who ve passed away in all these generations. Many a tear has en shed, many a heart has been broken. but let not your art be troubled, for yet there is not a cloud but what has lver lining, and may God's blessings rest upon each and eryone of the survivors; that you may all live as long and nest and industrious lives as our ancestors have. And in e coming years as we walk hand in hand down the shady lane til we reach our destination, and when we come to the end the road, may we all meet and be reunited is the wish of is writer.

Home Sweet Home

here is an old home in Indiana To see it would give you a

Joyce Cemetery

Section 24, Township 4 North, Range 11 East
Milton Township, Jefferson County, Indiana

By Robert W. Scott © Sep 2002.

This is by far the largest cemetery in eastern Jefferson County that is not associated with a church. It probably originated as a Brooks family cemetery. The oldest stones include are for Ann, wife of Humphrey Brooks, died in 1832, daughter, Nancy Neal, who died in 1840, and Humphrey, who died in 1844. The cemetery in the SW1/4 of Section 24 is on the south and west side of the Indian-Kentuck Creek (which curves south at that point). It can be reached from Pleasant Ridge via off Bishop Hill Road (which runs off Pleasant Ridge) or up Bishop Hill Road from up the Indian-Kentuck Creek from Brooksburg and going up the creek, instead of crossing the creek at Bear Bridge. A lane leads to the cemetery. A note by Martin Luther Vernon in the 1920s, recounting Vernon family history, says that the cemetery takes its name from Pliny Joyce who owned it. It more likely takes its name from Pliny's father Franklin Joyce, who owned the property in the 1870s. This cemetery probably developed for two reasons: There was no church in Brooksburg until the Brooksburg Methodist Church was founded in 1891. Several buried here were Brooksburg residents. Many were probably also members of the Home Methodist Church on Dry Fork (no records exist) and that church, which flooded repeatedly, had no suitable site for a cemetery. '

Burials for Humphrey Brooks, his wife, and Mordecai Brooks, were also missed, but were handwritten in the DAR transcriptions and have been verified by Brooks researchers. Notes in parenthesis are facts recorded by the DAR transcriber, but probably not on the stones.

[When the DAR transcription was made, the transcibers noted there was no stone.
This was erected later. The DAR notes she was wife of Nathaniel Demaree and daughter of George Rowlinson.]

Section 21, Township 4 North, Range 11 East
Milton Township, Jefferson County, Indiana

[illegible]

This is by far the largest cemetery in eastern Jefferson County that is not associated with a church. It probably originated as a Brooks family cemetery. The oldest stones include one for Asa Joyce, wife of Humphrey Brooks, died in 1832, though her Brooks kin died in 1840, and Humphrey, who died in 1854. The cemetery in the SW 1/4 of Section 21 is on the south and west side of the Indian-Kentuck Creek (which curves south at that point). It can be reached from Pleasant Ridge via an old Hilltop Hill Road (which runs east off Pleasant Ridge) or up Bishop Hill Road from up the Indian-Kentuck Creek from Brookston and going up the creek. Instead of crossing the creek at Bean Bridge. A lane leads to the cemetery. A mule by Martin Luther Vernon in the 1920s, recounting Vernon family history, says that the cemetery takes its name from "[illegible] Joyce who owned it a most illegible, related to da name from Hilly". Father Franklin Joyce who owned the property in the 1870s. This cemetery probably developed for two reasons: There was no church in Brookston until the Brookston Methodist Church was founded in 1901. Several earlier burials were Brookston residents. Many were probably also members of the Liberty Methodist Church on Hwy 43 (no records exist) and that church, which flooded repeatedly, had no suitable site for a cemetery.

Burials for Humphrey Brooks, his wife, and Morgan Brooks, were also missed, but were burials in the DAR Inventories and have been verified by Brooks researchers. Notes in parenthesis are facts recorded by the DAR inspectors, but possibly not on the stones.

OBITUARY

Mary McKay died at her home in VanBuren township, March 28, 1898, at three o'clock a.m., of lung trouble. Was buried March 29. [Liberty metery] Services at the Liberty Church at one o'clock p.m., the Rev. Hughes officiating, assisted by Rev. Barclay.

Deceased was the daughter of Samuel and Permelia Bassett. She was united in marriage to Marion McKay, February 26, 1871. Unto them eight ldren were born, four sons and four daughters, one of which, little Mina, was called before her, about three months ago. She leaves besides her seven ldren, a loving husband to mourn her loss. In the death of Mrs. McKay her family loses a loving mother and a kind companion, and the church one of its ıt workers. She was loved and honored by all who knew her, and as long as health permitted, associated with her friends, always carrying a pleasant smile d kind words for all she met. During her several months of suffering, she was very patient, yet often calling upon her Heavenly Father in these words, ome, Come, and Take Me Home." And now that her spirit has gone to its Eternal Home, all we can do is say we will go to her.

Brooksburg Methodist (Milton Twp., Jefferson Co.)

The Brooksburg Methodist Church was dedicated Oct. 25, 1891. Twenty-six members came from Morris Chapel, according to a history by Louise McKay Weber. The first board of stewards was listed as Theodore L. McKay, William Wright, Dr. Edward Tevis, Andrew J. Larimore and Isaiah Brooks. The first minister was A.R. Beach with Rev. George W. Gelvin as presiding elder. The tie to Morris Chapel was strong enough that both McKay and Larimore are buried there. A report written by Elizabeth Alves McKay as a five-year report after the dedication stated that the church had 100 full members and eight probationers. This church is still active. (1999)

Morris Chapel Cemetery

Section 6, Township 3 North, Range 12 East
Milton Township, Jefferson County, Indiana

By Robert W. Scott
© 2002

Morris Chapel was a Methodist Episcopal Church founded in 1856 or 1859 on the farm of James Brooks, according to an early twentieth century history of Milton Township. The cemetery itself has a modern-looking concrete slab at the entrance with the following information about the church. "Founded A.D. 1859. Dedicated May 21, 1860. Razed, Dec. 22,1973." The building's dedication occurred within a week of May 14, 1860 when James Brooks and wife, Sarah, deeded a tract of undisclosed size in SW1/4 Section 6 Twp. 3N Range 12E (Jefferson Co. Deed Book 18 p. 96) to the church trustees. The church replaced the nearby Armstrong Chapel, which was left inaccessible by a change in the Ohio River. The congregation waned after the founding of the Brooksburg Methodist Church in 1891, less than two miles away. The earliest burial found is 1864, the latest 1994, but this is essentially an inactive cemetery.

The cemetery is located just upstream from Brooksburg. To reach it, take State Road 56 East towards Vevay. After the Indian-Kentuck Creek, take the second right, Splinter Ridge Road. The cemetery is on a lane, an immediate right from this road. The graveyard is currently mowed and in good repair.

The 1941 published transcriptions by the John Paul Chapter DAR omitted the stones for many children and infants. This transcription, using the DAR readings as a starting point, offers information on 125 more persons. In some cases, the DAR included maiden names which are not on the stones, but were known to the transcribers. Information in quotes, "" is on the stones. Information in brackets are my comments. Multiple inscriptions on a single stone are indicated by having multiple names follow a single surname. Transcriptions done on July 11, 2002.

Joyce Cemetery

Section 24, Township 4 North, Range 11 East
Milton Township, Jefferson County, Indiana

By Robert W. Scott © Sep 2002.

This is by far the largest cemetery in eastern Jefferson County that is not associated with a church. It probably originated as a Brooks family cemetery. The oldest stones include are for Ann, wife of Humphrey Brooks, died in 1832, daughter, Nancy Neal, who died in 1840, and Humphrey, who died in 1844. The cemetery in the SW1/4 of Section 24 is on the south and west side of the Indian-Kentuck Creek (which curves south at that point). It can be reached from Pleasant Ridge via off Bishop Hill Road (which runs off Pleasant Ridge) or up Bishop Hill Road from up the Indian-Kentuck Creek from Brooksburg and going up the creek, instead of crossing the creek at Bear Bridge. A lane leads to the cemetery. A note by Martin Luther Vernon in the 1920s, recounting Vernon family history, says that the cemetery takes its name from Pliny Joyce who owned it. It more likely takes its name from Pliny's father Franklin Joyce, who owned the property in the 1870s. This cemetery probably developed for two reasons: There was no church in Brooksburg until the Brooksburg Methodist Church was founded in 1891. Several buried here were Brooksburg residents. Many were probably also members of the Home Methodist Church on Dry Fork (no records exist) and that church, which flooded repeatedly, had no suitable site for a cemetery. '

Burials for Humphrey Brooks, his wife, and Mordecai Brooks, were also missed, but were handwritten in the DAR transcriptions and have been verified by Brooks researchers. Notes in parenthesis are facts recorded by the DAR transcriber, but probably not on the stones.

Joyce Cemetery

Section 24, Township 4 North, Range 11 East
Milton Township, Jefferson County, Indiana

by Barbara W. Kelly, 6 Sep 2002.

This is by far the largest cemetery in eastern Jefferson County that is not associated with a church. It probably originated as a Brooks family cemetery. The oldest stones marked are for Ann, wife of Humphrey Brooks, died in 1832, daughter Nancy Neal, who died in 1850, and Humphrey, who died in 1861. The cemetery in the SW1/4 of Section 24 is on the south and west side of the Indian-Kentucky Creek (which covers south at that point), is reached from Pleasant Ridge via an old Joslyn Hill Road (which runs off Pleasant Ridge) or up Joslyn Hill Road from up the Indian-Kentucky Creek from Brookburg and going up the creek, instead of crossing the creek at Brookburg. A lane leads to the cemetery. A note by Nellie Luther Vernon in the 1920s, concerning Vernon County History, says that the cemetery takes its name from Elihu Joyce who owned it. It more likely takes its name from Polly's father Franklin Joyce, who owned the property in the 1870s. This cemetery probably developed for two reasons: There was no church in Brooks until the Brookshire Methodist Church was founded in 1891. Several burials were from Brookburg residents. Many were probably also members of the Vienna Methodist Church on Dry Fork (no records exist) and that church, which flooded repeatedly, had no suitable site for a cemetery.

Burials for Humphrey Brooks, his wife, and Magdalen Brooks, were also moved, but were heavily rotten in the DAR transcription and have been verified by Brooks descendants. Notes in parenthesis are facts recorded by the DAR transcriber, not probably not on the stones.

CERTIFICATE No. 11,231

THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

To all to whom these Presents shall come, Greeting:

WHEREAS Elias M'Kay, of Jefferson County, Indiana,

has deposited in the GENERAL LAND OFFICE of the United States, a Certificate of the REGISTER OF THE LAND OFFICE at Jeffersonville whereby it appears that full payment has been made by the said Elias M'Kay according to the provisions of the Act of Congress of the 24th of April, 1820, entitled "An Act making further provision for the sale of the Public Lands," for the West half of the North East quarter of Section twenty two, in Township seven North, of Range ten East, in the District of Lands subject to sale at Jeffersonville, Indiana, containing eighty acres;

according to the official plat of the survey of the said Lands, returned to the General Land Office by the SURVEYOR GENERAL, which said tract has been purchased by the said Elias M'Kay

NOW KNOW YE, That the United States of America, in consideration of the Premises, and in conformity with the several acts of Congress, in such case made and provided, HAVE GIVEN AND GRANTED, and by these presents DO GIVE AND GRANT, unto the said Elias M'Kay

and to his heirs, the said tract above described: TO HAVE AND TO HOLD the same, together with all the rights, privileges, immunities, and appurtenances of whatsoever nature, thereunto belonging, unto the said Elias M'Kay and to his heirs and assigns forever.

In Testimony Whereof, I, Martin Van Buren PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, have caused these Letters to be made PATENT, and the SEAL of the GENERAL LAND OFFICE to be hereunto affixed.

GIVEN under my hand at the CITY OF WASHINGTON, the fifteenth day of August in the Year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty eight and of the INDEPENDENCE OF THE UNITED STATES the Sixty third.

BY THE PRESIDENT: Martin Van Buren

By M. Van Buren Jr. Sec'y.

Jno. G. Wilson, Acting RECORDER of the General Land Office, ad interim.

Description:
This database is an index to individuals enumerated in the 1860 United States Federal Census, the Eighth Census of the United States. Census takers recorded many details including each person's name, age as of the census day, sex, color; birthplace, occupation of males over age fifteen, and more. No relationships were shown between members of a household. Additionally, the names of those listed on the population schedule are linked to actual images of the 1860 Federal Census. Learn more...

Certificate
No. 17501

The United States of America,

To all to whom these presents shall come, Greeting:

Whereas, Enoch Mc Kay of Hamilton county Indiana has deposited in the General Land Office of the United States, a certificate of the Register of the Land Office at Indianapolis, whereby it appears that full payment has been made by the said Enoch Mc. Kay according to the provisions of the act of Congress of the 24th of April, 1820, entitled "An act making further provision for the sale of the Public Lands," for the South West quarter of the South West quarter of Section Thirty Four, in Township Eighteen North of range Five East, in the District of Lands subject to sale at Indianapolis, Indiana containing Forty acres,

according to the official plat of the survey of the said Lands, returned to the General Land Office by the Surveyor General, which said tract has been purchased by the said Enoch Mc. Kay

NOW KNOW YE, That the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, in consideration of the premises, and in conformity with the several acts of Congress, in such case made and provided, have given and granted, and, by these presents, do give and grant, unto the said Enoch Mc Kay and to his heirs, the said tract above described:

To Have and to Hold the same, together with all the rights, privileges, immunities and appurtenances, of whatsoever nature thereunto belonging, unto the said Enoch Mc. Kay, and to his heirs and assigns forever

In testimony whereof, I, Andrew Jackson PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, have caused these Letters to be made patent, and the seal of the General Land Office to be hereunto affixed.

Given under my hand, at the City of Washington, the twentieth day of May in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and thirty five and of the Independence of the United States the fifty ninth.

By the President:

Andrew Jackson

OBITUARY

Mary McKay died at her home in VanBuren township, March 28, 1898, at three o'clock a.m., of lung trouble. Was buried March 29. [Liberty Cemetery] Services at the Liberty Church at one o'clock p.m., the Rev. Hughes officiating, assisted by Rev. Barclay.

Deceased was the daughter of Samuel and Permelia Bassett. She was united in marriage to Marion McKay, February 26, 1871. Unto them eight children were born, four sons and four daughters, one of which, little Mina, was called before her, about three months ago. She leaves besides her seven children, a loving husband to mourn her loss. In the death of Mrs. McKay her family loses a loving mother and a kind companion, and the church one of its best workers. She was loved and honored by all who knew her, and as long as health permitted, associated with her friends, always carrying a pleasant smile and kind words for all she met. During her several months of suffering, she was very patient, yet often calling upon her Heavenly Father in these words, "Come, Come, and Take Me Home." And now that her spirit has gone to its Eternal Home, all we can do is say we will go to her.

Shelby Township, Jefferson County, Section 32 Township 5N Range 12E, and partially in Pleasant Township, Switzerland County.

Survey and Photos by Jackie Owen.

The Error! Bookmark not defined. was founded on Aug. 7, 1827 in Jefferson Co., serving primarily Scottish families in Craig and Pleasant Townships in Switzerland Co. and Milton and Shelby Townships in Jefferson Co. The area seems to have been known as Caledonia, a name for Scotland, before the founding of the church. Many of these families arrived by 1818 and there was an earlier church that operated from 1818 until 1825. At different times, church buildings have been in Jefferson or Switzerland County. The current building is in Switzerland Co. The county line runs through the cemetery.

The earliest death date is for William Jamison, a child who died in 1826. It seems possible that either he was reburied here with his siblings or simply memorialized here. There are several cases of Scots buried here who were members at other churches, or who had been buried elsewhere and were reburied here. Also to be noted--the large number of tombstones with the maiden names of women. A Jefferson County sketch says that Scottish women kept their maiden names after marriage, and this may explain this practice.

This transcription is based on the 1941 John Paul DAR transcription. There is quite a bit of information that the DAR has inserted. These notes are shown in parenthesis. This is probably information that was not on the tombstones. Mary Hill, the transcriber, was a Culbertson descendent who wrote histories on the Culbertsons, Glenns, and Taits and probably added this information. Where information about marriages and parents is listed, but is not in parentheses, it is assumed to be part of the actual transcription. I have added many inscriptions that the DAR did not find or from deaths that occurred later. It some cases, the names and dates are from obituaries that the decedents were buried in Caledonia, but I have not seen the tombstone and the exact information on them.

Caledonia can be reached from State Road 129 and turning west onto Caledonia Road coming either south from Versailles or north from Vevay. The church and cemetery are less than a mile from the state road. The church and cemetery can be reached from either Dow Ridge Road and Puncheon Camp Road in Jefferson County, but those not familiar with the area are advised to take 129.

James McNUTT. Richard CURRY, Abraham HELMS and Francis WHELCHEL settled in the following year, and in 1825, each entered the several tracts of land which they cultivated for years afterward.

Other Early Settlers of Fall Creek Township

The families before mentioned had lived in the locality long enough to prove by experiment that their claims were tenable, and the land was placed at the disposal of purchasers in 1820-21. Visitors came from the East and South, seeking homes on the fertile soil of Indiana, some of them friends of the families already located here. Ties of friendship and kindred settled their choice for this locality, and they joined hands with their predecessors in settling and cultivating this township.

In the year 1826, James BROWN, Josiah HUMBLES, Thomas LACKEY and John HEATH entered land in different parts of the township, and began improvements at once. In 1827, John and Isaac HELMS, James MURRER, James BROWN and Absalom SETTERS came to Fall Creek Township, with Lewis OGLE, Isom GARRETT and Isom CLOUD arriving in the latter part of the same year. Jacob FAUSET entered a tract of land in the winter of 1828, and in April, 1829, came with his family to the new home. William AMMERMAN entered land in September, 1829, and settled with his family in the fall of 1830. Henry BEAVER, Justus SCOTT and William BROWN came in the same year, each having entered land in 1829. Thomas ARNETT entered a tract of land in 1823 or 1824, and leased it. The tenant occupied it until 1829, and cleared about twelve acres. The lease was sold at Constable's sale, and was purchased by Jacob FAUSET. Mr. ARNETT came to live on the land in 1830, and re-imbursed Mr. FAUSET for his outlay. He resided on this farm until a short time before the Civil War, when he removed to Fortville, where he passed the remainder of his life. Solomon BOWERS, Jacob LINGEL and John T. KINNAMAN entered land in 1830, and settled on their respective tracts in 1831. William McKINSTRY came in July, 1832, and entered land, but was unable to complete his cabin until 1833. He settled on his land in that year, and became a long-time resident of the township. John E. HELMS, Elias MORGAN< Gabriel WRIGHT, Samuel MOON, Samuel PATTERSON, John WHELCHEL, John RAGAN, William and Hugh DUKE, Francis ELLINGWOOD and Nathaniel BARNES settled in the year 1832. Nathaniel BARNES entered land in 1830 or 1831, and Enoch McKAY, his son-in-law, settled on a portion of this land in the fall of 1833. Mr. McKAY entered a tract of land in 1834, where he was still in residence in 1880. The settlers of subsequent years were as follows:

1833: Davis WHELCHELL, James LEWIS, John H. BUTTERFIELD, Thomas ESSARY, John HUMBLES, Abraham WATERMAN, MOses WRIGHT, Jacob ALEXANDER, David ALEXANDER, Martin WRIGHT, John VANZANT, Jeremiah WILSON and Edmond S. WYATT.

1834: Thomas and James HILL, Thomas CLARK, Nelson BROWN, Isaac PRATHER, Jonathan McCARTY, John MILLER, Thomas LEDNUM, Samuel P. SETTERS, Pleasant R. HUMBLES, Michael SOUDERS, Levi SELLERS, Baldwin PARSONS, Gardiner and Joseph GOLDSMITH.

1835: John CLOUD, Absalom HACKER, James WEBB, Samuel PURDUM, Right WRIGHT, Charles B. WELCHEL, John OLVEY, Peter FLANAGAN, Frederick

LOWE, Christopher SETTERS, David JONES, David PRUITT, Samuel SILVESTER, William KINNAMAN, Simon LUND, Matthew E. CLIFTON, Jonathan PARSONS, John BROWN, Samuel BROOKS, Henry CLARK, Thomas CRICKMORE, Martin WELDON, Jonathan LUNSFORD, William PILKENTON.
By 1836, settlements had been made on every section of land within Fall Creek Township, excepting the sixteenth section, which was set apart as school property.

The Olive Branch Cemetery may have grown from a family cemetery. There is a transcription for Susan Hamilton, wife of Jas. Hamilton, d. Oct.17, 1820, age 26 yrs. This burial occurred before the founding of the Olive Branch Methodist Church. However, it is the only stone transcribed by the John Paul DAR with a death date that precedes the founding of the church. The church formed by April 4, 1835 when Richard and Martha Hall deeded a half acre in the SW 1/4 Section 7 Twp. 4N Range 11E to the trustees. The church disbanded in 1938. The church building was used as a private residence for many years, last by the Denning family, until it burned in 1987. This is an active cemetery. It is located on U.S. 62 in Madison Township just west of China.

This represents a complete resurvey by Robert W. Scott. (July 3, 2001) Information added from other sources is given in brackets. [ ] Inscriptions that are on stones are listed in quotation marks, " ". with the exception that ages and information indicating that a person is a son, daughter, or wife of another person are copied from the stones without adding punctuation. Two or more names inscribed on the same stone are indicated by having the names follow a single surname. Question marks are given after a number whose reading is uncertain. Rain that began during my work made some of my notes hard to read, some rechecking is necessary. I welcome all corrections.

Joyce Cemetery

Section 24, Township 4 North, Range 11 East
Milton Township, Jefferson County, Indiana

By Robert W. Scott © Sep 2002.

This is by far the largest cemetery in eastern Jefferson County that is not associated with a church. It probably originated as a Brooks family cemetery. The oldest stones include are for Ann, wife of Humphrey Brooks, died in 1832, daughter, Nancy Neal, who died in 1840, and Humphrey, who died in 1844. The cemetery in the SW1/4 of Section 24 is on the south and west side of the Indian-Kentuck Creek (which curves south at that point). It can be reached from Pleasant Ridge via off Bishop Hill Road (which runs off Pleasant Ridge) or up Bishop Hill Road from up the Indian-Kentuck Creek from Brooksburg and going up the creek, instead of crossing the creek at Bear Bridge. A lane leads to the cemetery. A note by Martin Luther Vernon in the 1920s, recounting Vernon family history, says that the cemetery takes its name from Pliny Joyce who owned it. It more likely takes its name from Pliny's father Franklin Joyce, who owned the property in the 1870s. This cemetery probably developed for two reasons: There was no church in Brooksburg until the Brooksburg Methodist Church was founded in 1891. Several buried here were Brooksburg residents. Many were probably also members of the Home Methodist Church on Dry Fork (no records exist) and that church, which flooded repeatedly, had no suitable site for a cemetery. '

Burials for Humphrey Brooks, his wife, and Mordecai Brooks, were also missed, but were handwritten in the DAR transcriptions and have been verified by Brooks researchers. Notes in parenthesis are facts recorded by the DAR transcriber, but probably not on the stones.

by [illegible] Jan 2002

This is by far the largest cemetery in eastern Jefferson County that is not associated with a church. It probably originated as a Brooks family cemetery. The oldest person buried here was Mrs. Ann Wills or Thornbury Brooks, died in 1812, daughter Nancy Neal, who died in 1840, and Humphrey, who died in 1854. The cemetery in the SW1/4 of Section 24 is on the south east side of the Hilton-Lettsville Creek (which curves south at that point). It can be reached from Hwy 56 either via the Hilton 1st Road (which runs off Hickman Ridge) or up Jo-hop Hill Road from up the Indian-Temple Creek from Hwy 62 and going up the creek, blazed at crossing the creek at Joyce Bridge. A lane leads to the cemetery. A map by Vernon in the 1920s referencing Vernon family history says that the cemetery takes its name from John Joyce who owned it. It may likely takes its name from Rhoda Joyce, who owned the property in the 1870s. This covering probably also played for no clearing. There was no church in Brooks-ing until the Brooksburg Methodist Church was founded in 1901. Several Social Inc. were Hilt-Hickory Ridges. Many were probably also members of the Hilton Methodist Church on Hwy. This is records exist and the county, with it funded especially, but no trouble to see a cemetery.

Besides the Humphrey Brooks, Jr. wife and Nineteen Brooks, were also buried but were buried in the 1st & cemeteries and have been verified by Brooks descendents. Notes in parenthesis are facts provided by the D.A.R. researcher, but probably not on the stones.

Zachariah McKay IN

Here's the list of Zachariah's children as I have determined it, with documentation cited. I haven't found Morris to be part of this family--but perhaps I haven't found the deed that ties him in. You will notice that in deeds many of these people specify that Zachariah was their father.

Children of Zachariah McKay and Sallie Lanham
1. Abraham McKay b. 1808/09 He m. in Jefferson Co., 30 Oct. 1828, Mary J. Piles. He and Mary sold to David Cain their interest in land which he inherited "from his father Zachariah McKay" on 21 Feb. 1837. (Switzerland Co. Deed Book G p. 520.)
2. Robert McKay IV b. 1808/09 m. Winefred ? Listed as Robert McKay the Fourth when he and Winefred sold land which "said Robert McKay inherited from Zachariah McKay his father" to David Cain on 19 Aug. 1836. (Switzerland Co. Deed Book G p. 222.)
3. Samuel McKay b. 1817/18 He m. 1st 8 Dec. 1836 in Jefferson Co., Nancy Hamilton; m. 2nd 12 Sept. 1852 in Jefferson Co., Martha Hankins, widow of Jacob Ferrigo/Pherigo. He and Nancy sold their interest in land Sec. 17 Twp. 2N Range 3W, which he "inherited from his father Zachariah McKay" on 21 June 1847. (Switzerland Co. Deed Book M p. 160.)

Children of Zachariah McKay and Theresa Mennet
4. Henry McKay b. 1824/25 He m. 1 Oct. 1833 in Switzerland Co., Rhoda Cotton He and Rhoda sold his land to David Cain which "he inherited from his father Zachariah McKay" on 14 Nov. 1835. (Switzerland Co. Deed Book F p. 536.)
5. Francis Marion McKay b. 1828/29 lived 1850 with his mother. On 16 Feb. 1850 when he sold to David Cain his interest in land which he inherited "from his father Zachariah McKay..." (Switzerland Co. Deed Book Q p. 83.)
6. Lewis McKay b. 1829/30 He sold interest in his Zachariah's estate to David Cain on 25 Aug. 1851. Lived with his mother in 1850. Listed as an heir in Zachariah's probate records.
7. Riley McKay b. 1829/30 Lived with his mother in 1850. Listed as an heir in Zachariah's probate records
8. Charles Johnston McKay b. 1831/32. Listed as an heir in Zachariah's probate records
9. Sarah Josephine McKay b. 1834/35 Listed as an heir in Zachariah's probate records
10. Barbara McKay b. ca. 1836 She sold her interest in "inherited from Zachariah McKay her father" to David Cain on 19 Aug. 1836. (Switzerland Co. Deed Book G Page 233.) A posthumous Child?

Having rechecked Zachariah's estate records in Switzerland Co. I found that Riley McKay was not a son. Don't know why I added him in this list.

Also, Barbara McKay was over 21 years of age in 1838, so she is not the youngest child and belongs to the first marriage, not the second. The other children are as listed.

I am looking for information on Zechariah McKay. Married to Sara Lanham Nov.11, 1806 in Shenandoah County, Virginia. Indiana census records show that He, Sara and 3 yr. old Abram moved there. He is recorded as "head of the Household" in the 1830 census but not listed in the 1840. Any help would be greatly appreciated!

Check out my cousin Michael L. McKay web site

www.geocities.com/Heartland/Park/8030

Michael & I are descendants of Robert Sr. & his eldest son Robert Jr., the McKays in Switzerland Co. IN are descendants of Robert Sr.'s second son James Sr.

I have compiled a book dealing with some of the descendants of Robert Mackay Sr. if interested.

Looking for the father of Morris McKay ca 1820-5 Nov. 1883 He married Elizabeth Bray on 6 Dec. 1841 in Switzerland Co. Elizabeth lived19 May 1824-26 March 1886. They are both buried in the McKay Cemetery near Braytown. A family Bible contains an obituary that shows that their son Meshack Lanham McKay was born in the same house as his father and grandfather were born (doesn't sound likely, but that's what it says.) Is Meshack a son of Asa McKay and Milly Lanham. Enos and Chancy McKay also married Brays. Are they brothers?

www.geocities.com/Heartland/Park/8030

Michael & I are descendants of Robert Sr. & his eldest son Robert Jr., the McKays in Switzerland Co. IN are descendants of Robert Sr.'s second son James Sr.

I have compiled a book dealing with some of the descendants of Robert Mackay Sr. if interested.

Union Baptist Church (Craig Twp., Switzerland Co.)

Located in Lamb, this church organized in 1841 according to the History of Switzerland Co. (p. 1152.) The original nineteen members included Samuel McKay and wife, Henry Peters and wife, Shadrach Laman (sic Lanham), and wife, John and Sallie Miles, John Stratford, James McKay and wife, Edward Combes and wife, Raleigh McKay and wife. This church drew heavily from the McKay family and allies (Stratford, the Lanhams and Smiths fit this category.) The first meetings were held by Elders Archie Smith and William Wallace, with fifty admitted. Rev. John Graham was chosen as the first pastor and served two years.

The Switzerland Co. History lists the succeeding ministers as Joseph Hawkins (sic Hankins), Thomas Stewart and McDonald (no first name given) and J.D Griffith with 200 people admitted in the first twenty-two years of service. The church was a member of the Madison Association in 1842 with 116 members, according to association minutes. The messengers were J. Miles and H. Peters.

The earliest recorded election of trustees came on April 15, 1843 with the election of John Stratford, Samuel Bray, Thomas Miller, David Cain and Meshack Lanham (Switzerland Co. Deed Book I p. 317.) George Ash deeded land to the church trustees (not listed by name) on June 11, 1844 (Switzerland Co. Deed Book J p. 619.) The church switched to the Long Run Association on the 3rd Saturday Sept. 1852 reporting, eighty five members. The church building standing at the time of the Switzerland County History was built 1845/46 and was once used as a school house. At the time of the history, (1885) membership was 100. The church is still active

Published Historical Information
About Jefferson and Switzerland Counties

Copyright June 2001 by Error! Bookmark not defined. Robert W Scott

This listing gives basic source material for both Jefferson and Switzerland County. The works included here are chosen because they have some genealogical value, and are not just general historical accounts. There are several more recent histories of Jefferson County, none of them very good in my opinion.

Each work must be evaluated separately for its accuracy. Most county histories that were printed in the second half of the nineteen century offered biographical sketches. Since at least some of these books were sold by subscription, it appears that the writers tended to flatter subscribers. Sketches quite often picture the subject as one of the earliest pioneers in a particular county, even though such statements weren't true. Genealogical material in these sketches is sometimes confused. Nevertheless, they represent some of the earliest published genealogical material in many counties in the Midwest. I have not included officials records, with one exception, in this list, or any church histories.

One very good source of information was a series of columns in the Madison Courier in the 1930s and probably later by Charles E. Heberhart, which ran under the title, "They Say and Do in the Country." If someone is looking for a good deed, it would very helpful to historians if these were to be collected in one volume, or at least one folder, in the way the Perret Dufour's writings were collected.

Biographical & Historical Souvenir for the Counties of Clark, Crawford, Harrison, Floyd, Jefferson, Jennings, Scott and Washington, Chicago. 1889 Gresham, John M. & Co. This is the earliest printed history that touches on Jefferson County and because of the inclusion of other counties, it's not as extensive as are other county histories of this type and era. It has general county history and a section of biographical sketches. The history appears to be largely accurate, although sources are not cited. Available at the Jefferson County library.

Executive Journal of Indiana Territory. Edited and Annotated by William Wesley Woolen, Daniel Wait House, and Jacob Piatt Dunn. Published in 1900 as Vol. III No. 3 of the Indiana Historical Society Publications. Reprinted with revisions by the Family History Section of the Indiana Historical Society. This is the record of the official acts of the territorial government of Indiana from 1801 through1816 when Indiana became a state. Most of the information regarding individuals involves appoints of county officers, such as justices of the peace, and members of the militia. Avalailable at the Jefferson County library.

document is in the Jefferson County library. It gives a basic history of the township, along with a few biographical sketches. It's not quite up to the level of detail of the similar histories of Milton and Shelby Township. History of Milton Township by the Jefferson County Historical Society. This document does not list either an author or a date published. It was published no earlier than 1908 because it mentions Isaiah Brooks of Brooksburg as living and Brooks died that year. It draws upon obituaries of some of its subjects and quotes two early petitions that are not on record elsewhere. I have found it to be generally accurate, although it has one real blooper in attributing the founding of the Manville Christian Church to members breaking away from the Manville Baptist Church (It should have said Milton Baptist Church). It contains some material that is attributed to James W. Lanham (the long-time minister of the Manville Christian Church) and to material from George Cottman, who reportedly planned to write a history of all townships. It contains a handful of brief biographical sketches. This history and the similar History of Shelby Township were both available at the Jefferson County library in typewritten form. I have both of these typed into my computer

Helpful Hints

1. This Map's INDEX can be found on the preceding pages.
2. Refer to Map "C" to see where this Township lies within Ripley County, Indiana.
3. Numbers within square brackets [ ] denote a multi-patentee land parcel (multi-owner). Refer to Appendix "C" for a full list of members in this group.
4. Areas that look to be crowded with Patentees usually indicate multiple sales of the same parcel (Re-issues) or Overlapping parcels. See this Township's Index for an explanation of these and other circumstances that might explain "odd" groupings of Patentees on this map.

Boston Notes.

BOSTON, Dec. 24, '83
---------- New Year's gift!

Isaac Johnson made a flying visit to Howard county last week.

The lime factory will close down for the season after one more burn.

James Hogue and his pap spent Christmas in the city of concentric circles.

Charley Hawkins took in the pancake festival at Scudder's Saturday night.

John Nelson, head miller of the meal department of the city mills, is very busy now grinding feed.

Bill Johnson is at present undecided whether to take in Kansas or the Hendricks boom this winter.

Elijah Johnson, who has been traveling extensively in the West for several weeks, has returned home.

George Hawkins is reslating his house with shingles and making other internal improvements which adds much to the beauty of the 17th ward.

A Mr. Low, of Adams, has moved in the house formerly occupied by James Flynn. He is employed by the Vaughn lime company, of this city.

Charley Scudder will spend the holidays in Hamilton county, Ohio. It is supposed that he will bring home home[sic] a sparerib du\one up in calico.

Chas. Thompson has bought a new cutter and is prepared to cut a dash if the snow will only hold out faithful. We are laying low to see how the Pher-e-goes.

It is reported that the Norristown belle has been caught and is about to be landed by the dexterous angling of Mr. "Joker," of Flat Rock. Et tu brute, David.

Thomas Hogue, sr., is building a patent, reversible, automatic smoke house; when completed it will be the most successful smoke house in this city. 'Roe Sephens [Stephens?] is the supervising architect.

Notwithstanding the advantage of hogs and other cereals, the matrimonial market continues quite dull, but Frank Trees and John Nelson thinks there will be a large local demand after the holidays.

John Hogue and Charley Hawkins, of the rifle team of this city, have nine cords of rabbits and two cords of muskrat hides to ship as soon as the St. Paul, Geneva, Boston and Omaha railroad is completed.

Dave Dunlap will start in a few days for Arkansas, where, if he likes the country, he will make his future home. Dave is a whole-souled, good-hearted fellow, and will leave many warm friends to regret his goneness, and many a tremulous sigh will be heard -- from under -- a corset's so.

Senator Walker Sanders of Peoria Ill., will spend the holidays in this city; it was just fun to see him and Jim Dunlap plowing through the snow towards Billy Monroe's last Sunday evening. Greater love hath no man than he who would drive eight miles last Sunday evening to see his gal. Do you catch on Tom.

The Geneva Quartette of singers is furnishing that city and vicinity with some magnificent vocal music this winter. The leader James Hatton is well know in musical circles in this and Bartholomew[sic] county, he is perhaps the finest baritone[sic] singer in central Indiana. he is ably assisted by such well known talent as John McDonald, James Bowls and Lucullus McKay. They expect to start on a starring tour as soon as they can make the necessary arrangements. They will travel under the nom de plume of the widows of the west.

John Nelson has just returned from China. He reports the situation in that country as very grave. General Ah Sin Worland and his (his) celestials are surrounded, having taken refuge in Bob Herter's Joss house. It is reported the Ah Sins's command is in a starving condition, their supply of chewing gum and opium being exhausted, and they are compelled to live on such course diet as oysters, turtle soup, snipe on toast, etc. The French besiegers under the command [several lines are not legible] ... which is Ah Sin's only avenue of escape. Dad Carlos Fiddler Admiral of the French fleet, is anchored below the railroad bridge, in point blank range of the [?]. Ah Sin Worland has just telegraphed to the emperor of China that he hoped he might [?] if he know how he was going to get out of there. He also telephoned Dr. Wong Long Victor, of Lewis Creek, to hurry up with [?] and kick the stuffin' out of the measley French

London, Moral Township, Shelby County The village of London is principally located in Section 25, of Moral Township. Before the building of the Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis & Chicago Railroad early in the decade of the fifties, there was nothing attempted at its present site in the way of merchandising. Soon after the completion of that important highway of commerce, Jesse Oaks began doing a small retail business in a building he had erected for that purpose. It was the first building erected on the present site of the town and it still stands for the accommodation of business. Oaks remained but a short time when, on account of failing health, he sold to McDougal & McKay, who did a prosperous business for some time. McDougal had formerly been in business at Pleasant View, and after about two years he sold his interest to his partner who continued for several years. This same store building has nearly always been occupied by merchandising, the present merchant being Oliver Means. After the railroad had been completed a few years, Joel Crum and John Jeffries began business under the firm name of Crum & Jeffries. For a while, they did a good business. Their store stood on the site now occupied by the new building of Wesley Crum. The most successful merchant that has ever been in trade at London was Thomas Francis, who succeeded Crum & Jeffries. There have been others in business here at various times, but the importance of the place as a trading point has decreased much in the last few years. Various other enterprises have been started but all alike have disappeared. About the year 1856, a large building was erected for the purpose of holding a seminary, but after a few years the school was discontinued, and the house is now occupied as a dwelling. Nathan Earlywine was the earliest village blacksmith, and the business has been represented from his time to this. Thomas Rubush is the present physician. London is now llittle more than a dexaying village, and excepting in name can have no hope of rivaling its namesake the renowned metropolis of the British Empire.

The town with its additions was laid out by Aaron House, July 21, 1852; surveyed by J. M. Elliot, June 30, 1852...(Deed Record T, 405 and New Plat Book No. 1, page 23, plat 4)

Bob
I think that you have located my ggggrandfather and my missing generation connecting my tree back to Robert Mackay, Sr.
Zachariah's second son, Robert McKay IV may be my gggrandfather. Here is what I know about him:

Robert Mckay b 19 Dec 1808 VA d 4 Jan 1892 Married ? date ? place to Winifred H (unknown) b 19 Oct VA 1808 d 11 May 1874
Robert and Winifred are buried in Lindley Cem. Grundy Co MO

Children
1 Moses Abram b 28 Aug 1833 IN d 28 Mar 1901 m ? date ? place to Roxey Ann Fenn dau of Levi and Mary Fenn b 7 Sep 1836 OH d 26 Sep 1916
both buried in Richardson Cem Grundy Co MO
2.Henry O b c 1837 IN 3 Saphroma C b c 1840 IN 4 Lucinda J b c 1842 IN 5 Harvey S b c 1844 IN 6 Mariah M b c 1846 IN
7 Virginia Abigail b 17 Jun 1849 d 13 Aug
1878 bd Lindley Cem Grundy Co MO

1840 census Union Twp Shelby Co IN lists Robert et ux with three oldest children
1860 census Shelbyville Shelby Co IN also lists Henry McKay 23 Maria 21 and Henry C 5 mo in the same household

If anyone can help me fill in the unknowns above or givr me any information on Zachariah's family I would be grateful

I would like to contact any other descendents of this family. I have considerable information on Moses Abram's family to share

Glad this helped. All I know about Robert McKay IV and Winefred is that they are show on the deed that verifies he was a son of Zachariah and that he did call himself Robert IV. Their marriage is not on record in Indiana, at least I can't find it through the Indiana Marriage index. Maybe he married in Kentucky.

Charles David McKay

January 21, 1945 - February 3, 2018

ANDERSON — Charles David McKay, 73, Anderson, passed away Saturday, Feb. 3, 2018.

He was born Jan. 21, 1945, in Indianapolis, to the late Raymond F. and Ruth (Simpson) McKay.

Charles worked in retail for over 50 years before retiring. He was a member of the Huntsville Good Shepherd Church. He loved boating and was an avid skier. He also loved traveling in his RV, meeting new people, and woodworking, but above all loved spending time with his family.

He is survived by his wife of 38 years, Rebecca Ann (Newcomb) McKay; children, Deborah (husband, Mark) Harris, Lorrie (husband, Patrick) Ruble, and Craig (wife, Julie) McKay; sister, Jenny (husband, Floyd) McClane; grandchildren, Emma, Olivia, Jack, Phillip, Ian, Marley, Ashlee and Charlee. He was blessed with wonderful sisters-in-law and many nieces and nephews. Special friends that have touched his heart were Jo Yattaw, Jeff and Kristi Humble and Darrel and Helga Cunningham.

He was preceded in death by his brother, William McKay.

Celebration of Life will be held at a later date.

Arrangements were entrusted to Wilson St. Pierre Funeral Service & Crematory, Lahm Chapel.

Memorial contributions may be made to Huntsville Good Shepherd Church, P.O. Box 45, Pendleton, IN 46064.

INDIANAPOLIS — A legislative bill that would have merged about 300 of Indiana's townships has died for this session amid concerns whether consolidation would save tax money and make government more efficient.

House Bill 1005, authored by Rep. Cindy Ziemke, R-Batesville, was eligible for third reading Monday and, if passed, would have moved to the Senate. However, the bill was not called up by House Speaker Brian Bosma, R-Indianapolis.

Ziemke said she'll introduce similar legislation in the 2019 session.

"I'll try again," Ziemke said. "I will continue to work on it because it's extremely important."

Ziemke's initial bill intended to push townships with a population of less than 1,200 to merge with a contiguous township in the same county. About 300 of the state's 1,005 townships would be impacted.

"We're looking for ways to streamline, to reduce layers of government where possible," Bosma said on Tuesday.

My records show that

Cora McKay m. Arthur Irwin dtr of Orrin McKay m. Sarah Ann Rogers son of

Floyd McKay m. Lucinda Vaughan. He was born 4 Mar 1814 Shenandoah Co. VA d. 3 Mar 1882. I have a copy of his will. He and his wife were said to be cousins. But I have not found the evidence that they were. Lucinda Vaughan was the daughter of Thomas Vaughan & Polly McKay. Said Polly McKay was the daughter of James McKay & Mary Cheek. He the son of James MacKay Sr. of Shenandoah Co. VA & wife Mary Chester. He the son of Robert MacKay Sr. (Quaker from PA to VA).

My cousin Michael L. McKay was a web site just concerning the MacKay/McKay of said Robert MacKay & allied families. His address I believe on this site. His e-mail address:

John Fugit and family

JohnBallard10 (View posts) Posted: 23 Nov 1999 12:00PM GMT

Classification: Biography
Surnames: Fugit, Garrison, Tanner, Roszell, McAllister, Wilson, Webb, Donnell, Griffiths, Janett, Adkins

This biography shows up the difficulties in dealing with inconsistencies in the standard county history, Lewis A Harding's History of Decatur County Indiana (Indianapolis: BF Bowen and Co, 1915).

In 1819 the US government acquired the eastern and central part of Indiana by the Treaty of St Mary's with the Delaware Indians. Harding relates that "All along the border were bold spirits waiting for this unknown country to become the property of the government. No sooner had the Indians renounced all claims to it than the settlers flocked into it. . . .Probably the first to reach Decatur County was John Fugit and his son, John." (p70)

"John Fugit, who was born in the mountains of Russell county, Virginia, in 1770, came in March, 1819, with Guffy Griffiths and Elias Janett from Franklin county to Decatur county, Indiana, and settled one mile east of the present site of Clarksburg at the forks of the road. John Fugit, after his marriage, had moved to Floyd county, Kentucky, from Virginia and from Floyd county, in 1808, to Hamilton county, Ohio. Two years later the family had moved to Cedar Grove, Franklin county, Indiana, where they lived until 1818, when, owing to the hostility of the Indians, they were compelled to seek safety in the old fort eight miles west of Brookville. The next year they came on to Decatur county, Indiana" [p608].

"Decatur County originally formed a part of Delaware County, an immense tract of land ranging east to the Ohio line and north to, and including the present county of Delaware. But in 1821 the state Legislature provided for breaking up this territory into smaller units, and appointed commissioners to locate county seats for Decatur, Shelby and Rush counties. In the days when Decatur county was a part of Delaware . . . [t]here were no courts of justice; no vested police powers, each man being a law unto himself. There is a tradition, however, that the elder Fugit had been a justice of the peace in Franklin county and that he brought his commission and docket with him, performing marriages and dispensing justice to all coming of their own accord to seek it. Those wishing to enter the matrimonial state were compelled to go to Brookville to secure the marriage license." (p73)

"Fugit Township was one of the three original townships laid off by the board of commissioners on May 14, 1822. The other two townships were Adams and Washington, the latter of which embraced considerably more than the southern half of the county." (p119) Most early settlement was in the northern tier of townships, which were better served by streams.

"It is taken by common consent that the Fugit family were the first real settlers in what is now the township bearing their name. John Fugit, and his two children, John and Mary, came to the township in the latter part of February, 1819. They selected a site for their cabin and, while engaged in putting it up, were joined by Griffy Griffith, his wife and son, Ishmael. The Griffiths located one mile west of Clarksburg, where they lived until the death of the father and mother. After Fugit and his son had their rude cabin ready for occupancy, the whole family, consisting of the father, mother, four sons and two daughters, made this township their permanent home for a number of years. The Fugits entered no land and citizens of the township have never agreed as to the exact spot where the old Fugit cabins stood. Some have maintained that they settled northeast of Clarksburg, while others hold that they located one mile east of Clarksburg on land entered by Benjamin Snelling. Still others believe that the Fugits squatted on the old Luther Donnell place. Strange to say, neither James L Fugit, one of the sons of the old pioneer, nor Mary, a daughter (who became the wife of David Garrison), could identify the exact spot where their father had settled. They had removed to Clay township in 1825 . . It is probable that it was on the Donnell farm, which had been entered by Thomas Donnell, Sr. . . John Fugit['s] daughter, Sarah, married Joseph Webb, and this was the first marriage in the county. The license was secured in Brookville in the fall of 1819 and the marriage took place presumably in the log cabin in Fugit township. John Fugit died and Milford (Clifty) in 1844. At the present time the Fugit line is not represented by any male bearing the name in the county." (p121)

but was defeated; he was also one of eight candidates for associate judge of the circuit court and received the highest vote, so he and Martin Adkins, of whom there are several stories of scandal, were elected. (pp74-75). Under the state constitution of 1816, and until that of 1852, presiding judges for each circuit were chosen by the state legislature and they sat with two judges elected in each county on all the civil and criminal business of the county.

"In 1824, John Fugit, afterwards associate judge of Decatur county, settled in the central part of [Clay] township, on Middle Fork creek. He held the office of judge for a number of years, and died in the year 1846." (p114) "In 1825, the Fugits moved to Turner's Corner in Clay township, where they lived until 1839, when John Fugit moved to Milford, where he died in 1844." (p608)

"He was tall and thin, with broad shoulders and an eye as bright as an eagle's. When his six years on the bench were over he served one or two terms as a justice of the peace in Clay township. He had three sons who attained local eminence. Hugh was an attorney at Milford; James L. was a justice of the peace and later deputy sheriff and Isaac W. was also an attorney, and served for a time as postmaster at St. Paul, this county." (pp279-280)

"It was a daughter of John Fugit, Mary (Fugit) Garrison, the mother of the late Joseph W. Garrison, who was known, during her time, as 'the washerwoman for all Decatur county,' there having been at this time only three families in the whole county. The Fugits were noted not only for the important positions of trust and responsibility which they held in the early history of the county, but they were also noted for being the tallest family in this county, each member averaging over six feet in height. The children of David and Polly (Fugit) Garrison were John Q.A., Silas W, James L.F., Isaac N., Joseph W., Jesse F., Benjamin F. and David G. Four children among the six sons and thre daughters born to Judge John Fugit and wife, are: Mrs. Mary Garrison; Isaac W. of St Paul, Minnesota[?]; Mrs. Rachel McCallister, of Windfall; Mrs Celia Wilson, of Boone county, Indiana, and James, of Greensburg. These children are all deceased as are the remainder of the family." (p608-609) There follow a few paragraphs of genealogy and biography on Mary's son, Joseph W Garrison, who married Martha E Tanner on 16 Feb 1865, and mention of their daughter Minnie, who married EF Roszell on 6 Dec 1905. (p609-610)

Rachel Fugit married Dr Lewis McAllister of Milford in about 1850; they moved to Windfall, Howard County IN in the spring of 1865 and he died there in 1890; they had no children and she was active in the Methodist church. (p354).

"The first mill [in Clay Twp] was established by Jesse Fugit, a son of Judge Fugit, in 1825, and was run by horse-power. . .Milford is the oldest town in this township. It was platted and laid out by James Edwards, August 25, 1855, and was originally known by the name of Needmore. . .Later additions to the original plat were made by . . James L Fugit

James M Fugit was among the first recruits from the county in April 1861, probably serving with Co B, 7th IN Regt (p425). Isaac W was one of the charter members of Greensburg Chapter 8 of the Royal Arch Masons in 1848 and Isaac L was high priest in 1872, (p308) as well as a leading member of Greensburg Commandery No. 2 of the Knights Templar (p310). In 1877 the Methodists of Greensburg split and several families, including that of James L Fugit, formed the Methodist Protestant Church, which was disbanded in the 1880s. (p215)

Excellent information on Decautor County. Very interesting. I am a direct descendant of John's brother Jonathan who settled in Clay County, Kentucky after the Revolutionary War later the bountries changed and it became Perry County then Breathitt County) He was one of the first settlers of Southeast Kentucky. The area Fugate's Fork is named after him in Breathitt County, Kentucky.

Do you know more on the ancestor's of your John Fugit. He was named after his father John of Castlewood, Virginia. Earliest record I have on him is he enlistment in the 1757 Virginia militia. Description is 5' 7" tall with brown hair and thin visage. He was 21 at the time. Born 1735. I would like to learn more it possible. The eldest son Jonathan was a revolutionary soldier 3 times and born 1758 in Shenandoah County Virginia. He lived to be 101 years old.

Certificate
No. 11,229.

The United States of America,

Ex d 5

To all to whom these presents shall come, Greeting:

Whereas, Jesse B. Fuget of Decatur County Indiana

has deposited in the General Land Office of the United States, a certificate of the Register of the Land Office at Indianapolis whereby it appears that full payment has been made by the said Jesse B. Fuget according to the provisions of the act of Congress of the 24th of April, 1820, entitled "An act making further provision for the sale of the Public Lands," for the West half of the South West quarter of Section thirty five, in Township ten North, of Range eight East, in the District of Lands subject to sale at Indianapolis Indiana, containing eighty Acres according to the official plat of the survey of the said Lands, returned to the General Land Office by the Surveyor General, which said tract has been purchased by the said Jesse B. Fuget

NOW KNOW YE, That the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, in consideration of the premises, and in conformity with the several acts of Congress, in such case made and provided, have given and granted, and, by these presents, do give and grant, unto the said Jesse B. Fuget and to his heirs, the said tract above described: To Have and to Hold the same, together with all the rights, privileges, immunities and appurtenances, of whatsoever nature thereunto belonging, unto the said Jesse B. Fuget and to his heirs and assigns forever

In testimony whereof, I, Andrew Jackson PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, have caused these Letters to be made Patent, and the seal of the General Land Office to be hereunto affixed.

Given under my hand, at the City of Washington, the seventeenth day of April in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and thirty three and of the Independence of the United States the Fifty seventh.

By the President. Andrew Jackson

by A. J. Donelson Secy.

Fugit Graveyard

Sec. 15 Twp. 4N Range 11
Milton Township, Jefferson County

When the John Paul Chapter DAR transcribed this cemetery, only one stone was left. The DAR described it as "between two bridges at Manville." More precisely, it on the property that for years has been the Manville store property near the meeting of the West Fork and East Fork of the Indian-Kentuck Creek. The building on the property was originally erected as a private residence with a second floor added by the Order of Red Men. The inscription and notes following are by the DAR. The DAR is wrong in stating that the Fugits came in 1813. The family was in Indiana at least in 1811 when Jesse received a militia appointment, and probably by 1809, according to other sources. By Robert Scott.

Fugit, Missouri, dau. of E.P. (?) & N.G. Fugit, died 1851, age 10 years Probably Emanuel Medagh (sic, also Meddock, Maddox), Rev. soldier buried here.

Jesse Fugit, who married Leah McKay, dau. of James and Mary Cheek, of Shenandoah Valley, Va., came to Jefferson Co., Indiana in 1813, settled at Manville.

Clarence W. McKay Jr.

Sept. 26, 1942 - Aug. 26, 2007

MIDDLETOWN — Clarence W. "Wally" McKay Jr., 64, Middletown, died Aug. 26, 2007, at Saint John's Medical Center after an extended illness.

Born Sept. 26, 1942, in Quinnimont, W.Va., he lived in Markleville most of his life until moving to Middletown five years ago.

He was a mechanic for Precision Transmission for 25 years. He was a member of East Side Church of God. He served in the U.S. Army during the Vietnam War.

He was a member of Ovid Masonic Lodge 164 and American Legion Post 127.

Survivors include his wife of five years, Mardel (Otte) Magsig McKay, Middletown, whom he married July 6, 2002, in Gatlinburg, Tenn.; daughter, Carla and Marty Klipsch, Pendleton; two sons and daughter-in-law, Brian M. McKay, Markleville, and Cory W. and Amanda McKay, Anderson; two stepsons, Brent Magsig, Seminole, Fla., and Ross and Cindy Magsig, San Antonio, Texas; two brothers and sisters-in-law, Burwell and Bennie McKay, Madison, and Ira and Phyllis McKay, Anderson; sister and brother-in-law, Delores and Mike Young, New Castle; 10 grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Clarence W. and Doris Aileen (McKInney) McKay.

Services will be at 3 p.m. Wednesday at East Side Church of God with the Rev. Kerry Robinson officiating. Burial will be in Anderson Memorial Park Cemetery.

Visitation will be 2 to 4 and 6 to 8 p.m. today at Rozelle-Johnson Funeral Service and one hour prior to the service at the church on Wednesday.

Masonic rites will be today at 7:30 p.m. at the funeral home and military graveside rites by Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 266 Honor Guard at the cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Cancer Society or East Side Church of God.

E-mail condolences to RJFuneralSvc@aol.com or post them at www.theheraldbulletin.com.

been right after the primary," Skaggs said. "There was a lot of loose ends that needed to be tied up."

Swegman's position has been taken over by Schmidt and Planning Director Jeremy VanErman.

"They were overwhelmed at first because a lot of loose ends needed to be tied up," Skaggs said.

Alexandria's building commissioner is in charge of issuing permits anytime anyone does work over $1,000, Swegman said. Also, the building commissioner is responsible for ensuring that people maintain their yards.

The part-time job pays $200 a week for about 20 hours. Swegman said his job with GM pays well enough that the money is not an issue.

"We were basically putting it back in the community," Swegman said. "Donating it to church and such."

Casey McKay and Melissa Shelton

Casey McKay (Radiology) and Melissa Shelton (Nursing Administration) spearheaded coordinated efforts to help a 24-year-old who was newly diagnosed with an advanced-stage cancer. Casey met the woman as she was having diagnostic testing. Casey learned that the woman has two children (ages 3 and 6 years), was having difficulty earning enough to provide for them, and was at risk of losing her utilities. Casey raised enough money in eight hours pay their rent and provide gasoline and phone cards. Melissa Shelton rallied the other administrative directors, corporate administrative staff and many other individuals to provide toys and clothes for the children at Christmas and to pay several past-due utility bills.

Dedication -- Affirming the hopes and joy of our Ministry.

Each quarter, six individuals (associates, physicians or volunteers) will receive recognition (including a cash award) and have their stories shared.

Stories are being collected that demonstration how individuals:

- Put the needs of the patient, customer or co-worker above their own.
- Go above and beyond.
- Do things that have significant impact.
- Reflect the spirit of our Core Values.

Judith C. McKay

May 2, 1937 - Aug. 10, 2013

PENDLETON – Judith C. (East) McKay, 76, Pendleton, died Aug. 10, 2013, at Rawlins House after an extended illness.

She was born May 2, 1937, in Anderson, to Elmer Jr. and Annabelle (Simmonds) East.

She attended South Meridian Church of God and worked at Grandma's Treasures with her daughter-in-law.

Survivors include her husband of 57 years, Lloyd E. find a particular number and rest comfortably at night, I get very concerned about our future.

The desire for certainty in financial scenarios, health, marriage, the safety of our children and just about everything under the sun is human nature. We crave the warm feeling of absolute knowledge and understanding, yet we rarely find that utopia of wisdom. Instead, we choose to find a substitute by looking at the situation today, talking with experts about the expectations of the masses, gathering as much data and information as possible and then convincing ourselves that all will be well or that we are doomed – take your pick! The truth is most likely in the middle.

Don't mistake my frustration as an excuse to not save and to avoid planning. That would be a tragic error on your part, in my opinion. We must plan for our future to the best of our ability. What I question is [illegible]ning that allow[illegible] sure you [illegible] that there is a particular number that assures retirement success.

The mutual fund industry is trying to create an entire new mechanism of mutual funds where you own a super-fund of funds that you can buy based on your anticipated retirement date.

They sound so simple, but I urge you to look under the hood of the products and find the real reality to the concept – an allocation that pays no attention to economic cycles and global trends, but rather a static allocation based on your desired retirement age. Part of me wishes it were that simple, but after 20 years of watching market fluctuations, technological changes, and a host of other good and bad events, I can assure you that accepting a static allocation into an uncertain future would be a mistake.

The world has more information than it can digest my friends, but there seems to be a huge shortage of wisdom. You need to develop a financial strategy – strategy meaning a plan that can adapt as needed but one that also has some expectations included – close second. Consider replacing the kitchen counter tops if they're old and bland. Everybody loves granite, but laminate, black Formica or four-inch tiles with grout aren't bad alternatives and cost less. Granite 12-by-12 tiles with thin grout is another possibility, but you may have to do a lot of cutting, depending on the depth of the counter top.

Housing

Here's a good rule of thumb: If the house is listed at $500,000 or above, you probably need to spring for granite. To spruce up the bathrooms, replace the fixtures and the sliding shower door. Hang some fluffy white towels. Above all, the bathrooms must be spotless.

3. Doors

The front door, if possible, should have glass side panels to allow light to shine through. Replacing the hardware with, say, antique bronze is a cost-effective way to make the door look new. Don't forget to make sure the doorbell works. Doors inside the house should be painted and the hardware should be the same on each one. Fix any annoying squeaks. Older homes have sliding-glass doors, but there's not much you can do with those except replace them. French doors will add value, but they're expensive.

4. Flooring

Wood is good, but make sure it's sanded and restained. Laminate flooring also is fine, but it should be a neutral color. Shampoo the carpet so it's free of stains and pet smells. You don't need to buy new carpeting because the homebuyer will want to select it. But if the rug is really bad, get berber from one of the home improvement stores and install it yourself.

5. Lighting

Upgrading the lighting is an inexpensive way to improve the look and mood of a house. Replace the fixtures, install dimmers and use soft-wattage light bulbs. Buy a chandelier, but nothing too ornate. Also, keep the outside lights on at night because prospective home buyers often drive through neighborhoods after dark.

6. Living room and closets

A cluttered house quickly turns off buyers, so lose the knick-knacks. Make the house appear open and inviting. Pack up one-third of a closet's contents and store the junk somewhere off site. A crowded closet tells buyers the house doesn't have adequate storage.

7. Garage

Garage organization is big business these days and the before/after photos offer dramatic contrasts. Local companies will come in and get rid of the junk, using bins, cabinets, lockers, hooks and hangers to more neatly store what's left. The cost of organizing your garage can range from a few hundred dollars to more than $15,000. You could do much of the work yourself. For instance, if the garage floor is stained, paint it gray.

8. Patio

Again, less is more. Make sure the junk is gone and that the furniture looks new. Set up the grill. Create a scene that allows potential buyers to see themselves relaxing outside and enjoying the backyard.

9. Ceilings

Adding crown molding and removing popcorn ceilings are nice touches but not necessary. If you do try it, hire a professional. In most cases, however, your money would probably be better spent elsewhere.

10. Pool/spa/sprinkler system

The pool and spa should have enough water. If there are leaks, or if the equipment is broken, get busy. Don't forget about the sprinkler system. Granted, sellers don't want to invest hundreds or thousands of dollars in fixing these items, but it will greatly improve their chances with buyers.

Union Baptist Church (Craig Twp., Switzerland Co.)

Located in Lamb, this church organized in 1841 according to the History of Switzerland Co. (p. 1152.) The original nineteen members included Samuel McKay and wife, Henry Peters and wife, Shadrach Laman (sic Lanham), and wife, John and Sallie Miles, John Stratford, James McKay and wife, Edward Combes and wife, Raleigh McKay and wife. This church drew heavily from the McKay family and allies (Stratford, the Lanhams and Smiths fit this category.) The first meetings were held by Elders Archie Smith and William Wallace, with fifty admitted. Rev. John Graham was chosen as the first pastor and served two years.

The Switzerland Co. History lists the succeeding ministers as Joseph Hawkins (sic Hankins), Thomas Stewart and McDonald (no first name given) and J.D Griffith with 200 people admitted in the first twenty-two years of service. The church was a member of the Madison Association in 1842 with 116 members, according to association minutes. The messengers were J. Miles and H. Peters.

The earliest recorded election of trustees came on April 15, 1843 with the election of John Stratford, Samuel Bray, Thomas Miller, David Cain and Meshack Lanham (Switzerland Co. Deed Book I p. 317.) George Ash deeded land to the church trustees (not listed by name) on June 11, 1844 (Switzerland Co. Deed Book J p. 619.) The church switched to the Long Run Association on the 3rd Saturday Sept. 1852 reporting, eighty five members. The church building standing at the time of the Switzerland County History was built 1845/46 and was once used as a school house. At the time of the history, (1885) membership was 100. The church is still active

Hello Dolores,

This is the information I promised to send you.

SWITZERLAND COUNTY

Switzerland County is located in southeastern Indiana on the Ohio River. Switzerland County was first opened to settlement by terms of the Greenville Treaty of 1795, but Heathcoat Pickett ventured into Jefferson Township as early as 1790 and built a cabin near the mouth of Plum Creek in 1795. Over his long life he made some 20 journeys down the Ohio River on flatboats taking local products to New Orleans, what was to be Switzerland County's route for its extensive river trade in the nineteenth century.

George Ash had been a captive of the Indians until his release in 1795. Under the terms of the Greenville Treaty. The Indians granted Ash some land in Indiana opposite the mouth of the Kentucky River which was the southern end of the treaty line. On this land he built the first brick house in 1798 in Switzerland County. Ash later operated a ferry across the river at this site. Ash and his family operated a ferry for 103 years.

The French-Swiss settlers came to Switzerland County in 1817. There was Frederick Louis Thiebaud and 7 children; Jean Jacque Philip Schneck with 2 children and Mr. Schenck's father and mother. Daniel Van Buren and 3 small children.

A model of a steering wheel invented by Frank Dupray and also a model of a hay press he invented along with his letters of patent are in the museum. His granddaughter lives in Vevay on Market Street as of 1991.

The first piano in Indiana belonged to Mary Wright from London, England. It was a Clementi piano.

Edward Eggleston was born in Switzerland County in 1837. Later he embarked on a career as an editor and author. His works include The Hoosier Schoolmaster, The Hoosier Schoolboy, Roxy, The Circuit Rider, The Faith Doctor, and The End of the World along with several histories of the United States.

Hope this will be of some help, if I can be of any other help, please advise and I will try.

Truly Yours

Shelby Township, Jefferson County, Section 32 Township 5N Range 12E, and partially in Pleasant Township, Switzerland County.

Survey and Photos by Jackie Owen.

The Caledonia Presbyterian Church was founded on Aug. 7, 1827 in Jefferson Co., serving primarily Scottish families in Craig and Pleasant Townships in Switzerland Co. and Milton and Shelby Townships in Jefferson Co. The area seems to have been known as Caledonia, a name for Scotland, before the founding of the church. Many of these families arrived by 1818 and there was an earlier church that operated from 1818 until 1825. At different times, church buildings have been in Jefferson or Switzerland County. The current building is in Switzerland Co. The county line runs through the cemetery.

The earliest death date is for William Jamison, a child who died in 1826. It seems possible that either he was reburied here with his siblings or simply memorialized here. There are several cases of Scots buried here who were members at other churches, or who had been buried elsewhere and were reburied here. Also to be noted--the large number of tombstones with the maiden names of women. A Jefferson County sketch says that Scottish women kept their maiden names after marriage, and this may explain this practice.

This transcription is based on the 1941 John Paul DAR transcription. There is quite a bit of information that the DAR has inserted. These notes are shown in parenthesis. This is probably information that was not on the tombstones. Mary Hill, the transcriber, was a Culbertson descendent who wrote histories on the Culbertsons, Glenns, and Taits and probably added this information. Where information about marriages and parents is listed, but is not in parentheses, it is assumed to be part of the actual transcription. I have added many inscriptions that the DAR did not find or from deaths that occurred later. It some cases, the names and dates are from obituaries that the decedents were buried in Caledonia, but I have not seen the tombstone and the exact information on them.

Caledonia can be reached from State Road 129 and turning west onto Caledonia Road coming either south from Versailles or north from Vevay. The church and cemetery are less than a mile from the state road. The church and cemetery can be reached from either Dow Ridge Road and Puncheon Camp Road in Jefferson County, but those not familiar with the area are advised to take 129.

This cemetery is located about 1 mile west of Highway 129 on Caledonia Road (very near Switzerland County). Caledonia Road is 2-1/2 miles South of Pleasant, Indiana.

There were 4 stones that were unreadable. Stones marked with * were on one or more lists, but I couldn't find these stones when I surveyed the cemetery. Next to the * are initals in parenthesis (WM)=Wanda Morford's list of 1980 (BS)=Bob Scott's list which is mostly transcribed from the DAR list of 1940, but also includes personal notes & personal visits. (DAR)=List compiled by the DAR in 1940 & 1941.

 Notes on the DAR & Bob's list say these people were natives of Scotland, were buried in private burying ground on Samuel Culbertson's farm, then removed to Caledonia. Placed by stone of Peter Culbertson.

I visited this cemetery in October/November 2000.

Dear Karen:

I guess you will be surprised to hear from me. Sorry I havn't got with you sooner. I called & wrote while back And left a note on your answering machine.

I waited but never got any responce. I've have working on the Mc Kay family. Got it almost complete, I found my Great Great Grandfather after searching for twenty three years. I have the eleventh generations of Mc Kays.

I have (gobs) of information on the Mc Kay family you are welcome to any of it you could use. If you can tell me your Father and Mother full name perhaps I could help you. Write back and give me some info. on the family And I'll try and see if I can come up with some thing that would be of help to you.

If you are comming to the Madison Chautauqua this fall perhaps you could stop in and look over some of what I have. This will be on Sat 27th & Sun. 28th.

Please let me know if you get this letter, If you wish you can call. My number is 1-812- 427- 3212 Veray Ind.

Address is Pauline J Hall. 14 Lamb Dr Veray In. 47043

P.S. Give me some date on family as near as possible.

Thanks.

BLACK RAIN.—It is stated in a late English paper that rain fell last month in some parts of High Furness, in the north of England, that was so black as to color some of the mountain Brooks and even the earth and sand washed by the same and gives them a dark appearance. This is not the first time that such a phenomenon has been previously witnessed within these last few years, both there, and in Norfolk. At the latter place, a farmer writing to the Lynn Advertiser, stated: "That the rain which fell on his new cut swarthes made them so black that the hay-makers were like chimney sweeps." It is also worthy of remark that black rain usually fell after long continued rains, and is an invariable precursor of a change.

American students of music, I suspect, outnumber those of any other foreign country at present in Florence. Have the vast sums of money recently amassed in America by Jenny Lind, Catharine Hayes, and others, sent out calculating people abroad into this new field of enterprise? or is it really love for the divine art? The sudden irruption of so many Americans into Italy, for the purpose of studying music, calls for some explanation. Three years ago, I could only hear of two or three American students of music in all Europe; and within the last six months there have been no less than nine American gentlemen and ladies in this city, all ardent devotees of St. Cecilia, and all destined for the public as vocalists.

We heard the other day, a good one on John Cheek, our former squire, who always had his eyes cocked both ways for justice and perhaps for Sunday. It seems he had fined an Irishman, who having used a little too much of the crayther, was foolish enough to let the crayther. use him. Pat, on leaving the office met a friend to whom he held forth.

"Be jabers, and I was fined, Martin!

"An—and who fined ye now?"

"An—that's tellin just; 'Twas a man in there, whos either a justice of the pace or a pace of a justice—and I don't know which; and he's left handed in both eyes!"

My dear Miss Danglade;

Your nice letter with all the McKay data came in yesterday and I sent a copy on to Massachusetts to Mr. McKay right away. I know he will be pleased. Betty McKay Webber is a daughter of James McKay, a cousin of my grandmothers and I talked to him once at Vevay before his death. He told me about his father, who was a brother to my greatgrandmother Jean Tait. The next time I come up I would be glad to talk to her for I do have a lot of material on that family. Part of the McKays from Switz. Co. went on to Pemiscot Co. Mo. and settled there. A descendant wrote me one time for information and I sent a record on to him. He did live in New Orleans at that time but has moved away and I've lost his address. So the Mass. McKay wrote to the County Clerk in Mo. to find out about the McKays there--the answer came back that an Isaac McKay died recently and his widow and son, Isaac, Jr. lived there now. So I imagine they will be contacted soon for their record.

I had a good letter from George Patton and he suggested that I write his mother for he said some years ago, Mrs. Danner had tried to check on the Danglade-Patton-Beebe line. Do you know whether she was able to get anything on that family line or not? I found Timothy Beebe on the tax list in Jefferson Co. in 1828, also Sylvester Beebe. There were Beebes in Shelby twp in the early days. Now do you have any idea where he would be buried or his date of birth or death? Would there be any records in court house of him owning land? There were many Beebes in the DAR lineage books, some from Conn. and the chances are that Timothy's father might have service, if we just knew his name. Timothy might have served too.

After hearing from Mrs. Patton, I thought I would suggest to Anne Schofield to have a genealogist in Washington do some work for her. Perhaps Mrs. Waldemeier might be willing to help her. Do you know what she charges?

I'll try to get up to Vevay real soon. Have been doing some housecleaning and that keeps me busy.

Sincerely yours,

Mary Hill

Greenwood, Indiana

My dear Mrs. Weber;

I have been interested in the McKay family and would like to know more about the Switzerland County ones. Would you be willing to write down what you know about your family and send it to me. In return I could give you quite a bit of the family record in Virginia, which is very interesting.

This is all I have of your family; Moses, son of James & Patty McKay married Margaret Lancaster;

Children;

Charles, William, Mathilda m Quinn, Mary m Cotton, James, Henrietta, Kate m Gehl. Would you tell me your mother's maiden name, dates of birth & death; your uncle's wives names, names of children, if possible.

I find a James McKay, who entered land near Brooksburg in 1835, and sold it in 1837; his wife named Polly. Do you know who that was?

There are so many McKays between Brooksburg and Vevay--they all seem to be related--about fifty, more or less came from Virginia about 1800. Do you know where Moses McKay and wife are buried, or their dates. Moses sister Mary, who married David Imrie, is buried in Caledonia, born 1805; my gr. grandmother, Jean McKay Tait, born 1808, is buried there also. I want to know where their father, James, and his wife Patty Johnson were married, but so far I have not been able to find out.

If you do not know about the family, would you send this letter to some one who might be able to throw some light on the subject.

With many thanks for your trouble, I am

Sincerely yours,

Mary Hill

away back in the early days of the English history, when the Romans invaded the land they found tall fair haired men in the North of England, what is now Scotland and Wales, These people were the Celts & had drifted from the farther Northern countries of Norway and sweeden & Denmark perhaps. In tracing the origin of the Clan (Mc Kay they pronounce it in its native Scotland) it becomes immediately apparent that it is of Celt origin. Morgan son of Magnus was the undoubted ancester of all Mc Kays. He flourished from 1315 to 1325 and through him the Clan was called Siol Mhorgan which is Celt for the race or off spring of Morgan. Angus Dhu - dark complexioned is the first Chief mentioned in a written record:

Scottish history relates how Angus marched toward the South of Scotland in prosecution of his claim to the Earldom of Ross.
There is an old charter still extant dating from 1415 in which the Lord of the Isles sought an alliance with Angus by giving his daughter Elizabeth in marriage, together with various land. Angus Rhu had a following of 4000 men and kept the North of the country in which he dwelt in constant agitation. King James I, rushed to curb so powerful a subject and contrived to arrest the Chief and his four sons, one of whom he held as hostage for the peaceful conduct of his father who was released.
The Earl of Caithness & Sutherland seemed to have been the hereditary foes of the Clan. It is related that they ceaselessly to elevate themselves at the expense of the

Jones Burris: Downtown has a history, as all downtowns do in their respective towns, that it used to be a business center. There was Nick's Nut Shack and there was Hague Drugs and then there was a Woolworth and there were hotels and there were places to eat. There was a reason for people to come downtown. Now, there's a lot of offices. It's very busy during the day, but at night, if there's nowhere to go, why come down? I think that Kroakerheads is a really good friend down at the end of the street, and they provide nightly entertainment. We try to do that as well. Subject: Marriage record for William Moorlan/Morlan and Zora McKay

I am working on proving my Revolutionary War Patriot for the DAR. Would it be possible for me to get a copy of the Marriage license for William Moorlan/Morlan and Zora McKay from your Library? Zora was my maternal grandmother. According to my records, William and Zora were married 3 Jan 1897 in Shelbyville, IN. William's last name was Morlan, but some records list it as Moorlan. Ancestry.com lists this marriage as included in the IN, Marriage Collection, 1800-1941 under this source: "Shelby County IN, Index to Marriage Record 1856-1920 Inclusive Volum, W.P.A. Original Record Located: County Clerk's Of; Book: 15; Page: 303." Or would it be better if I contacted the Shelby County Clerk's Office? Any information you can provide will be greatly appreciated and I will be happy to pay whatever is required.

Thank you.

Howard County schools tapping into wind energy

Turbine projected to produce 2.4 million kilowatts per year

By Lindsey Ziliak
CNHI News Service

KOKOMO — Scott McKay and his family looked up to the sky as a crane carefully hoisted the third piece of Northwestern School Corp.'s 322-foot wind turbine into place.

"It's not every day you get to see one of these giant things go up," McKay said.

He, his wife and three daughters sat at the work site south of Northwestern High School watching the structure take shape.

They were not alone in their curiosity. About 30 people joined them. Some sat on bleachers, in lawn chairs or in truck beds. Others sprawled out in the grass.

"It's been a beehive of activity here," said Harold Seamon, assistant superintendent for the district.

On June 2 and 3, truck drivers delivered the pieces of the turbine. Even then, they were greeted by spectators who pulled to the side of the road to ask them questions, Seamon said.

"They said they felt like celebrities," he said, with a laugh.

It took two days to piece the giant crane together. On June 6, contractors started erecting the turbine's base.

McKay and his family had been watching it go up for hours.

McKay described the experience. He said the crane lifted the pieces slowly and methodically until they were positioned in just the right place.

Then workers stationed inside the base bolted the pieces together.

"You can hear those guys banging it into place," McKay said. "You can hear the air ratchets going."

The spectators were waiting for the grand finale, though.

At about 3 p.m., a crane carried the blade to the top of the turbine where workers fastened it in place, which completed the structure.

McKay marveled at the turbine. He said he thought it looked "pretty cool."

But it's more than that. McKay said he thought the turbine would be a good investment for the district.

Northwestern has the right idea, he said.

"I think this is the way of the future," he said. "This is prime real estate for wind energy."

Seamon said the turbine would likely go live in about a week. First, the district has to conduct tests to make sure it is in working order.

The district is hoping the turbine will produce 2.4 million kilowatts of energy each year, Seamon said.

If it does, Northwestern could see $7 million in energy savings over the turbine's 25-year lifespan, Seamon said.

That factors in insurance costs, maintenance costs and an escalation in energy costs, Seamon said.

It doesn't consider the cost of the project, though. When that's factored in, the actual savings for the district is about $4.5 million.

The school corporation will fork out about $2.5 million for the turbine. It could have cost almost twice as much, though. Seamon said the federal government is paying for most of the interest.

In 2009, Northwestern got $2.3 million in Clean Renewable Energy Bonds to offset the cost of the project.

Northwestern is the first school district in the county to tap into wind energy.

McKay--D.N.A

Posted by: Dee Ann Buck (ID 9900) Date: July 14, 2010

2667 of

Since Family Tree D.N.A. will not provide this simple request for information about McKay D.N.A. Haplogroups, so I am p posting.

My McKay cousin Michael L. McKay has a web site

"The Family of Robert Mackay" of early VA

www.robertmackayclan.com

Said Robert Mackay Sr. has the profile of Rlbl--I believe we have four test results. The surname is so common you would re the 67 marker test.

What Family Tree D.N.A. can't seem to understand, non-matches with my cousin's profile are just as important to me as mat

What I am looking for is men who have documented living in various parts of VA area of: Culpeper, Frederick, Shenandoah Clarke, Stafford etc....then removed about 1830's to other parts of US:

1. one of our groups of MacKay left Shenandoah Co. VA for Switzerland & Jefferson Co. IN, interested in you if your ances that part of IN.

2. Another group of Mackay/McKay lived in Warren & Clinton Co. OH. But I am sure other families of Mckay etc...lived in locations. I would like to know if others have been tested and have a different Haplogroup thatn R1b1

Another son Zachariah McKay removed western NC now TN earlier. I really do not have a handle on his descendants.

If you are still looking for documentation to fit your McKay family back into VA, may or may not be relationed to Robert M A D.N.A. test will give you your Haplogroup and may tell you of matches, but non-matches that information will not be sup you.

My branch remained in VA.

Thank you for your time.

Loraine - Do you have any Baird / Beard family in or around Greensburg (Decatur Co.) Indiana. I'm trying to fill in the Edward Beard (Baird) and Elizabeth Snider family who lived in Decatur Co. until there death. They had eleven children and some relation are still in that part of Indiana and of course many have scattered to the four winds. Any help?

Thank you,

Ben R. Beard

Lorraine - Do you have any Baird / Beard family in or around Greensburg (Decatur Co.) Indiana. I'm trying to fill in the Edward Beard (Beirn) and Elizabeth Snider family who lived in Decatur Co. until their death. They had eleven children and some relation are still in that part of Indiana and of course many have scattered to the four winds. Any help?

Thank you,

Ben R. Beard

To the County Court of Shenandoah in Chancery now sitting

Humbly Complaining your Orator John Link Showeth to the Court

That a certain James McKay dec'd by his last will and Testament dated the 18th day of July 1797 & duly proved & recorded in the said County Court amongst other things devised to your Orator one hundred acres of Land, part of an undivided tract of four hundred acres situate lying in the said County of Shenandoah on the road that leads to Woodstock. The remaining three hundred acres of which land he devised to the children of his son James McKay then dec'd their heirs & assigns forever reserving to the widow of his said son James one half thereof for her support during her widowhood. And your Orator further sheweth to the Court. That he hath frequently in a fair & friendly manner applied to Mary McKay widow & relict of the said James McKay dec'd & to James McKay Robert McKay Lael McKay, Zachariah McKay, Moses McKay, Mary McKay, Abraham McKay & Nancy McKay, Children of the said James McKay dec'd to whom the three hundred acres part of the said undivided tract of four hundred acres is devised by the will of the said James McKay dec'd & requested them to make partition thereof with your Orator in a fair equal & friendly manner either by themselves or by some friends to be chosen on each side, but now so it is may it please the the Court the said Mary McKay (widow) James McKay Robert McKay, Lael McKay, Zachariah McKay, Moses McKay, Mary McKay, Abraham McKay & Nancy McKay who your Orator prays may be made defendants to this his bill of complaint, combining and confederating to deal with

Seven persons at present unknown to your Orator but whose names when discovered he prays may be made parties to this his bill with apt words to charge them how to enjoin & stop your Orator. Have entirely refused to make any partition of the said land or to allow your Orator any part thereof whereby your Orator is deprived of the use & occupation & benefit of his one hundred acres part of said undivided tract of Land In Tender Consideration whereof and for as much as your Orator is remediless at Common Law but only properly relievable in equity

To the end therefore that the said Defts may upon their several & respective Corporal oaths full true & perfect Answers make to such & interrogatories as hereinafter stated fully & particularly & that they may be decreed to make partition of said Land with your Orator & that Commissioners be appointed by a decree of your Court. to lay off & assign to your Orator his Hundred acres of said tract of Land & that your Orator may have such other & further relief as to the Court shall seem just. May it please the Court to grant to your Orator Writs of Spa &c

SONS OF TEMPERANCE IN ROCKINGHAM

A strong leather-bound book, its leaves yellow with age, contains the records of the Marshall Division No. 3, Sons of Temperance, during the first four years of its existence, 1844 to 1848. The organization had its beginning in this wise:

About the first of January, 1844, William G. Stevens of Harrisonburg wrote a letter, making certain inquiries about the Order, addressing it to "Any officer of the Order of the Sons of Temperance, Washington City." After a few days an answer came, dated January 9, and signed by John D. Clark. In accordance with directions given by Mr. Clark, a petition, signed by Wm. G. Stevens, Jacob R. Stevens, J. M. Conrad, Joseph T. Rohr, Wm. McK. Wartmann, John W. Bear, Littleton W. Gambill, and Chas. D. Gray, was sent to the Grand Division of New York, praying for a charter. Following out the purposes in hand, J. M. Conrad and Jacob R. Stevens, as a special committee, went to Washington City and were there initiated into the Order, in the Timothy Division, and empowered to perform the services of initiation at Harrisonburg. A charter in the meantime had been issued, not by the Grand Division of New York, but by that of New Jersey, according to a rule of the Order that required a new chapter to receive its charter from the nearest Grand Division.

Before the Harrisonburg chapter, under the name, "Marshall Division No. 3 of the Sons of Temperance of the State of Virginia," was organized, Henry T. Wartmann took the place of Joseph T. Rohr, and hence became one of the eight charter members.

On the evening of March 11, 1844, the organization of the new division was completed by the rites of initiation, the election of officers, the appointment of a committee to report bylaws, etc. The application of Joseph H. Shue, "24 years of age, a Book Binder, and Post Master," was received; and he was elected to membership at the next meeting. These first meetings were held in the office of Chas. D. Gray.

Beginning with the preliminary entries, from which the foregoing account has been prepared, the old book contains the "Constitution," blanks for "Amendments" and "By-Laws," a roll of membership signed by 153 men, and minutes of weekly meetings, until nearly 400 pages are filled. The last entry is under date of October 24, 1848. One of the questions under consideration at this time was the proposed establishment of a college by the Sons of Temperance of Virginia—a plan that was emphatically disapproved in the report adopted.

Some of the other well known names on the role of membership are the following: Alg. S. Gray, Geo. O. Conrad, St. Clair Kyle, Jacob E. Harnsberger, P. Liggett, Jacob N. Liggett, John H. Graham, Morgan Switzer, and John G. Effinger.

After the Civil War the Sons of Temperance were succeeded by the Friends of Temperance.

I think it would have been more accurate for the responses to say "they aren't descended from Robert Mackay Sr.". At this time we haven't established Robert's parents so I guess they could be related through collateral lines.

We have records of many of Robert's descendants and there are some lines that don't have a lot of info. on them. However, some of these other McKay (McCoy etc.) families have their ancestry traced back to a different person which rules them out as being descended from Robert. At least in that particular line anyway.

Check out The Robert Mackay Clan website when you get the chance:

troops in the field, and the brigade was sent back to Tyner's Station, at convenient distance from Chickamauga to guard the public stores from destruction by either secret enemies or raiding parties of Federal cavalry. The entire brigade went into camp at Tyner's Station, on the 21st of October, whence a regular guard, consisting of daily details from each regiment, was constantly on duty at Chickamauga till the 17th of November, when Colonel Cofer was appointed to the command of the post at that place by General Bragg, his own regiment to act as a special guard, and the Sixth was accordingly detached, and took up quarters near the Station. At both Tyner's and Chickamauga, considerable preparations were made for protection against the inclemencies of the weather. The few tents that had been collected were supplied with simple chimneys (in the building of which they had now become adepts), while those who could not be furnished with tents, erected cabins, which were destined to serve them for but a brief period, though sufficiently comfortable for the coming winter.

General Helm having fallen, Colonel Lewis, who was not only senior, but had won an enviable reputation for gallantry and the most unfaltering devotion to the cause, had been promoted to be brigadier-general, and assigned to the permanent command of the brigade. His staff, as announced on the 4th of October, consisted of—Captain Fayette Hewitt, A. A. G.; Lieutenant Sam H. Buchanan, A. I. G.; Major John R. Viley, Chief Quartermaster; Major S. M. Moorman, Chief Commissary; Lieutenant Lewis E. Payne, Ordnance Officer, and Lieutenant H. Clay McKay, Aid-de-camp.

Lieutenant Buchanan had been recommended for promotion, and was afterward made Captain and A. A. G., (see page 480), but he long continued to discharge the duties of inspector, while Captain Hewitt, an assistant adjutant-general, P. A.,C. S., performed the legitimate service of his department in connection with the Kentucky Brigade. Major Viley was assigned to the staff of General Bate in December, when Captain William S. Phillips, of the Fourth Regiment was made chief quartermaster,

John McKay and Miriam Hankins

Re: John McKay and Miriam Hankins

BobWScott (View posts) Posted: 2 Mar 2007 1:16PM

Classification: Query

As far as I know John McKay was the son of Isaac McKay and Anna Shaw. Miriam was the daughter of Milton S. Hankins and Susan Cox. I have a lot on the McKays and Hankins and a lot on the Shaws is availble.

JOHN R. MCKAY (8 March 1839-1915) He was listed with parents in 1860 and 1870. He m. on 7 July 1872 in Jefferson County, Miriam Hankins (1857-1893), both buried Spring Branch Cem. They were listed in Carroll County, Ky., in 1900. He was in the household of his daughter Ophelia and son-in-law Harry Joyce in Craig Township in 1910.

You can probably get a death record from the Indiana Health department on John since he died after 1900. If Miriam died in Switzerland County, they were better at recording stuff before 1900 than Jefferson County was.

However, both John and Miriam appear in the households of the people I am listing as parents, so you've got a good start, although that's not really proof.

The McKay line runs like this

I. Robert McKay died 1752 in Shenandoah region of Va. He m. Ann Brown by most accounts
II. James McKay (ca. 1710-Aug. 1787) He m. Mary Chester, daughter of Thomas Chester, before 1755. He died in Shenandoah County, Va.
III. James McKay (ca 1758-1783) He m. Mary Cheek. He died in Shenandoah County, and she moved to the Lamb, Ind., area with her children and maybe some Cheek siblings around 1809.
IV. Robert T. McKay (1782-1832) He died in Switzerland County. He m. Mary Cain in 1810 in Virginia. Other Cains came to the area, but I haven't explored their relationship
V. Isaac McKay (24 March 1810-26 Dec. 1885) He m. on 16 Jan. 1834 in Switzerland County, Ann Shaw (22 Jan. 1810-10 May 1896), both buried McKay Cem. (Braytown), Craig Township.
VI. John R. McKay

Ann Shaw was the daughter of John Shaw and Elizabeth Spear who came to Indiana from Paisley Scotland, as did some of my ancestors.

If interested, there's more.

Hello Teresa and Glenda,

I am descended from Jonathan McCarty--parents James McKay and Mary Chester--through their daughter, Edith McKay. One of Edith's sisters, Hannah, married Isaac Froman McCarty. We've always wondered what the connection was. Can you help me out?

Also, Glenda, I see you mention the Cartmells. Edith and Hannah's grandmother was Sarah Cartmell. I have practically no information on her. Have you worked on her line?

Looking forward to hearing from you!

Robert McKAY, born in Shenandoah County, Va., about 1782, was a son of James McKay, a native of Scotland, who left his native land on account of political troubles, and settled in Virginia, where he died. Robert McKay, with his wife, Mary CAIN, and two children, Elizabeth and Isaac, and Joshua Cain, wife and son, left their Virginia home in 1811, for the Indiana Territory. At Pittsburgh, Penn., they built a boat, in which they placed their families and effects, and came down the Ohio River, landing in what is now Craig Township, January 1, 1812. In the war that followed he served with a company of home guards, who were organized for the protection of the families scattered along the river. He succeeded well in life, made a good living, and left a good estate to his children. Twelve other children were born to him in this county, viz: Lewis, Merritt, William, Zachariah, Jonas, Polly, Daniel, Ephriam. Four died in childhood. Mr. McKay died March 5, 1832; Mrs. McKay died in February, 1846. James and Zachariah McKay, brothers of Robert, came to this county in 1811, and also located in what is now Craig, Township, where they lived till their deaths. The latter died in 1836; the former several years later. Zachariah's wife was Sallie LANHAM; Patsy JOHNSON was the wife of James. In 1813 came the mother of the above. Mary (CHEEK) McKay, with her three daughters, Lear, Mary, Nancy, and two sons, Abraham and Moses, and located in the community in which the children who preceded her resided. All of the above became permanent residents except Moses, who lived in Kentucky, and afterward removed to Greensburgh, Ind., where he died. At this writing, 1885, only the descendants of Robert McKay reside in Switzerland County.

If you do not have the three books by Lyman Chalkley "Chronicles of the Scotch-Irish Settlement in VA", you will want to read those.

You will want Hopwell Friend History.

"Nottingham Quakers 1680-1889" by Alice L. Beard, has information McKay and others. However, I do not like the way she compiled the witnesses of marriage bond. These witness name should have been recorded in separate columns. You might be better off just viewing the originial marriage records on film through L.D.S. library.

Fairfax Land Suit documents were J. Hite came from, Wm. Duff & his nephew Robert Green, came from in the "Old County", silence with our Robert MacKay Sr. If this law suit had stated Robert's birth place, then we would know his origins in 1952, then my great-uncle Hunter Branson McKay abtracted & compiled the document.

If you had ancestors that purchased lands from McKay/Hite/Green or Lord Fairfax you will want to view this document. Some of the early land grant giving to these people were done by a hand shake and no land deed was issued. I have only one copy left of this work. After that you will have to view the work on film through L.D.S. library or if your local library has a exchange policy with State of VA you can view the work that way.

From land deeds from present Cecil Co. MD, we know that Robert Mackay Sr. came from Freehold, Monmouth Co. NJ in 1730's. Robert met his future partners in the PA/MD area. I think Robert might have a connection with the Quaker clerk John MacKay. And his first wife Ann Brown some connection with John Brown a store keeper of early Freedhold, NJ.

McKay Graveyard

Milton Township

by Robert W. Scott

The John Paul DAR transcription describes this as "on Rogers farm above Brooksburg." This land was owned by Donald King (and then by his widow) in the 1990s. It is north of Route 56 in Jefferson Co., just west of Lamb. The DAR transcription gives this Section 7, but it is more likely Section 17, which was patented in 1808, by Robert McKay. Jefferson County road maps show a cemetery in Section 7, but it is on the south Side of State Road 56, while Section 17 shows a cemetery on the North South, which matches the location as visited by Robert Scott in 1997. The 1900 Jefferson County property map shows that F.E. Rogers owned a 64-acre tract, mostly in Section 17. The transcriptions and all notes are by the DAR

I came across these two references to Anthony Cheek in Lancaster Co., VA, records. They may be of use to someone.

Virginia Colonial Abstracts, Volume I, Lancaster County Record Book No. 2, 1654-1666, p.138:
John Fish Citizen and fletcher of London, gives power of atty to Edmons Farow of London, mariner, to collect debts from Hugh Kinsey of Rapa. in Virginia, planter, and from others. Dated 18th Sept. 1660. Signed John Fish. Wit: Rich Donley, John Fisher, John Neenee, Will Bayley, Anth Cheeke. Recorded 12th March 1661/62.

>>> Note that Anthony Cheeke must have been in England when he witnessed the above power of attorney. Is this a different Anthony Cheek? Or did he perhaps travel to Virginia with this Edmons Farow?

Virginia Colonial Abstracts, Volume I, Lancaster County Record Book No. 2, 1654-1666, p.145:
Acct of bills and notes in the name of several men recd of Mr. Sam Griffin vizt:
. . . .
Anth. Cheeks note to Jo Curtis per hhd tobo . . . . Recorded June 22, 1663.

From my book "Lore and Legacy: A History of the Cheek, Sale and Sparks Families":

The Cheek Emigration to the Americas:

The earliest American line of Cheeks came originally from England, establishing themselves in the colony of Virginia in the 1600s. The earliest mention is of an Anthony Cheek who is believed to have been born in 1624 and was in the colony of Virginia "very early."

However, there is documentation for a Sir Hatton Cheeke, Knight, who was awarded land in Virginia under the provisions of the Second Virginia Charter, dated May 23, 1609 (note: Sir Hatton Cheeke died in a duel November 1610 -- *see previous page -- he may have passed this land to a Cheeke relative).

He may be the father, uncle, or grandfather, of the Anthony Cheek mentioned above.

Note also, that a Sir Thomas Cheek of Pirgo (who had a brother named Sir Hatton Cheek; both sons of Sir Henry Cheek, and grandsons of the famous Sir John Cheek, tutor of King Edward VI) is mentioned as being M.C. of the Virginia Company from 1612-1620.

Looking for information and trying to connect my Cheek family, born in Indiana (according to 1850 census records), to Cheek family in Indiana (possibly ties into George Cheek clan?). This family (James Cheek), ended up in Crawford and Coles County, Illinois. Would appreciate any information, please e-mail to: Delijim@aol.com Thank you.

This is not my line of Cheeks & I don't know much about them, however, I thought someone might be interested in this delightfully obscure reference. It apparently appears in an article about Davy Crockett from "Frontier Times Magazine" Vol.6 No.8 (May 1929). Davy Crockett, who as everyone knows was King of the Wild Frontier, was born "on the banks of the Nolachucky river, in east Tennessee, August 17, 1786." Apparently when he was a young man, he was hired to assist in driving a herd of cattle 400 miles across the mountains to "a place in Virginia about three miles from Natural Bridge". There he met one Jesse Cheek, who hired him to take some cattle to Front Royal, Virginia.

You may be able to order a copy of the article at http://www.frontiertimesmagazine.com . I don't have the whole article, just an abstract that appeared on the above website.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

Of Liberty Township Was Very Successful at Last Session.

---------- The teachers of Liberty township met in session Saturday, Feb. 17, at Waldron. The istitute was called to order by chairman George Meltzer. The opening exercises were conducted by Miss Orem, which consisted of singing and a comment on the twenty-thrid Psalm. As there was no preliminary business to come before the institute the regular program was carried out in full.

"The New Harmony Movement" was handled by Ernest McDaniels, Miss Higgins, Miss Orem and Miss Heck, followed by a general discussion.

The teachers of the township were cordially invited to take dinner with the trustee at the Stroup hotel which was heartily accepted.

The institute was called from refreshments to labor at one o'clock. "The Method of Recitation" was taken up as follows: Miss Bertha Hungerford, George Miller, Miss Bessie McKay and J. O. Brison. This subject was discussed in full, bringing out the "Development Method," "Laws Underlying Processes in Teaching," "The Five Formal Steps in Teaching," and their application and criticisms.

The report of the state superintendent was discussed by Mrs. Mamie McKay and George F. Meltzer. This was very interesting, as it dealt with the problems of centralization and compulsory school laws.

The teachers of the township in token of their respect and appreciation of their trustee, presented him with a most beautiful rocking chair. This was such a surprise the he was too full for utterance.

The committee on resolutions reported as follows

Be it Resolved, The we, the teachers of Liberty township, encourage the peace and harmony existing among patrons, scholars, teachers and school officials; be it further

Resolved, The we extend to our worthy trustee, Joseph Beyer, Jr., many thanks for this hospitality shown today and during the school term; be it further

Resolved, That we extend a vote of thanks to our worthy chairman, George T. Meltzer, and secretary, Miss Bessie McKay, for their efficient services.

The census microfilm contains all of the above categories. Due to time and costs, we are trying to add the indexed version of the 1910 census as abstracted by Barb Huff (see below). If you would like to see the microfilm, please contact one of us and we can make copies at the library for 15 cents per page. It will take at least two pages to get the full line of information.

An Indian Blessing

"May the Great Spirit-- (two fingers in V shape in motion in air)

Be in your heart-- (right hand over the heart)

As He has been in the past-- (right thumb over right shoulder)

As He is now-- (both arms extended sideways)

So may He always be with you on the long trail ahead" (Right index finger pointing upward and ahead).

OBITUARY

Mary McKay died at her home in VanBuren township, March 28, 1898, at three o'clock a.m., of lung trouble. Was buried March 29. [Liberty Cemetery] Services at the Liberty Church at one o'clock p.m., the Rev. Hughes officiating, assisted by Rev. Barclay.

Deceased was the daughter of Samuel and Permelia Bassett. She was united in marriage to Marion McKay, February 26, 1871. Unto them eight children were born, four sons and four daughters, one of which, little Mina, was called before her, about three months ago. She leaves besides her seven children, a loving husband to mourn her loss. In the death of Mrs. McKay her family loses a loving mother and a kind companion, and the church one of its best workers. She was loved and honored by all who knew her, and as long as health permitted, associated with her friends, always carrying a pleasant smile and kind words for all she met. During her several months of suffering, she was very patient, yet often calling upon her Heavenly Father in these words, "Come, Come, and Take Me Home." And now that her spirit has gone to its Eternal Home, all we can do is say we will go to her.

The Craig Cemetery appears to have started as a community burial ground for early pioneers, who lived in the western part of Monroe Township. On Dec. 27, 1816, William Richey obtained a land patent for the southwest quarter of section 19. According to the earliest tombstone inscription, the first burial was that of Jane Kerr, who died on Jul. 16, 1819. However, it is possible that there were others buried here before her, as there are several field stones located throughout the cemetery. On Feb. 26, 1831, William, and his wife Mary Richie, and William Wallace, and his wife Sarah donated 0.3674 of an acre to William G. Anderson, James Richie, and William Wallace, trustees. The deed does not specify what the latter three men were trustees of, but that the land was "for the use and purpose of a burying, for ever." It would seem plausible that they were cemetery trustees. The deed describes the land as being located on the section line between sections 19 and 30, mostly lying in section 19. When the DAR surveyed the Craig Cemetery in the 1930s, they recorded it as being on the Craig farm in section 19. Ethel Spann Craig-Bland, widow of J. Garfield Craig, and wife of Robert M. Bland, owned the west half of the southwest quarter of section 19, and also 23 acres of land in section 30, north of Middle Fork Creek.

There are nearly 100 field stones and creek rocks throughout the cemetery marking unknown burials. I compared the D.A.R.'s Craig Cemetery list from the 1930s against the tombstones.

Title
The McKays of Virginia

Stmnt.Resp.
by John W. Rust

Authors
Rust, John W (Main Author)
Quaker Burying Ground (Nineveh, Virginia) (Added Author)

Notes
Microfilm of original typescript (8 leaves) in possession of Mrs. James E. Williams, Jr. under the auspices of the Union Theological Seminary in Richmond, Virginia. The paper was written in 1957 and read at the annual meeting of the Clan in the same year. Genealogy contains tombstone inscriptions for mainly the McKay surname from the old Quaker Burying Ground at Nineveh, Virginia.
Robert McKay, Sr., the emigrant, was in Pennsylvania in 1726 with his family and later moved to Maryland. He then moved to Virginia. This genealogy includes descendants, ca. 1735-1911, who lived in Virginia. The introduction gives background information on the clan McKay.

A STATEWIDE
GENEALOGICAL ORGANIZATION

There is an old Chinese proverb (I don't know why all proverbs are Chinese.) which states that a trip of a thousand miles starts with one step. The purpose of this meeting is to take that first step toward a state-wide genealogical organization. Whether this is one giant step or a one legged man with his crutch on a banana peel remains to be seen.

Due to reduction in funds and support from the Indiana Historical Society we feel there is a need for an organization dedicated to the goals of the family historian and the county societies. We envision this organization as an "umbrella" organization which will coordinate an effective genealogical program throughout the state of Indiana.

Mr. Willard Heiss, retired chairman of the Family History Section of the Indiana Historical Society, has expressed a willingness to help organize such a society. Even though he has declined to act in an official capacity, he has traveled many miles on this tedious road and the benefit of his wisdom and experience will be appreciated.

There will be an organiztional meeting in the Carnagie Room of the Anderson Library to elect temporary officers and appoint committees at 10:00 a.m. Saturday, 20 August 1988. Registration for this meeting is free but pre-registration is requested for planning purposes. A form to register for this meeting is attached. There is also room for suggestions and/or comments which will assist the organization committee to plan the agenda. The Anderson Public Library is located at 111 E. 12th St. The phone number is (317) 641-2442.

We will need lots of help and there are plenty of opportunities to serve. This is YOUR organization and the purpose is to serve your genealogical needs. Every member needs to be involved in the way he/she can best serve. These proposed committees will include, but not be limited to, the following:

1. Counselors
2. Officers
3. Legal Adviser
4. Publications
5. Editor
6. Membership
7. Ways & Means
8. Programs

peace, served a term in the State legislature, and accumulated a large acreage of land. The community of Whitacre, Va., formerly known as Acorn Hill, was renamed for Nimrod Whitacre. Nimrod's house is now occupied by Norwood Braithwaite.

Children of Nimrod and Elizabeth A. (Mauzy) Whitacre were:

(1) Harrison Peyton Whitacre was born May 26, 1848, and died April 14, 1919. He married Mary Virginia Johnson, daughter of Richard and Hannah (Newbanks) Johnson, Dec. 20, 1877. Harrison ran a grocery store in Gainesboro.

(2) Lamaris Caroline Whitacre was born Nov. 11, 1850, and died Oct. 16, 1861. According to Rual P. Anderson, she is buried in the Whitacre Cemetery.

(3) James Pierce Whitacre was born Dec. 5, 1852, and died Feb. 6, 1909, in Frederick County. James was an attorney. He married Marie Glass of New York, and they did not have children.

(4) William Clark Whitacre was born Sept. 12, 1855 and died Feb. 24, 1924. He married Annie May Giffin, daughter of John and Mary (Brown) Giffin. She was born Feb. 11, 1866 and died May 17, 1937. They had nine children, and left many descendants.

(5) George Sidnor Whitacre was born Jan. 25, 1858 and died April 1, 1918. He married Mary Ann Pugh, daughter of Malachi and Marjorie (Johnson) Pugh, April 1, 1880. Seven children were born to the marriage. One of their grandsons is George B. Whitacre, Clerk of the County Court.

(6) Turner Ashby Whitacre was born June 20, 1861 and died Oct. 27, 1922. His wife, Alice V. Brown, daughter of Charles Brown, was born Aug. 6, 1864 and died May 10, 1942. Burial was in the Redland Methodist Cemetery. They had children.

(7) Robert Edward Whitacre was born Dec. 9, 1864 and died Sept. 15, 1930. He married Florence Pugh, daughter of Lemuel and Elizabeth (Nixon) Pugh. Florence was born May 18, 1867, and died in 1867. They had five children.

(8) Herbert Dean Whitacre was born Dec. 17, 1866 and died March 4, 1936. He married Mamie Dolan, daughter of Henry and Lydia Dolen. They had three children.

b. Asbury (Asberry) Whitacre was born in Frederick County on Oct. 18, 1823, and died Dec. 2, 1881 at Louisburg, Kansas. He married Emaline McKee, daughter of Robert and Elizabeth (McMorris) McKee, Feb. 27, 1845. Emaline was born on Jan. 10, 1826. They first moved to Charleston, Cole County, Ill in 1855, and later to Kansas, where they were buried at Spring Hill. It should be noted that Asberry married second to Elizabeth Jane Deming (1839-1915) of Cole County, Dec 23, 1877. He had 10 children by his first marriage and one child by his second wife.

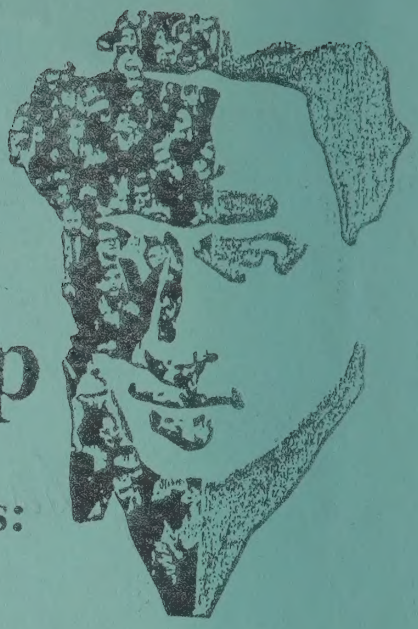
Join a Great Books Discussion Group



Using the Great Books Fiction Series: The Individual and Society

Organizational Meeting Wednesday, October 5 at 10am at the Anderson Public Library 111 East 12th Street

* Are you a reader interested in discussing what you read?
* Do you ever ask yourself - What does it mean to live in this world as an individual in society?

If you answered "yes" to any of these questions, then a Great Books Discussion Group is for you. You will join other men and women who find excitement in thoughts and discussion, who have a willingness to learn, and who desire to communicate with others.

For more information contact the Reference Department of the Anderson Public Library, 641-2456.

packer is the present owner of a tract of land that Hite sold when he left Pennsylvania; and the title is traceable to Hite. When Joist Hite arrived in Virginia—a trackless territory lying West of the Blue Ridge, it was within the jurisdiction of old Spottsylvania County; and as Hite and his families were required to settle on the grants he had purchased from John and Isaac VanMeter, who had obtained them from the Colonial Government 17th of June, 1730, Hite's purchase was dated the 5th of August, 1731, and again on October 31st, 1731, Joist Hite and Robert McKay obtained an order of the Governor and Council at Williamsburg, to have surveyed to them 100,000 acres on the West side of the Great Mountain, on conditions of settling one hundred families thereon within two years. During that year, Hite removed to and settled on that land. He afterwards obtained an extension of time for compliance to December 25th, 1734.

On 12th of June, 1734, an order of Council was made stating that Hite had made due proof of compliance with the terms of the grant to the Van Meters, and had settled on the land the regular number of families, and directed patents to issue to him or his assigns, upon the surveys returned to the Secretary. By the conditions to the two Van Meters, there should be forty families seated to get the 40,000 acres. Hite had settled 54 families on this land "by Christmas 1735." Records in the Register of Lands office fully prove the foregoing statement. This matter of settlement is fully set out in the celebrated suit of Hite et als. vs. Fairfax et als., in report of the cases heard in the Courts held to determine titles to and in the Northern Neck. (See 4 Call 42). There the student, if he so desires, will find the high authority of the Court of Appeals settles the question of Hite's arrival and settlement on his grants in 1731. The author will state here that the Hite family tradition is that it was in the Spring of 1732.

Hite and his settlers soon found the Court at Spottsylvania too remote to afford such control as the new settlements required; and he is found at the front to secure the erection of a new County. In 1734 Orange County was taken from the old county and a Court organized, He was appointed by the Governor as one of the justices forming the Court, but he never qualified. Again we find him pressing for a Court to be located in his increasing settlements West of the Blue Ridge. In 1738 Orange was divided into three counties—Frederick and Augusta to be formed in the territory West of the Great Mountains. This period finds the Hite family locating in places that generally served as homesteads for many years. Mention has already been made in other pages of this work, of some members of this noted family; but the writer complying with the request referred to, will give at this point a more extended notice of the Jost Hite family.

Briefly stated, the family on their arrival in Virginia, consisted of the elder Hite and his wife, Anna Maria, (she died in 1738), daughter Mary and her husband George Bowman, Elizabeth and her husband, Paul Froman, Magdalena and her husband, Jacob Chrisman, John Jacob, Isaac, Abraham and Joseph. Hite was a busy man from the time his grants were ordered until they were confirmed. He had numerous surveys made and reported to council, and secured the Minor Grants from the Council by direction from the Crown, and thus was enabled to seat his own family favorably.

George Bowman, Paul Froman and Jacob Chrisman, his sons-in-law, were allowed to make their own selection; and grants or deeds were given them for the large tracts so selected for their homesteads. These homesteads and their families will be more fully treated in the succeeding pages of this work. John, the eldest son, married Sara Eltinge of Frederickton, Md., in 1737. She was a daughter of Cornelius Eltinge and Rebecca Van Meter. They lived near Kingston, New York, but later on owned land on the Monocacy in Maryland. The reader will notice in the former pages, that the old pioneer John Van Meter on his explorations, spent some time on his own land on the "Monocacy." John Hite became very prominent in the early settlements; held many offices of trust; was honored and esteemed by his own County, trusted with distinguished positions by the Colonial Government; and rewarded by the British Crown. His children were, Anna Maria Hite, born Dec. 25th, 1738; Rebecca married Chas. Smith; Margaret married Isaac Brown; Elizabeth married, first, Maj. Hughes, second, Rev. E. Phelps—John born June 25th, 1751.

Col. John Hite who, as he was known by this title, will be mentioned as Colonel in this sketch, settled with his father on the Opecquon six miles South of Winchester, where the Great Road crossed that stream. The father erected a stone house on the West side of the road, also a small mill, and built a stone fort on the East side near the first residence erected by his son. The families occupied separate homes, but held the land, mill and forge in common. Many neighboring settlers found refuge in the stone fort. In 1747, John had litigation with workmen for failure to complete his barn. In 1753, he built the fine stone residence near the old fort, and occupied it as his residence with his family during the Colonial period in true colonial style. He was a large slave-holder. His father owned slaves who were

CURRAN BEALL

The philosophy of success in life is an interesting study and affords a lesson from which others can profit. In choosing a pursuit in life, taste, mental gifts, opportunity and disposition to labor should be considered, as any young man who has a disposition to be a respectable and useful citizen desires to succeed therein.

On July 30, 1826, a boy was born in Wayne county, Indiana, who grew up to sturdy manhood, ambitious to excel and possessing much energy and determination, attributes which are essential to success in any calling. This boy was Curran Beall, whose parents were William and Susan (Cornelius) Beall, the former of whom was born in Kentucky, and the latter in Virginia. The parental ancestors were said to be of Scotch-Irish birth, and the mother's people were of English lineage. Curran Beall, comes of good old fighting stock, for his great-grandfather Beall was a soldier of the Revolution, and the paternal grandfather took an active part in the War of 1812. William Beall came from his native state to Wayne county, Indiana, in 1816, when a single man, and was among the pioneer settlers of that section. He was industrious and ambitious and succeeded in making a good home for his family before his death occurred.

Of the family of seven children, Curran was the oldest. Up to the age of 21 years, he was a resident of his native county and was reared amid the rude and wild surroundings of pioneer life. His time was occupied in discharging the numerous duties of the farm and in attending the primitive schools of his day, which occupation not only developed him mentally, but also physically, and started him on his career through life with well-balanced qualifications. Many a time he followed the old wooden moldboard plow behind a team of oxen, breaking up new land. That his life was a busy one can be inferred from the fact that he assisted his father to improve two farms. The schoolhouse where he received his first start in the paths of learning was a log structure. The window lights consisted of greased paper, and the floor was made of puncheons. The last schoolhouse he attended, however, was an improvement, although the old slab benches were still used. The greater part of his education was acquired through self application, for he was a great reader, and remembered what he read.

SETTLES IN COUNTY

In 1847, Mr. Beall came to Madison county and soon after settled on the farm which at that time was heavily covered with timber. He erected a little log cabin. In that primitive structure he lived for many years, industriously tilling his land, which he converted from comfortable home and surrounded himself with all that goes to make life enjoyable. He was first married May 31, 1853, to Miss Jane Gunder, who bore him six children.

On Jan 7, 1880, he took for his second wife, Mrs. Mary E. Coburn, who was born in Madison county Aug. 20, 1843, a daughter of Henry and Sidney (Purget) Mustard. The father was born in Ohio and the mother in Virginia. The father came to Madison county in 1832 and was an early settler in Richland township, where Mrs. Beall was reared. She was first married to Joseph Coburn, by whom she had a daughter, Laura, wife of Archibald Beall.

Mr. Beall always manifested much interest in the affairs of this county and served in the capacity of justice of the peace, but aside from that never filled an official position, although he had often been urged to do so by his numerous friends. The quiet and peace of home were preferred by him to the turmoil and strife of political life. He was a staunch Democrat and favored all movements tending to benefit or elevate his locality or society generally. One of his favorite pastimes was the recalling of many stirring incidents of his youth, for the country was at that time not only wild but was full of wild game. Deer frequently fell a victim to his skill with the rifle. He was a useful and law-abiding citizen and one who had the respect of all.

BURNING OF DEPOT

On the night Feb. 27, 1873, the old "Bee Line" depot that stood at the crossing of Main street and the railroad tracks, was destroyed by fire, the act of an incendiary.

Just prior to the occurrence a handsome, well-dressed stranger made his apearance in Anderson and stopped at the Stilwell Hotel (now Milner Hotel). He wore diamonds and sported the finest of clothes. It was no time until he had society shaken he was, par-excellence, the creature of the day. The young ladies of the city vied with each other in trying to look charming in his presence. He attended all the places of amusement, went to church and fancy balls. He had no visible means of support but plenty of money, which he freely spent among the young folk. He sailed under the name of Justinian P. Walters. He was finely educated—had traveled all over the world, and knew all of the prominent people in the leading cities from Maine to Mexico. He was a fine talker on any subject. The leading business men sought his company and made his stay a real pleasure to him. He was "stuck on" the town, came here to live in quiet retirement.

One morning about 3 o'clock the "Bee Line" depot was discovered to be on fire. It was burned to the ground with all its contents. Upon looking around it was discovered had burned the building after robbing it. A great many hooted at the idea at first, but suspicion grew stronger until the railroad officials set out to find him. Descriptive circulars were sent all over the country after him. Some of his photograph left with friends were procured and given to detectives. A conductor on the railroad remembered a man filling his description getting on his train at the crossing of the "Bee Line" and "Pan Handle," at 2:30 o'clock the morning that the fire took place. The suspect rode to Cincinnati. Close watch and vigilant pursuit resulted in his arrest at Crestline, O., the next day after the fire occurred.

CONTENTS OF SATCHEL

A carpet sack, or hand satchel, was found in the depot where he was arrested, but he disowned it. He stuck to it that the bag was not his, but it finally seemed to so fully identify him that it caused his conviction. While he was in Anderson he wore a "storm overcoat" with a cape to it. The carpet sack was opened by the officers and was found to contain a number of railroad tickets and the cape to his coat, or one made of the same kind of cloth. One of the tickets found was a stub torn off an irregular manner, that fit to a ticket taken up on the train own which he had ridden.

This made a complete chain of the evidence, at least the railroad people thought so, as well as did the Justice who held the preliminary hearing. Walters was held over and indicted by the grand Jury and committed to jail, where he stayed until the following June term of court when his trial took place. Walters set up in defense an alibi, and to the minds of many it was clear. It was the closest question that ever occurred in a Madison County court. His conviction was purely on circumstantial evidence. No living witness saw him at the depot or knew of him being there that night. It was proven that he took the 2:30 afternoon train to Cincinnati the day before the fire. Joseph Stein, who had seen him around Anderson and knew him, swore that he went to Cincinnati, on that train and that Walters occupied the same seat with him from Anderson to the Brighten House. The hotel register showed that he was registered at the Brighten House that night. It was also proved that he was at the same place next morning.

The theory of the prosecution was that he left here on the train as proven, went to Cincinnati, stopped at the Brighten House, registered his name and immediately took the train coming back to Anderson, where he arrived about 1 o'clock in the morning. Then he went to the depot, robbed it, set fire to the building to cover his crime, then walked to the crossing and boarded the 2:30 train again for Cincinnati, getting back there at 7
